ENGINEER WANTS POSITION, 2nd Marine Cav., The National Ad-vice reports that a brewery in Plant, Michigan, has become a church; one in Aberdeen, Wash., has become a cannery; one in Spokane is making vinegar; one in Mobile is making syrup and stock feed from watermelon; one in Rhode Island is producing moving pictures; one in Seattle is turning rice into syrup; one in Chicago is a hospital; and another is a soft drink factory; one in Salem, Ore., is now making logan berry juice; one in Washington, Pa., is making paints, oils and var-

THE TRANSFORMATION CONTINUES Toronto, July 10th, 1913. To the Editor of the Times:—Sir,—All over Ontario, premises that were formerly used for the manufacture of sake intoxicants are being changed into buildings for useful purposes. Breweries and distilleries are being converted into factories or storage houses; bar rooms into drug stores or banks; liquor stores into groceries or bakeries.

This is occurring all over the province with a resultant improvement in the appearance of many streets in the towns and villages, and the moral betterment of the community as a whole.

The same thing is already in progress in the United States. The National Advice reports that a brewery in Plant, Michigan, has become a church; one in Aberdeen, Wash., has become a cannery; one in Spokane is making vinegar; one in Mobile is making syrup and stock feed from watermelon; one in Rhode Island is producing moving pictures; one in Seattle is turning rice into syrup; one in Chicago is a hospital; and another is a soft drink factory; one in Salem, Ore., is now making logan berry juice; one in Washington, Pa., is making paints, oils and var-
