the delegates, has done much towards The congress was adjourned to-day to its work in 1905 at Lucerne Switzerland.

Besides adopting resolutions nouncing war and calling for the crea tion of international obligatory arbitra-tion treaties, the congress passed upon specific conditions. One of its last act was to recommend an enquiry by the powers into the Congo Free State, which is at present under the personal rule of King Leopold of Relgium. The presen Russo-Japanese war was treated by resolution calling upon the Emperors of the two countries to end the conflict at once, or that failing, for the powers t exercise the authority granted by article 27 of The Hague act: and intervene so that the war might be terminated. In s connection the congress suggested to the powers the adoption of a positive peace-making and peace-insuring treaty, inder which all war would be possible for but a brief period only.

Secretary Trueblood read as the last ct of peace congress "An Appeal to the Nations." It was in part as follows: "The thirteenth International Congress of the Friends of Peace, held in Boston, Oct. 3rd to 8th, has met under rcumstances. On the one hand, a murderous war unsurpassed in history is ravaging a section of the globe. On the other hand the friends of peace have gress on this side of the globe in num ers never witnessed before, after a year of unexampled progress of their cause

The cruel war in progress between Russia and Japan-a war which might easily have been avoided if the two bel igerents and the other powers signator of The Hague congress had faithfully kept the obligations assured in the coention-has made it clear that much vet remains to be done in the eradication of old race and national prejudic in ideas of national greatness and glory perverted conceptions of patriotism and territorial and commercial greed. "This has also anew demonstrated the necessity for the immediate perfecting of substitutes for violence in the settlement of international controversies. "The congress at the conclusion of its perations appeals, to the peoples, of all nations and of all classes to arous emselves to a finer and more adequate onception of their rights in the deter mination of the foreign policies pursued by their governments, that they may no longer be involved without their con-sent in foolish and ruinous wars with other powers or in the unjust exploitation of those who they are bound - by very consideration of righteousness and onor to assist and elevate rather than o plunder and degrade. It respectfully vites all the national sovereigns an residents, all ministers of religion, all structors of youth in schools of every rade, and all others who wield any in-luence in the moulding and directing of public opinion to throw the eight, not only of their personal influ but of their positions, toward eradicating the case of misunderstanding and conflict, and the creation of such a complete system of instructional adjudi-cation, and such a wide reaching pacific
