RELIGION NEED U.S. Warns Of Intense Storm INSCHOOLS. SAYS On Way East

Refers to Saint John and Commends Holy Name Societies

Strongly urging fuller scriptural teaching in the public schools of Saint John, quoting Sir Henry Newbolt as claiming such to be the true basis of British citizenship, and highly commending the Holy Name Society movement to all religious communities, Rev. Brice D. Knott, B. A., pastor of Cenral Baptist church, preached to a large congregation last night upon the youth of this city. He said, in part:

"There is a desire in the hearts of fil right-minded people to develop a citizenship that shall be of the highest and best tyre. The only here for such and best type. The only hope for such a citizenship lies in Christian educa-tion. Principal Jacks in his 1923

Hibbert lectures says that we must choose between a political civilization and a cultural civilization. "The main features of political civilization are: First, the struggle to gain AFFECTING SAINT JOHN. "The idea, therefore, of a cultural evilization is to promote the best mode of living among its citizens, and attaches more importance to personal character than to possessions. If our civilization is to be a cultural one, a releemed one, we must begin with the simple process of educating a young child's heart. There are approximately 8,000 children in the Saint John's day schools. They receive, as a maximum instruction in religion, the reading of a potion of scripture daily, without comment, and the recital of the Lord's Prayer. Do we consider this adequate religious education? Certainly not. Sir Henry Newbolt, the English educationist, paid a great tribute to the content of the content

"Men and women do not obey the laws obecause they have not received proper instruction in the laws of God and are growing up without a proper regard for the laws of God and man.

"Education without religion makes a man a potential liability rather than an asset to his country. Matible Babcock had said: "The safeguard of our mercantile integrity lies, to a greater degree than we imagine, in the reli-

Rev. J. Dunlop Addresses Men's Class on Poverty Question

The question of poverty in the city was discussed at a meeting of the Men's Class of Charlotte street Baptist Men's Class of Charlotte street Baptist church yesterday afternoon. Colonel Norman McLeod, president, was in the Chair, and Rev. James Dunlop spoke. In spite of the weather, 42 members were present, a great many of whom part in the discussion. H. Colby Smith, M. L. A.-elect, a member of the class, was among those present.

Rev. Mr. Dunlop referred to the atticude of Christ towards poverty and declared the religion of Christ towards poverty and longly religion for the man who was 43 Minor Accidents This only religion for the man who was down and out. He referred to the attitude of the early church to poverty, saying that the man who was "sick of palsy" was laid "at the beautiful gate of the temple," because his friends

"There is a tremendous leakage between the $0,000 scholars of our Saint John day schools and the number attending Sunday schools. Taking a conservative estimate as 10 per cent and we have 800 who receive little or no religious training. Statistics have shown in other places that from this percentage come the larger part of our criminals. Christain people of Saint John, the boys and girls of your city who receive no religious training will estay your goods, your money, they will steal your goods, your money, they will destroy your property and fill your jails. The rebellious undisciplined children of today will be the city's liability of tomorrow.

AND PROFANITY.

"I heard the vilest oaths that I have heard for years from the lips of two boys in this city under 12 years of age. The profanity that one hears on the streets and elsewhere compels us to admit and even urge 'Holy Nam societies' in every communion.

"The petty thieving that our merchants are subject to is indicative of the indifference with which some regard the law against stealing. It religious education is the remedy for lessening crime and there are obstacles in the way of giving sufficient instruc-per law against steams. It religious education is the remedy for lessening crime and there are obstacles in the way of giving sufficient instruction in the day schools, the other alternative is a city-wide effort to get every boy and every girl in the Sunday schools. Eternal vigilance, untiring effort is essential to civic well-being.

"One dollar spent in formation of character is better than one hundred spent in reformation. The home, the Church and the State should be equally interested in instilling in the hearts of the growing generation the Ten Commandments as basic principles of our ictizenship."
