

A HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR

A Little Sage and Sulphur Makes Gray Hair Vanish—A Remedy for All Hair Troubles

Who does not know the value of Sage and Sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, Sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair.

The Weyth Chemical Company of New York put out an ideal preparation of this kind, called Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, in which Sage and Sulphur are combined with other valuable remedies for keeping the hair and scalp in clean, healthy condition.

If your hair is losing its color or constantly coming out, or if you are troubled with dandruff or dry, itchy scalp, get a fifty cent bottle of Weyth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist, use it according to the simple directions, and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in the appearance of your hair.

All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. Agent—Wasson's—100 King Street.

Edward Richardson, a veteran baker of Quincy, Mass., had a unique experience last before retiring from business a few years ago. A wedding cake, twenty-five years old, was brought to him by a local man to be refrosted for his silver wedding anniversary. Mr. Richardson had baked the cake himself for the wedding twenty-five years before.

Save Money On Quality Shoes!

The average family man buys shoes for about five people—and with shoe prices as they are and the way some shoes wear out, he certainly finds the shoe question of no small consideration!

Then, there's no prospect of things getting any better so long as he buys the average run of shoes!

HERE'S RELIEF! Our splendid shoes look so much better and last so much longer that they reduce the shoe bills materially!

Men's Boots $1.25, 1.45, 1.98 to 4.50. Women's Boots $1.25, 1.65 to 3.85. Boys' and Girls' Boots 85c, 98c to 2.25. Children's Shoes 25c to $1.65

Please remember that the difference lies in the shoes and not in the quoted prices. Quality saves the money!

LA MARQUISE de FONTENAY

General Pole-Carew Now Heir to Baronetcy—The Man Who Captured Rogers—Died Before Peerage Patent Was Made Out

(Copyright, 1912, by the Brentwood Co., N.Y.)

Through the death of Sir Edmund de la Pole and the succession of his brother, Frederick, a confirmed bachelor in the neighborhood of seventy, General Sir Reginald Pole-Carew (whose name is pronounced Pool-Carey) becomes next heir to the ancient baronetcy of De la Pole of Shute and to the Shute House estate, near Axminster in Devonshire.

The general is celebrated as the best looking man of his rank in the army, while his wife, Lady Beatrice Pole-Carew, eldest daughter of the Marquis of Ormonde, commander of the Royal Yacht Squadron, is famous for her beauty; in addition to which she possesses, by inheritance from her grandfather, Lord Lismore, an independent income of $100,000, and a fine old place in Tipperary, known as Shanahilly Castle.

Contrary to what has been stated, the family of De la Pole, while very ancient, has no connection with the De la Poles in the middle ages were Dukes of Suffolk, nor who were closely allied to the Plantagenets and so furnished a prince to the church, in the person of Cardinal Pole, that able Legate to Queen Mary, the late Francis William Loring, of Bournemouth.

Richard Carew was godson of the virgin queen, and the portrait of herself which she presented to him hangs in the great dining room. Antony, the first of the name and arms of her family in addition to his own. He was secretary of state for the home department in the Pitt administration of George III's time, and the general is his great grandson.

The present head of the family is Sir Henry Carew, tenth baronet of his line. He has been rather badly treated in the matter of inheritance by his uncle and predecessor, who bequeathed the ancestral estate of Hacombe, which then comprised Doomsday Book, to his two daughters, old maids, who may or may not have sufficient family feeling to restore it by will to a son.

The Carews of Hacombe enjoy as such exemption from taxation as a reward for virtue of a royal warrant to John Carew, who was commander of the army sent to Italy by Henry VIII, and his ally Francis I. of France, to rescue Pope Clement VII. from the prison into which he had been cast by Emperor Charles V.

Adjoining the old manor is an equally ancient church, singularly decorated by Sir Nicholas Carew, who flourished in Henry V's reign, managed to win his bride, a daughter of Sir Hugh Courtenay, by means of a wager that he would swim his horse a mile out to sea in Torbay, where the tide was very fast, and back again. In memory of this feat he nailed the four iron shoes of the horse to the door of the church, and two of them are in place to this day, together with the rusted remnants of the other pair, attached to the spot of the British officer who ran him to earth with a party composed of one white "son-com," and eight Soudanese soldiers.

For many months the chase went on, extending from the Abyssinian frontier right across the Dark Continent to the Belgian Congo, the pursuers eventually capturing Rogers, and endeavoring vainly to save his life by cutting out the bullet from his wound.

The officer in question, Captain Charles Vincent Fox, is an Irishman who, after sculls on the Thames at Henley, a double orn, won the diamond and the Wingfield sculls on the Thames at Henley, a double honor that has rarely fallen to an amateur. He also won the middle-weight officers' boxing championship of the army, and in 1897 played three-quarter back on the London-Irish football team. In 1908 he was attached to the Egyptian army, as inspector of the Mougalla province of the Sudan, and as such undertook the pursuit of Rogers.

