GOOD CATERING.

In no important feature of the exhibition has greater advance been made than in the furnishing of meals and lunches. For long years the management failed to realize that the feeding of the great crowds that visited the exhibition should be carried out scientifically, decently and in a style in keeping with an up-to-date fair, and that every service undertaken by the exhibition or carried out under its authority, might be harmful to the reason, of course, cannot be expected under the abnormal conditions that prevail on the grounds on a crowded day, but people who are not well served are sure to be a fault in unmeasured terms. The time was, and not so very long ago, when a good meal could not be had at a St. John exhibition. So notorious was the failure of a Toronto caterer, whose tender the management had accepted in full hope that they had the last found the right man, that it was decided to abandon all attempts to make money out of the dining hall and to see that the public was properly served, even if that step involved some financial loss. To this end they last year induced the ladies of Trinity Church Sewing Circle, Sussex, to assume charge of the dining hall and lunch counters, with the result that the restaurant sprang into instant popularity and netted the enterprising ladies a handsome sum. This year the ladies of the Tabernacle Baptist church assumed charge, and they, too, have every reason to feel satisfied with the patronage extended to them. Having made this advance, the directors would next year turn their attention to the smaller booths, where ice cream, tea and cooling drinks are dispensed, and place them under official inspection. There should be an ample supply of water, and cleanliness should be insisted on in every booth.

DAIRYMEN'S ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Farmers' and Dairymen's Association was held Tuesday morning in the Industrial building. President A. G. Dickson, Chatham, was in the chair. Those present were: W. W. Hubbard, Sussex; E. L. Colpitts, Pleasant Vale; D. M. Hamm, Grand Bay; F. R. Brooks, Southampton; G. Moratt, Andover; S. Crispin, Silver Falls; J. R. Taylor, Taylor's Village; Walter Simpson, president of the Prince Edward Island association, was present by invitation. The date and programme for the next annual meeting of the association was discussed. A committee consisting of the president, the recording secretary and the corresponding secretary, were appointed, with full executive power to arrange date and programme. It was suggested that the date be as near the first of January as convenient to speakers and others. The programme will be made up of the following subjects: 1. The best methods of procuring, breeding and caring for cattle and sheep stock. 2. A special discussion on how best to promote the breeding of the most saleable horses. 3. How to encourage sheep raising in New Brunswick. The meeting closed with a culture. It was ordered that the last day of the session be devoted to dairy topics. The committee adjourned to meet in Fredericton previous to the annual meeting.

PAINTING AND FANCY WORK.

Mineral painting (amateur) — The judges decided the entries in this class were not mineral paintings, but oil paintings on porcelain. Painting on silk—Best collection (professional), Miss Martha Corker, Fredericton, 1st; best collection (amateur), Miss Thelma Davis, 9 White street, 1st; Miss Henrietta Bateman, Shediac, Cape, 2nd. Miss Bateman's display is a collection of paintings on velvet, canvas, paper and felt. These were not entered for competition, so the judges advised a diploma. Lace, Wool Work, Embroidery, Etc. BACK FROM KLONDYKE.

Frank E. Whelpley Talks to the Star About the Yukon.

Government Officials Waxed Rich at the Expense of the Miners. Frank E. Whelpley of Murray street, north end, has returned from the Klondike, after an absence of nearly three years, during which time he was engaged for a while in mining, but chiefly in trading. He says he has made quite a success of his business transactions in supplies, etc., between Seattle and Dawson, and may possibly return to that region before many months. He entered Dawson with Colonel Donville's party in 1898, after three months of wearisome travel, and for a year tried to become rich in mining. This he gave up as useless, in view of the almost insurmountable obstacles placed in the way by corrupt and grasping government officials, who would gobble up under the cloak of the law all the choice things a prospector might find upon them. Then he went into trading, as before mentioned, and by constant plodding against all kinds of odds managed to discover what the color of gold really was. Mr. Whelpley is one of St. John's best known young men and quite conversant with matters of the day, even if he has been sealed up in the half-frozen north for a trio of years. Beside matters of local interest which he relates, he appears to have the famous Yukon government scandals down pretty fine. These unrighteous transactions have been discussed the dominion over for the last two years, but coming from one of our own townsmen are of particular interest.

The Yukon investigation into the dolous of Commissioner Fawcett, Minister Sifton's relative, was the veriest kind of rot, says Mr. Whelpley—a veritable farce. The whole investigation proceedings only lasted three hours and an hour, and the commissioner came out of it "whiter than snow," but that's what the long-suffering mining people knew to be nothing short of a burlesque on justice. Messrs. Bolton and Craig went on duty for the government at a salary not exceeding $50 per month, and inside of two years they were paying such sums as $5,000 and $10,000 for claims. The manoeuvring of the whole Yukon official staff was as plain to evidence as the most ignorant prospector as the nose on one's face.

Mr. Whelpley cited the case of a friend of his, a little Dutchman, who had travelled into Dawson at the same time he did. He secured a claim and at once set to work to develop it at the official headquarters. He was told the claim would have to be surveyed first. This was done, and when the little Dutchman called a second time with his money to have his claim surveyed, he was told that particular piece of land had already been laid aside and duly entered up in the books. Investigation brought out the fact that one of the government surveying party had selected this claim for himself and forthwith annexed it. Thus were the most promising claims appropriated. Commissioner Herdeman is another government official who has become rich in the service of the Laurier administration in the land of gold and ice. He is reputed to have over $50,000 laid aside as a tribute to his several abilities as a servant of the government in poor benighted Yukon. Herdeman could consider an application for a claim if he liked or drop it. It was a common proposal to a miner that a commissioner would record his claim, etc., for a half or quarter share in the claim's yield of gold. The first year and a half of government rule was simply a disgraceful one. Such transactions as the above mentioned were of daily occurrence, and had they occurred on the American side of the line Mr. Whelpley says the miners would have lynched the officials without ceremony.

