The Man In The Street

The season for June brides is just one day past the half line.
 But then, September's coming, and we may have some fine days.

Bryan is accused of pro-German sympathies. Pro-German methods might also be added—notice how much gas he's spluttered out lately?

Will He Wear His Uniform?
 The Chocolate Soldiers are thinking of getting the chief of police in their line-up for tomorrow's game with the Scripps. His squeeze-play on two specials this week shows he knows a thing or two or three about baseball.

But if he wears his uniform it would be too great an advantage for the actors—think of little fellows like us having six feet of brass buttons bearing down on us on the base line.

Hoot, Mon!
 A Kiltie regiment is to be organized from the maritime provinces. This is making a tender appeal to a fellow's understanding.

"Not a Street Car Moves," news headline, but it relates to Chicago, not Sydney street.

Because of the weather man being dis-oblighing, it was a moonless moonlight excursion that the May Queen carried last evening.

A tri-colored star said to have been seen at Millerton, Conn., is reported to mean victory for France. Such things in the past have often meant one too many for a fellow.

Issuing public statements seems to have become a habit with W. J. Bryan. Possibly the publicity may help boost his Chautauque rates.

When do the "tinneys" to East St. John begin to run?

Who is responsible for a special meeting of the county council which accomplished nothing except the accumulation of expense accounts?

The moral tone of the city should be at a higher level than usual today with both the Methodist conference and the Women's Presbyterian in session.

Otherwise, They Can Have All The Fun They Want.

The Methodist conference in Toronto yesterday passed a resolution against the use of tobacco by the soldiers at the front. All that's needed now to save the country is another resolution restricting nurses from the use of chewing gum.

Or perhaps a bill preventing conferences from passing such resolutions as would take away the pleasure of a "draw" from the lads in the trenches, might help.

Or Stocks, Either, Just Now.
 Woman in Long Wharf reported yesterday in the police court that $148 had been taken out of her stocking, while she slept. Somewhere we have heard it said that there is more money in stockings than in pocket books.

Just A Guess or Two.
 The man who knows it all has had some fine chances to show his knowledge lately while the local school of signalling has been practicing on the harbor front. Every one who passes has his own explanation to give and most of them are different. The prize should be awarded to the man who spent a few minutes watching the uniformed instructor operating the flash lamp the other night and then started to tell a friend all about it.

"Yes," he said, "that's a military signal. You see he is signalling to some one on Fort Howe and the man on Fort Howe passes the message on to a signalman on the next hill and so on. Sure they send it right through to Montreal that way. Why don't they telegraph it? How do I know? Suppose they are afraid to trust the telegraph companies with military secrets, or perhaps they want to save the tolls."

Mr. E. W. Chase, of Hawthorne Avenue, has received two letters from his son, Charles, in France. In one dated May 27, he says the weather is very hot. The Germans, he says, have ruined some lovely towns and villages. They have been using the gases again. He had seen Jack Nixell, who is a sergeant in the 10th Battalion, also William McEllan and Chris Graham. He was billeted in an old house with its windows blown out. The day before he wrote the Germans sent eight or ten shells to their neighborhood but did no damage.

Chase was very glad to receive a bar of chocolate and the cigarettes sent him, and in a letter on May 30 asked for a box of cake and sweets. While the weather was hot by day it was very chilly at night.

LOST COLONEL, 13 MAJORS, TEN LIEUTENANTS; 700 MEN

Private Ambrose Cogrove, of Wellington Station, P. E. I., in writing to his parents from Boulogne, France, on May 1, said: "There were seven of us, including myself, standing together (at the battle of Ypres), when a big shell burst exactly in front of us. It fired us twenty-five feet in the air and killed five; myself and one more were injured. The stretcher-bearers came along and took us to a place of safety, and I was there five hours before I regained consciousness. We lost our colonel at five o'clock a.m., eight we lost thirteen majors, at eleven we lost ten lieutenants; we also lost three company sergeant-majors, fifteen corporals, fourteen full corporals and sixteen lance corporals. Besides these, we lost 700 men. You can imagine what we came through."

A NURSE HONORED
 Miss Lucille Corbett, head nurse in Moncton Hospital, who leaves Friday morning to go to the front, by way of New York, has been presented with an address and $50 in gold by the Moncton Red Cross. Miss Corbett sails from New York on the 22nd inst., together with a number of others, among whom are Dr. Dodd and Mrs. Dodd, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lee of Moncton.

BOTH NOW ARE IN THE SANATORIUM

Local Societies Took up Cases of Two Girls Ill With Tuberculosis

The Times recently told of two young women who were in the incipient stages of tuberculosis, but were unable to pay for treatment at the Jordan Memorial Sanatorium. The facts were set forth at the last meeting of the local Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis. It is gratifying to know that both girls are now at the sanatorium, local societies having provided the funds.

The commissioners of the sanatorium are meeting at River Glade today to open the tenders for the large dam which Mrs. Jordan will have constructed and which will provide a lovely lake expansion of the river beside the institution. The work will involve an expenditure of something like $40,000, and even this is not the limit of Mrs. Jordan's splendid munificence for the benefit of this great memorial hospital upon which she has already expended so much money. Dr. A. F. McLaughlin is the St. John member of the commission.

WRITES OF NO. 1 GENERAL HOSPITAL

Pte. Wm. J. Mahoney Says Excellent Location and Equipment and Fine Staff

To Mr. Mahoney of 280 Duke street this week came two welcome letters from her husband, Private Wm. J. Mahoney, who is attached to No. 1 Canadian General Hospital in France (Dr. Murray MacLaren's). He wrote on May 30 and June 1. He tells of being well and writes in marked praise of the excellence of the hospital, its equipment and its location. There is, he says, a fine staff of officers and nursing sisters. He mentions Dr. Margaret Parks and Miss Florie Armstrong of St. John. He tells also of having met Will Hayes of St. John who says he is a butcher with the A. S. C. about 20 miles away from the hospital.