His elder brother won the Victoria Cross by heroism under fire in Southern Nigeria, while another brother, who was killed at Omdurman, had captured the Dublin University boat club.

King George, on the occasion of his last birthday, bestowed a peerage on Sir Thomas Borthwick, head of a great Liverpool and Manchester concern which virtually controls the trade from the livestock market in Australia to the "dead-meat" market in Great Britain, the firm owning enormous ranches in the Antipodes.

Some time always elapses before the patent of a peerage can be made out, and receive the sovereign's signature, and the great seal of the realm. Sir Thomas died suddenly, before these formalities had been accomplished, and now King George has caused a new patent to be prepared, be-

"Come-Back" People

BY RUTH CAMBERG

"NOW run in any time and use the 'phone again. You know I'm perfectly willing to have you."

That sounds like a very cordial invitation, doesn't it? And of course the woman who received it thanked the giver with equal cordiality. But after we had passed out of earshot, she turned to me and said, "But just the same I shan't use that telephone unless I absolutely have to, as I did today."

"Why?" I inquired with some surprise, "she said she was perfectly willing."

"Yes," said the lady, "I know she did, but she's the kind of woman who says that sort of thing before you face her and then talks about you behind your back if you take her at her word. How do I know? Because I've heard her talk about people that way. You want to be careful how you take favors from 'come-back' people."

Do you recognize the woman she was talking about? I don't mean in the flesh, but in the spirit. I am sure you must recognize her as certainly a very common type.

Perhaps your neighbor belongs to this class, and neighborly you borrow some coffee from her. She is delighted to lend it, she assures you. "Now don't hurry about returning it," she says, as you depart, "I have plenty, there's really no need of your returning it at all." For some reason or other you do not return it, and she is so good-natured that she does not even mention it to you.

Daily Hints For the Cook

USING GOLD-POTATOES

Two or three cold potatoes cut up, one or two slices of stale bread slightly soaked in milk. Break up and add to the potatoes, then beat up two eggs and pour over all. Fry until the eggs are firm in either a little butter or best dripping.

Put up six or seven raw potatoes, soak half an hour in cold water. Dry and fry brown in a small amount of best drippings or lard. Keep them covered and stir occasionally to prevent burning.

NUT CREAM CAKES.

Two rounding tablespoons butter, 12 pint pastry flour, 12 pint water, 3 eggs. Filling—One-half pint mixed nuts, yolks of 2 eggs, 12 cup powdered sugar, 1 teaspoon coffee extract. Put the butter and water over fire and when boiling add the flour quickly. Stir until you have a smooth soft dough. Take from the fire and, when cool, add 1 egg without beating. Mix until smooth, then drop in uncooked egg and beat again, then add the third, beat until rather soft and smooth. Drop by teaspoons on a shallow greased baking pan, bake with a moderate oven about 12 hour, until the cakes are light and crisp.

While they are baking, wash and chop the nuts fine. Beat the yolks of the eggs with the powdered sugar until very light, add the nuts and a dash of black coffee, and a teaspoon of coffee extract. When the cakes are done make an incision in the side, fill and dust with powdered sugar. These will keep nicely for several hours, but are not good next day.

EVENING GOWN OF CHIFFON AND SATIN

The skirt of this chiffon gown has a delightful border of embroidery in a design of classic wreath on a background of spots edged with crystals. It is Dame Fashion's latest when it comes to evening gowns.

THE VALUE OF PLAYGROUNDS

(The Silver Cross)

Miss Ingram cited the fact that last year nineteen cities alone spent more than four and one-half millions and more than four thousand play leaders were employed to bring happiness to women and children.

In 1908 the Massachusetts Legislature passed a law to the effect that every town in the state of a population of 10,000 or more should vote on the question of providing playgrounds for recreation and physical education of the minors of such city.

All but two cities voted to have playgrounds supported by public taxes. During the last twelve years New York city has expended about twenty millions on its playgrounds. Louisville's playground work, established twelve years ago, now includes eighteen playgrounds.

The necessity of the playground as a means of developing citizenship has become a recognized principle of modern education. The playground is a proper promotion of play the strength of future generations.

Playground service must meet the needs not only of the children but of the growing boys and girls, the young men and young women, especially those who must leave school and go to work soon as they reach the legal working age.

"Great as is the danger in the American city from overcrowding, irregular hours of labor, and the danger from relaxation is even greater, and not until we care for the relaxation of the nation can we boast of a permanent and virile civilization."

