FIRE CHIEF ON "SAFETY WEEK"

Some of the Things That Can Easily Be Avoided in Personal and General Interest.

Fire Chief W. Russell, Toronto, has sent the following letter to the general manager, Ontario Safety League, in connection with "Safety Week," which commenced on Sunday.

"Instead of making a 'Safety Week' why not go the limit and decide right now to make it a 'Safety Year.' While fires are responsible for many serious accidents, some resulting in deaths, no doubt a large number could have been prevented. Most fires are caused through carelessness. No matter how often you warn the public against playing with a fire, they continue to do so, the answer is obvious. A wife arrives home hurried to get the evening meal, the fire must be lit and something is needed to hurry it—a little kerosene or gasoline. Sometimes it works and sometimes something not expected happens. In the morning probably the same lady will trifle around the same stove with a loose gas tap, or another over an open gas range.

If something could only be done to make people realize the great danger they run. Sometimes I believe they do, but having done it before, they seem to have confidence in themselves to continue doing fool-hardy things until it is too late. Moreover, the fact is very true that serious accidents happen to a freeman simply because you did not 'stop to think.' They cut themselves with falling glass, fall through buildings and off ledgers, having collisions in the street, simply because someone was in a hurry or took a chance and blundered. Most all fires can be prevented, consequently, accidents as well.

The careless smoker is a fire fiend that costs the country a high price in lives and property. A smoker who insists upon smoking in bed the last thing at night does one of the most fool-hardy things imaginable. Not only does he jeopardize his own life, but others. Another dangerous thing we find the careless smoker and others doing, is the way in which they dispose of their matches. If you wish to perform a great act in this campaign of 'Safety First,' you can do so by seeing that all matches you light are dead before throwing them away; in fact, not only those discarded by yourself, but those cast away by others. Do this and you will avoid many accidents."

WHALE TRADER WHO WORKS ON SHORE

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 11.—"Beluga Joe" McGill, the only whaler who plies his trade on land, has had a most successful season, somewhat to the surprise of experienced whalers. Recently the steamer Admiral Watson, which touched here en route to Seattle, carried two carloads of whale oil and half a carload of whale skin from Joe's plant. Other shipments soon will be in readiness.

Beluga, who operates at Cook Inlet, on Beluga river, where there is a thirty-foot tide, stretches a net 1,000 yards wide across the mouth of the river. The lower portion of the net is anchored to the bottom, and along the upper side runs a hose, extending from shore to shore. When the tide is coming in it fills the hose with water, thus sinking the upper side of the net so that the whales are able to swim into the river. When the tide is full air is pumped into the hose, bringing the top of the net to the surface, trapping the whales. As the tide ebbs large numbers of whales are left stranded in the flats.

Eight Russian children have just been brought back from Siberia through the aid of the American Red Cross.

These children, for the most part natives of Moscow and Petrograd, were sent by their parents, who were anxious about their safety, to various parts of the Ural Mountains in the spring of 1918. Tragically overtook these children in their mountain retreats.

The money sent by the parents failed to reach them. When salaries were no longer forthcoming, most of the teachers abandoned their posts, only a few remaining with the unfortunate charges, who soon were reduced to roaming in the woods, half naked, living on roots and berries, uncared for and unprotected.

The American Red Cross succeeded in transporting to Vladivostok a certain number of these children, who have since been brought to Europe by way of San Francisco and the Panama Canal. Every effort must now be made to restore these children to their parents, of whom many, it is believed, reside in various countries where they sought refuge in consequence of events in Russia.

The League of Red Cross Societies has printed a large number of lists giving the names of the children and their parents as well as the addresses of the latter at the time of separation. These lists have been sent to the central committee of the Red Cross societies, government and civil authorities, embassies, consulates in all European countries, the United States, Canada, Egypt and Persia. Consular agents in the Balkan and Scandinavian countries, Russian and Greek churches, charitable institutions, prominent newspapers in Europe and America and persons who, owing to their positions are specially qualified to assist in this work.

These lists, as well as particulars regarding the children themselves, can be obtained by applying to the headquarters of the League of Red Cross Societies, Geneva, Department of Publicity Publication, 2 Rue de la Seie.

PERSECUTION OF JEWS CHARGED

Poland and Hungary the Scenes

Chairman of American Jewish Congress Executive Re-counts Happenings After Visit to Europe.

New York, Oct. 9.—(A. P. Correspondence)—Continued persecution of Jews with bloodshed and cruelty, in Poland and Hungary, is reported by Morris Rothenberg, chairman of the executive committee of the Provisional American Jewish Congress, who returned here recently after the Jewish world relief conference in Carlsbad. Mr. Rothenberg declares that attacks on Jews in Poland have ceased at no time since the armistice. He says that while anti-Semitic excesses in Poland were mitigated by protest meetings held in America, "assaults upon persons and property in a smaller degree continued throughout Poland."

"Gradually these assaults assumed larger proportions," said Mr. Rothenberg, "until within the last few months Jews have found it unsafe to walk in the streets. Conditions came to such a state that the Jewish deputies in the Polish parliament appealed to the minister of war and Minister President Witos, who promised that they would take steps to stop these outrages, but nothing was done."

Mr. Rothenberg said that during the advance of the soviet armies on Warsaw the Jews readily enlisted in the Polish armies, but that they were attacked and persecuted by the Poles and were given the "most filthy and mental work to perform." The Jews complained to the military authorities, but he charged that the persecution was not mitigated.

"Immediately after the first victories of the Polish armies," Mr. Rothenberg asserted, "their ammunition was taken away, their uniforms removed and they were put under guard as though they were offenders. The Polish soldiers began to regard the Jewish soldiers as criminals. Every time the Poles took a city they killed Jews who came their way, and numbers of old Jews were shot without trial. The officers in charge afterward said that they killed Bolsheviks. This was a lie in order to cover these outrages the minister of war issued an announcement that a large number of armed Jewish Bolsheviks were found in many cities. This information was fed only to the Poles and was not mentioned in the despatches for the outside world because it was apparent that these statements could not be substantiated."

Mr. Rothenberg charges that the minister of war and Minister President Witos refused to see Jewish delegations who called upon them to complain about anti-Semitic outrages. "The spirit of the Jews in Poland," he added, "is being utterly crushed by these terrible events, and they feel that they cannot much longer bear up unless these terrible excesses are stopped."

According to Mr. Rothenberg, 800 Jews have been murdered in Hungary from December, 1919, to June, 1920, and he charges that the officers and soldiers of the White Army are the chief fomenters of anti-Semitism. He said that they were willing to stop the pogroms provided laws were enacted that would destroy the Jews economically.

"This is now being done," said Mr. Rothenberg. "Laws have been passed punishing profiteering by flogging, but the producers are not affected by this law, it is only the middlemen which means the Jews. Those who are found guilty are flogged and put in concentration camps and exiled."

Quoting the Jewish civil service employes in Hungary is also reported by Mr. Rothenberg. "Laws are also being passed specifically directed against the Jews without mentioning them," he said, "as for instance license formations could be admitted to universities. As Jews are not allowed to belong to these formations, Jewish students are unable to get into the universities. Many of them have been compelled to go to neighboring countries in order to pursue their studies, and are experiencing terrible want and suffering."