NOTES.

The water supply stopped suddenly in the exhibition buildings yesterday morning and the water in the various boilers about the buildings got dangerously low. A telephone message was sent to the water works, and in a very short time they were able to locate the trouble. The main near Peniac mill factory was opened and nine large eels taken from it. One of the eels was alive and was put into the tank of eels on exhibit, but soon died. Mr. Rowe placed the rest on exhibit among the other fish. People will wonder how the eels got into the pipe and what kind of water they are drinking. A fight occurred on the exhibition grounds yesterday morning between two of the cattlemen, but the police quickly on hand and stopped it. A coon who was a party in the fight gave a Moncton farm hand a vigorous kick, which put him out of action. The Josiah Fowler Co., Ltd., of St. John, were awarded the gold medal at Halifax for edge tools, etc., over all competitors. Harris Allan, superintendent of machinery hall, was presented yesterday by Thompson & Stouffer, opticians, of Toronto, with a splendid pair of gold-rimmed spectacles. He is trading in the Northrup & Co. bought the exhibit of Brantford starch in the annex gallery.

A NEW INVENTION.

E. H. Timpany of Roseway, Digby Co., N. S., has on exhibit a new rowlock, which will be of interest to all seafaring men. It is called the Speights safety folding rowlock, and patented in Canada and the United States. The rowlock is always ready dropping into a groove in the gunwale when not in use. A movement of the hand and it is in position again. Sailors from the men-of-war now in port inspected it minutely on Saturday.

NOTES.

Andrew Dunlop, Upper Hainesville, York Co., captured first prize with his Clyde stallion Island Lad, 5 years old, weighing 1,310 lbs. This animal attracted great attention, being the largest horse in the exhibition and having an exceptionally fine movement. Island Lad also carried off the diploma awarded to the best horse in its class on the grounds. The following six classes did not fill: Suffolk Punch horses; Polled Norfolk cattle; Galloways; Devons; Hampshire sheep; Merino sheep. Hugh Campbell has been awarded a special prize for the best display of eggs.

MONCTON MAN DROWNED.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 18.—The body of Charles Blair, a native of Moncton, N. B., was found near Vancouver harbor yesterday. Suicide is suspected. Deceased up to a short time was connected with the Merchants' Bank at Brandon, Man., but had been out of work and became despondent.

A Contented WOMAN isn't contented simply because she uses SURPRISE Soap; but the use of this soap contributes largely to her contentment. In proportion to its cost, it's the largest factor in household happiness. It is pure, lasting and effective; it removes the dirt quickly and thoroughly without boiling or hard rubbing. SURPRISE is a pure hard Soap.

When we get to dreamin' of the happy When our lifeboat was a floatin' out from boyhood's golden shore, Treasure that were half-forgotten come a-sailin' into sight, Startin' all the souls to dancin' to the music in the breeze, An' there isn't one among 'em puts a yearnin' in the breast, For an' oh, how good it is in the sacred of home nest, Like the fragrant, smokin' jewels, dif- f'rent from the modern fake, Backwater cakes an' sausage gravy like our mother used to make! Used to get up in the mornin' dus agin the break o' day, When the east was full o' color that'd take the breath away, Hustle out an' git to chorin', workin' up an appetite, That'd throw your streak o' glory into every lascivious bit, Take a wash in that tin basin on the bench out in the yard, Underneath the 'ol mulberry by the hand of the earth kin babe, Then sit down forrest a banquet out o' Buckwheat cakes with sausage gravy—sort our mother used to make!

SHIRT WAISTS IN CHICAGO.

Two Young Men Wearing the Latest Style Are Mugged by a Gang of Hoodlums. CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—Two young men wearing the latest in shirt waists were mugged by hoodlums in Douglas Park this afternoon. The man who was mugged was a common proposal to a miner that a commissioner would record his claim, etc., for a half or quarter share in the claim's yield of gold. FATALITY IN DARTMOUTH.

The Halifax Herald reports another sad drowning fatality in the Dartmouth Lakes on Tuesday. The victim was Thomas Farrell, jr., who lived with his father at Lakeside, the last house on the lake road, within the limits of the town. The accident occurred just about noon and the body was found an hour later within a few feet of the shore and in about three feet of water.

THE NERVES RULE THE BODY.

Feeble Nerves Are Aroused to New Vigor and Life by the Use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food (Pills). The movements, the functions and the very life of each and every organ of the body are under the direct control of that great organizing and directing system, the nervous system. Weakness and exhaustion by over-work, worry or disease, the effect is always to produce derangements of the most serious order, and the result is usually paralysis, locomotor ataxia, prostration, epilepsy or insanity. When nervous, irritable, sleepless and despondent, write to the nearest nerve specialist by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food (Pills). Don't wait for neuritic pains and nervous headache and dizziness to drive you to the use of the great nerve restorative. The longer you delay treatment, the more distant will be your recovery. Nervous diseases never wear away, but gradually grow worse. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food (Pills) is the only preparation which is certain because it contains in condensed form the very elements of nature which go to form the nerve tissue. It cures by building up the system. 50 cents a box. At all dealers, or EDMANSON, BATES & Co., Toronto. Get your Job Printing at Daily Sun Job Rooms.
