If people knew the frightful risk they run of infection from unclean dentistry they would better realize the awful chances they take and what a mighty important factor cleanliness is. No one has ever disputed the fact that there are no cleaner offices in Canada than ours. This is worthy of consideration.

HOW FAIR VALE MAN MET DEATH

Sackatchewan Paper Tells How Arthur Vincent Was Drowned in a Lake While Swimming to Secure a Duck He Had Shot

Chester Vincent, of Fair Vale, Kings county, on the I. C. R., whose son Arthur was drowned near Wilkie, Saskatchewan, recently received the following account of the sad affair, which appeared in the Wilkie Press. Mr. Vincent is still anxiously awaiting word as to the finding of the body. The Press says:

On Monday last, at about 4.30 p. m., a sad drowning fatally took place in a large lake surrounded by bush on 34-40-20, about six miles northwest of Wilkie.

The victim is Const. A. Vincent, of the R. N. W. M. P., who has been stationed here for some time, and is well known to a large number of people. He joined the force about two years ago, is about twenty-three years of age, and comes from Rothesay, New Brunswick. The lake in which he met his death is about twenty feet deep and in spite of Vincent being an excellent swimmer, he was unable to reach land.

Accompanied by Const. Forbes he left on a duck hunt to the above place, and while endeavoring to recover a duck which he had shot, he met his death. At the time of the fatality Forbes states that he was on the opposite side of the lake when Vincent disappeared and swam out for the bird. On account of the bush that surrounds the lake Forbes could not see him and getting no answer to several calls, he concluded that something was wrong, so immediately proceeded to the place where he had last seen Vincent, but on arriving at the spot he caught sight of his comrade's head disappearing in the water. Forbes called out to him that he would be with him in a few minutes, but before he could reach Vincent the man shouted "Good-bye" and sank, never coming to the surface again, and despite all efforts of Forbes to recover Vincent he was unsuccessful.

A search party, consisting of Cons. L. O'Keefe, Forbes and a civilian, named Archer, commenced dragging operations to recover the unfortunate man's body, and not until late on Wednesday evening did they meet with any success.

They managed to raise what they feel certain was the body about eight feet from the bottom of the lake, but before they could haul it up to the surface the rope held. Further attempts were useless as darkness was approaching, so letting down an anchor with the rope attached to a plank to indicate the location, they left the scene and resumed their search Thursday morning but up to the time of going to press they have not recovered the body.

We extend to his relations and friends our sympathy in their bereavement.

CLOTHING FACTS

For Men Who Want to Dress Well at a Minimum Expense

In every gathering of well-dressed St. John men, you'll find the great majority are wearers of Oak Hall clothes.

Some of these wearers of Oak Hall clothes are men who occupy high places in the world of commerce. Others are men whose incomes necessitate economical expenditure.

But both classes recognize the fact that Oak Hall clothes meet every requirement of correct style and good taste—that they are the clothes of absolute satisfaction, and that they cost a fourth to a third less than other stores charge for ordinary clothes.

The reason for these advantages is found in the fact that when you buy Oak Hall clothes you buy directly of the makers and you don't have to pay any middleman's profit. You get the best that can be produced for the same prices other stores pay at wholesale.

And we have never been so well prepared to demonstrate these advantages as we are this fall.

We've larger stocks, bigger assortments and better values than ever.
