PASTOR'S LOVE NOTES

TOO MUCH FOR FLOCK

The Rev. John John Asked to Quit
Because of Ferret Letters.

CHICAGO, May 20.—As a ready letter writer, the Rev. John John, pastor of the Summerville Congregational Church, is second only to the Rev. De Witt Carpenter, of Harrington, Del. Like Carpenter, the Rev. Mr. John wrote to a female member of his congregation, and his resignation has been demanded. John insists that he wrote his letters to supply Mrs. Charles S. Campbell with material for a novel, but most of the congregation scoff at this defense.

SUNDAY HIS BUSY DAY.

"My own," read one of the letters written to Mrs. Campbell. "You know Sunday is my busy day, and if you don't receive a note in the morning it is not because I don't think of you and would write if I could. Your note was sweet, and I appreciated it much, and I need not tell you I entered into the spirit of it all, except the autumn—love the coy spring and the blossoming summer, the evergreen freshness. "Out, out, my cherie, you have it exactly. The mere and yellow leaf is not long in growing old, and the Campbell burning out can never grow cold." It is always young, and sweetest, you know ours is of that kind. It will always maintain the permanent freshness and greenness of youth. Isn't it sweet? "I have sat at my desk all the afternoon thinking I might catch a glimpse of your fair form; but, no, I waited long—the vision did not materialize. In fancy, of course, you know I always have you look into your eyes, etc., etc. I know what I would like to do this evening after church, but—

"This evening, as I see you, you will know my thought. Tell me tomorrow what time be.

"I'LL BE GOOD IF YOU WILL."

The second letter, lacking a first page reads:— "Sweet, and some, much better; in fact, you come and spend the day with me. Get up about 11. I give you the key in case I am not back by that time, will make desperate effort to be there. Will bring with me a pint of oysters and a quart of milk. "Make yourself comfortable at home until I come. Should the doorbell ring, pay no attention to it. I will come in the rear way. Will see that a bird is drawn before leaving in the morning. I may get back before 11. "I promise on bonded knee to be good if you will. YOUR OWN."

COMMON FALLACIES.

1. War prevents stagnation and makes nations brave and strong. Famines, fires and floods bring out bravery in some men also. Shall we therefore desire them? War makes far more men immoral, diseased, and cruel than it makes brave and noble. Bravery in battle does not imply courage to vote an unpopular ticket, to do business honestly, or to be brave outside of war. War skins off the cream of manly vigor, and leaves a skim-milk nation to produce a weaker race. Napoleon's wars destroyed the strength of France. The French psyche has been inferior ever since. Spain's chronic wars have left an enfeebled race. 2. Nothing but blood can wipe out blood. This is a savage and silly superstition. As well say that only ink can wipe out ink. 3. Nations will never arbitrate questions of honor or of vital importance. The armed cavalier who fought duels at the slightest provocation, two hundred years ago, thought no account of settling a question of his honor. His descendants, who carry no swords, pick fewer quarrels, and settle even the most vital ones in court. Nations will gradually arrive at nothing; but their first case was begun in much shorter time than the Supreme Court at Washington had to wait for its first case. Within the century the World Court will become a universal substitute for international duels. 4. "Trade follows the flag." All the trades go where the country. Trade goes where it finds customers. Only thirty per cent. of England's foreign trade is with her own possessions. BUFFALO, N. Y., May 20.—Wm. F. Tolson's automobile garage was burned early today. The loss on machines stored in the building is estimated at $100,000, partly covered by insurance.

GOLD SEEKERS RUSH

TO YELLOWHEAD PASS

Rumor of Strike Persists—Edmonton Will Vote on Big Improvement Programme.

EDMONTON, Alta., May 18.—There is an under current of excitement in Northern Alberta just now over a persistent but indefinite rumor that gold has been found in the Yellowhead Pass country. Just when or how the rumor originated is not known, but it has been very much in evidence. The result is already seen in the movement of settlers in that direction, who purpose sharing in the gold-strife if there is one.

The report of the find has also started off a number of prospecting parties. To Edmonton this new gold hunt is interesting. It was the Klondike tale of 1896-8 that was virtually the means of discovering modern Edmonton to the rest of Canada and giving it the later impetus. The route via this city was found to be the best to the Klondike, and prospectors poured in and through, outfitting on the way. Incidentally, it resulted in the gold-hunters coming back themselves to buy Edmonton land or in their writing to friends in the East that Edmonton land was good land, and worth buying. From this side-issue of the Klondike gold fever there came enlivened prospects to Edmonton. There is less likelihood of such a result in the present case. Land buyers heretofore are already in legion and the city does not stand in need of publicity, as it did then, even if the gold-strife proved equally good. There is too, the possibility as yet that the Yellow Head gold find may be a very necessary and long summation than the find last winter at Battleford, where an old-time rush of would-be miners took place on the strength of a very imaginative newspaper story.

EDMONTON'S AMBITIOUS PROGRAMME.

Edmonton ratepayers are to vote on May 27th on expenditures amounting to more than $200,000. These new rates in the West mean many things, and need them much, and it is no easy thing to make a very necessary and long summation than the find last winter at Battleford, where an old-time rush of would-be miners took place on the strength of a very imaginative newspaper story.

