Victoria Street Baptist Church

REV. G. D. HUDSON, Pastor
Special Evangelistic Services

This first week of special services, led by Pastor Geo. D. Hudson, have given evidence of a season of refreshing in this church. The congregations have nightly increased. The vestry has been almost filled to capacity. The singing, led by the orchestra has been greatly enjoyed. A number have shown a deep interest in eternal things, and several have decided for Christ. The services will continue all next week. Come and enjoy yourself!

SEEK FORTUNE FOR BABY BOY

Legal Battle in Chicago Begins Over the Henry Field Money.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Upon the interpretation of the word "issue" depends the success of a legal fight begun this week by Peggy Marsh, in behalf of her son, Henry Anthony Marsh, three years old, whose father was Henry Field, grandson of Marshall Field. When Henry Field died his brother, Marshall Field 3rd, established a fund of $100,000 for Peggy Marsh in settlement of a contract between his brother and her.

The suit is to collect two-fifths of the $50,000 trust fund originally set aside for Henry Field by his grandfather, Marshall Field. Ex-Governor Edward F. Dunne, appearing for the boy baby, declared that he is entitled to his share because the original Field will provides that his income should be collected by Henry Field or his "issue."

Lawyer Makes Big Claim.
Ex-Governor Dunne not only held that the child is entitled to the two-fifths but that he is heir to the residue of the estate—more than $500,000.

The manager of the estate, although granting the validity of the contract between Henry Field and the Marsh girl, maintains that the will of Marshall Field, providing for Henry Field's "issue," referred to his "lawful issue," and not to natural children he might have.

"There never was a will drawn with more elaboration," continued Mr. Dunne. "Marshall Field expressly indicated in the document that by 'issue' he meant a son of Henry Field—and there is no dispute but what Henry Anthony Marsh is the son of the late Henry Field and Peggy Marsh, with whom he lived."

"In his will, Marshall Field expressly mentions 'issue' and 'lawful issue.' This was done to see that both legitimate and lawful issue should be provided for. There can be no doubt at all concerning the claim of Henry Anthony Field's express terms."

Mother Well Cared For.
"There is no complaint by the mother of Henry Anthony Marsh of the treatment accorded her by Henry Field," he added. "It has been shown that during his life he gave her approximately $50,000 and promised to pay her double that sum to be used for the maintenance of the child."

Gilbert E. Porter, attorney for the Field estate, argued that the child was illegitimate, and under the law could not inherit unless specifically named in the will.

Peggy Marsh was a show girl in London when she met Henry Field in 1916, and it is likely the present suit will reveal their romance, which never has been entirely divulged. Field left the girl and their child, promising to provide for them. He returned to this country, married a society girl and died suddenly in 1918.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

NEW BILL MAKES POPULAR HIT

Vaudeville Programme at the Opera House Pleases Large Audiences.

With an exceptionally clever shadow-graph and silhouette performance, two black-faced comedians, well rendered musical selections, a bright and catchy comedy singing and talking skit, and a highly entertaining contortion offering, the programme in the Opera House last evening was all that could be desired. From the rise of the curtain until it was rung down on the last act keen interest was manifested by the large and appreciative audiences and they generously rewarded the participants by frequent and prolonged applause.

Another episode of "The Midnight Man," which is featuring James J. Corbett, former heavyweight champion pugilist of the world, the Reubens appeared behind the footlights and gave a clever performance of shadowgraphing and silhouette. Lanigan and Wood, two black-faced comedians, followed with a song, some real good eccentric dancing, and a number of jokes. Their act went big and they received well merited applause.

The third on the bill were Mowatt and Mullen, who have a bright comedy singing and talking skit, which evoked applause. In addition to essaying his role one gave a real clever club juggling performance, which was thoroughly appreciated.

Anthony then entertained the audience with a couple of whistling selections and a number of catchy airs on a piano accordion, which won instant favor, and he was forced to respond to an encore.

The concluding act was that of Jean and Jacques. They have a clean and entertaining offering, which made quite a hit. This is unusual, for contortion acts do not usually take well with a St. John audience. This performance will be repeated tonight and again on Monday, and promises to attract a large patronage.

SEE MABEL NORMAND MONDAY AT UNIQUE

No photoplay has yet been produced so filled with adventure and thrills as "Mickey." The novelty and intensity of the thrills are indeed remarkable. Fatalities seem to be avoided by a hair's breadth—with a reality that is tremendously convincing.

There is thrill upon thrill, and each thrill in these suspense-exciting incidents is just a little bit better than the last, until at their climaxes the audience is fairly brought to its feet out of sheer enthusiasm and excitement.

See this picture once more. It is well worth seeing again. Matinee at 2, 3.30; evening, 7, 8.30.

ST. JOHN'S GREATEST MERCANTILE EVENT

Oak Hall's 31st Anniversary Sale.

A mercantile event that is now a part of the city's history, for it has grown in importance along with the great development and growth of our city during the last thirty-one years.

From a small beginning many years ago the Oak Hall annual Mid-Winter Sale has grown so enormously in proportions until now it is not only a great event looked forward to by the many customers and friends of Oak Hall in the city, but one looked forward to throughout the entire province. This year the sale is bigger and better than ever, for this great wearing apparel store is well aware that the people expect values to be shown at this event, that are seldom equaled at any other time or place. The days are set aside at this season, and preparations are made to handle an enormous volume of business. Any one who visits the store during this period knows the tremendous turnover that is done. Therefore, it is a well founded fact, and the policy of Oak Hall to do this turnover at a minimum of profit, adhering to their established motto—"A large volume at a minimum profit."

Centenary Methodist Troop
Troop No. 15, of Centenary church met on Friday evening as usual with a good attendance. The boys were some games the troop settled down for work. There was present, Captain Ingelton, who put the boys through considerable scout drill and gave them a lot of useful information about drill, which was much appreciated by the boys. Also present was the chaplain, Rev. H. A. Goodwin, for a few minutes. After the drill there were some investigations of proficiency badges. There was Pathfinder, given to Patrol Leader Stanley Goodwin, Engineer, given to Ronald Hart; swimmers' badges to Ted Stears and Harold Barker. The presentations were made by Captain Ingelton, who congratulated the boys on the success they are making along the line of proficiency badges. It is always a pleasure to have Captain Ingelton to see the troops for he can always give some good scout work which is enjoyed by the boys, and they hope to have him see them quite often now that he has taken over the secretary's office for the city and is back again in the scout work. He has always taken a deep interest in it.