THE EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS

Vienna, Sept. 12.—The twenty-third international eucharistic congress is likely to establish a record in the number of delegates in attendance, 8,000 tickets have been sold to foreigners as compared with 12,000 at the Montreal congress. It is estimated that not less than 120,000 visitors are here, and the hotels are so crowded that visitors are glad to obtain sleeping quarters in the hotel bathrooms. Many thousands of pilgrims have found shelter in 400 school houses. In the course of the city hall today, 12,000 persons were supplied with dinners, cooked in the military field kitchen.

Among the speakers at the festival gathering in the Rotunda this afternoon was Mr. Ranner, vice-general of Milan, his subject being the Council of Trent. Mr. Ranner declared that the Reform decrees of Pope Pius regarding daily communion and the first communion of children, contained nothing new, but were only the modern adoption of principles already formulated by the Council of Trent.

PARLIAMENT MAY NOT MEET UNTIL JANUARY

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—Present indications are that the government will decide not to meet parliament until January.

Although the formal order-in-council fixing the date for Thanksgiving day fall has not yet been passed, it is understood that the date recommended by the state department is Monday, October 28, and a proclamation will be issued soon.

Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE.

The conference of all the boys at the Y. M. C. A. was continued last night, and more than forty were present. David D. Milligan, the newly appointed secretary for boys, read a paper on The Group and Its Relation to Bible Study, and he was given close attention and several questions were asked the speaker.

G. Eldon Merritt read a paper on The Street Boy and How the Association Can Help Him. In the discussion which this paper brought about, it was resolved to use the association's influence to secure a juvenile court for the purpose of dealing with juvenile delinquents. Tomorrow night a banquet will be held at which H. A. Lordy, of Montreal, will speak on Shelters, Camp Methods and policy for St. John, and D. D. Milligan will deliver an address on Personal Work with Boys. Legislators are invited to attend the banquet.

LAUNCH OF THE C. P. R. S. S. EMPRESS OF RUSSIA

Many Canadians Were at the Ceremony at Govan in Scotland

(Times Special Correspondence)

The vessel was built by the Fairfield Company. An interesting guest present at the launch was the Dowager Lady Pearce. It was the late Sir William Pearce who put the first C. P. R. steamer on the Pacific Ocean. The increase of traffic on this route is indicated by the tonnage of the new steamer, which is 15,000 as against the 6,000 of the ships at present operating. A new feature is the cruiser stern and the steamer can be fitted as an armored cruiser at twenty-four hours' notice. The sister ship, the "Empress of Asia," is under construction in the same yard.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. H. Wyndham Beaulieu, the Dowager Lady Pearce, Mrs. Grassie, Admiral Sir George Digby Morant, K. C. B.; Lord Provost Stevenson, James Hamilton, H. D. Dudson, Mr. and Mrs. George Strachan, A. W. Sampson, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Cleghorn, W. W. Shute, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. B. Sir James Mills, K. C. B., Mr. and Mrs. G. McL. A ship of another order is approaching completion on the Tyne for service on the Canadian lakes and canals. Her motive power is electricity and she embodies a new principle of stopping and reversing which is calculated to be very useful upon negotiating canals. The saving of coal bunker space it is said will mean ten per cent freight saving.

CORRECT ENGLISH

A teacher at an evening school had before her a class in which there were many very rough lads.

"Suppose," she said, "I should say, 'Look out, boys; here comes the police! Would that be proper?'"

There was a long silence. Finally a little fellow rose and said:

"No'm, that wouldn't be right."

"Well, how would it be said?"

"'Chuck it, mate; here comes the cop!'" was the reply.

SURELY TAKE "SYRUP OF FIGS" IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED

Sweetens Your Stomach, Clears Your Head and Thoroughly Cleanses Your Liver and 30 Feet of Bowels of Sour Bile, Foul Gases and Clogged-up Waste

All those days when you feel miserable, headachy, bilious and dull are due to torpid liver and sluggish bowels. The days when your stomach is sour and full of gas, when you have indigestion; the nights when your nerves twitch and you are restless and can't sleep could be avoided with a teaspoonful of delicious Syrup of Figs. Isn't it foolish to be distressed when there is such a pleasant way to overcome it?

Give your inactive liver and ten yards of waste-clogged bowels a thorough cleansing this time. Put an end to constipation. Take a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs tonight, sure, and just see for yourself by morning, how gently but thoroughly all the sour bile, undigested fermenting food and clogged-up waste matter is moved on and out of your system—no nausea—no griping—no weakness.

You simply can't have your liver inactive and your thirty feet of bowels constipated with sour, decaying waste matter and feel well. The need of a laxative is a natural need, but with delicious Syrup of Figs you are not drugging yourself. Being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and alicia it can't injure.