These several items, having been judged necessary by the city commissioners and council, will almost certainly be authorized by the ratepayers. Western citizens are liberal with civic funds, because if one thing is more apparent than another, it is that lavish expenditure is the price of health and orderliness, and that almost no expenditure is extravagant in view of the future development. In proof of which is Calgary's vote, a few weeks ago, on a municipal street railway enterprise. Calgary already has on its hands a quarter-million City Hall to be built this year, and an absolutely imperative extension of the water works and sewage systems. These would have been enough in one year for a city of 18,000 in the east, and even in Calgary there were those who argued that a street railway was a luxury, that these other things, already passed, were the chief absolute essentials, and that the motor bus service, already inaugurated, would answer very well in the way of street transit. But the citizens as a whole felt that a city of Calgary's ambitions had need of electric cars, and well as of sewers, and that while these should be provided, too, in keeping with the city's growing metropolitanism, and they accordingly voted two to one in favor of another $250,000 for a street railway service. And in the same spirit of liberality Edmonton will probably support the by-laws providing for these and other expenditures to the tune of $200,000.

SHOOTING IN FAIRVILLE.
George Humphrey, a lad 13 years of age, was injured in a shooting affray which took place in Fairville last evening. The police are now looking for Arthur Wright, aged fifteen, who shot Humphrey. Ernest McFarlane, who was with Wright, is also wanted. Humphrey states that he does not blame Wright, as he is sure the shooting was accidental. He says he was going down a hill on Faddy's Place, and was behind Wright when he heard a shot and felt a bullet enter his leg. He cried out that he was hurt, and Wright turned around and when he saw that Humphrey was in earnest, he ran to the river stating that he would drive himself. Persons who saw the three lads before the occurrence say that they were intoxicated. A thorough investigation will follow the arrest and Wright will probably be arrested.

A PLAGUE OF BIRDS.

Protection Has Rendered Them a Nuisance in England.

LONDON, May 20.—A prophecy uttered in conversation two years ago by a famous Hungarian naturalist is coming true. He said that in England the birds so assiduously protected would presently turn and rend us. There is no doubt, as many horticulturists and farmers are now beginning to complain, that the balance of nature is being upset. The raid against sparrows organized by Kent farmers is the opening of a wide campaign against the species. The sparrow is the worst. He has learnt all the vices. He even lives in flats. He has even learnt to eat buds. The bullfinch is rarer, but much more destructive, except to corn. In some of the fruit-growing centres trees have been almost killed and entirely stripped of every leaf by tribes of bullfinches, and from an examination of the birds and the completeness of the ruin it is found that the bud itself, not the "worm in the bud," is the object. The farmer is beginning to regard the rook as hardly less offensive than the bullfinch, and a raid similar to the Kent farmers' has increased, he loses all proper instincts, and serious damage from his depredations is reported. Many are convinced that sparrows, rooks, carrion crows and starlings should be systematically reduced in the interest of farming all over England, since life has been made so easy for them. But they have acquired various inclinations and lost their proper instincts. Extirpation, of course, except in case of the sparrow, would be worse than over-protection, but in the behalf of other birds, the time has come for redressing nature's balance.

THUMPS WIFE-BEATER

WHILE WOMEN CHEER

Neighbors Urge Burgess to Make Summary Punishment Effective.

FREELAND, Pa., May 20.—Burgess George H. Hartman, of this town, administered summary justice to a wife-beater today. Hartman was at work when a committee of women called and informed him that Mrs. Frank R. Ranshiel was being slain by her drunk-craved husband. Hartman entered the Ranshiel home and found the poor woman insensible upon the floor, bruised and bleeding. The brutal husband attacked the burgess with a club. A struggle followed, and the burgess in self-defense was compelled to pummel the fellow until he begged for mercy. During the fight neighboring women crowded into the room. They were incensed over the ill-treatment accorded Mrs. Ranshiel. They cheered the burgess, and urged him to make the chastisement thoroughly effective.

HOW DO YOU WINK?

Majority in England Use the Left Eye.

LONDON, May 20.—Sir James Crichton-Browne, in the course of a lecture at the Royal Institution last night, said that some time ago he issued a number of circulars, one of the questions in which was whether the recipients were left-handed, right-handed or ambidextrous. He thought it was a practical joke, and others believed it was a subtle way of detecting insanity. But 577 replies were received. Out of that number 25 per cent. were left-handed. Another question on the circular was: "Do you wink with the left eye or with the right?" The majority winked with the left eye; and a number of ladies who responded to the appeal were equally divided as to the use of the right and left eye. Rather more than 20 per cent. claimed to be proficient in the use of both eyes, and 813 declared they could not wink at all.

BURIED UNDER THIRTY

TONS OF COAL; UNHURT

Shovel Carried Down Deceitfully and Engulfed in Masses Big as Two-Story House.

SHAMOKIN, Pa., May 20.—While loading coal from a chute in the North Franklin colliery today Martin Vaters lost his foothold and was carried down a decolity, thirty tons of coal, as high as a two-story house, piling over him. Comrades who saw the accident concluded he had been instantly killed. Officials were notified, and on their arrival a gang of miners was set to work to remove the coal and recover the body. After three hours the pile was reduced to such an extent that Vaters was located between four huge lumps of coal, which kept smaller slices from rolling against his person. It took another hour for the rescuing party to remove all the coal. They found Vaters senseless and seemingly dead. He was carried on a stretcher to the bottom of a slope, where a strong air current sweeping over his face revived him, and in a few minutes he was able to walk. He had escaped with a few scratches.
