Mr. Ives-There is a general impression that the leading directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway have practi cally become the proprietors of the British Columbia Southern and its coal lands. In that case, we are paying them indirectly a still further subsidy for the construction of the railway.

The Minister of Railways and Canals -I am assured by the gentlemen representing the Canadian Pacific Railway, the president and the vice-president, that they have no interest at all in the company which will hold the residue of these lands after they are earned and acquired.
