MOVING PICTURE.
FULL OF ACTION

A number of by-standers got an ideal moving picture, full of action, motion and humor, and so very moving on King street last evening. An Ethiopian engaged in the local movie business was moving a drag load of furniture down the city's main thoroughfare, and was about opposite the Royal Bank, when his rickshaw stood suddenly upright on the smooth pavement, registered emotion, sat down. The cart knew his business, it did not move. The driver was not pleased for but a moment, then he turned the horse's head towards a near-by fire hydrant. The "plugs" slid for the plug, and the movie picture became a tableau, as the hydrant effectively checked further progress.

Held Conference At The Hospital

Possible Income to be Derived from Proposed Extension Discussed by Commissioners

The Board of Hospital Commissioners, and Doctors Roby, Curran and Skinner, a sub-committee of the hospital staff, held an informal conference at the hospital yesterday afternoon to discuss the possible income to be derived from the proposed extension to hospital and the expenditure the erection of a new wing would entail. The estimated revenue from the proposed wing was largely speculative, as the income may only be ascertained by actual experience, but at the same time the doctors were able to furnish the board with a certain amount of information to submit to the finance committee of the municipal council who they are to meet this afternoon in the office of the county treasurer.

Fewer Words, More Action Necessary

High Time for Organization of Women to Act That Girls be Protected.

A prominent member of the Women's Council in this city, commenting on Justice Crocker's remarks in reference to the resolution of the council on the Margaret Long case, which the learned justice characterized as a move aimed at the interference with the carrying out of justice, said the presiding judge at the trial was probably correct in his view from a legal standpoint, but not from a humanitarian standpoint. She informs the Standard that the Women's Council was out to aid a girl who was alone and friendless, more sinned against than sinning.

Women Have a Duty

Continuing, she said: "It is high time that all organizations of women do less talking and more acting for the girls of every community. There are those beasts in men's salient waiting on every corner to ensnare a girl. Women, if they will but act, can save many a girl from disgrace and degradation."

"In the United States last year 65,000 young girls disappeared from their homes. Many of them have never been traced. No one knows how many have disappeared from Canadian homes, but probably several thousand. Our societies of women must carry on a campaign against loose morals, suggestive dress and all the evil influences which tend to turn a young girl's head. For every unwholesome thing that is taken away, a clean interest must be supplied.

Give Proper Fun
"Young lives will not be left a vacuum. There must be plenty to do that is good fun, and yet is clean and safe, plenty of youthful association under kindly and understanding chaperonage. Youthful spirits cannot be quenched; it can only be guided. This is the work for our association and councils."

Reports Received

The secretary's report showed an enrollment of 451. The work of grading, which has been in force for a year, has proved of great benefit. The treasurer, Harry Lyman, stated that there has been an income in giving, and that the amount raised for missions was very creditable. Detailed reports of the different departments were given, showing much interest taken in the Sunday school by officers and scholars. Appreciation was expressed of the work of the teachers and officials, especially of the faithful service given by James E. Arthur, who was re-elected as superintendent, and thus begins his ninth year in this office.

Rothsday To Have Fire Equipment

Residents Gather in Mass Meeting Decide to Purchase Motor Chemical Equipment

Around to action by losses sustained in recent fires, the residents of Rothsay had a meeting last night to talk over ways and means of providing the district with a fire-fighting equipment to better safeguard the property interests of this prosperous residential section.

There was a large gathering of the citizens to talk over the important question, and all seemed to be of one mind—fire apparatus is very much needed. J. M. Robinson presided.

Rich Valuation

The property valuation of the district interested in the project, from Riverside Station to Fair Vale Station, is placed at $355,000. In this district are many beautiful and attractive residences, and several have been destroyed by fires which might have been prevented had there been any fire-fighting equipment at hand. This was all pointed out at last night's meeting. All present were in favor of securing fire-fighting equipment. It was the consensus of opinion that the district should secure a small motor chemical truck and the accessories that go with it. It was believed this would be sufficient for the present, and with prompt and proper handling should prevent any serious fire destruction.

Voluntary Funds

It was decided to raise the funds necessary by voluntary subscription. The enthusiasm behind the project on the part of the residents gives assurance that the necessary amount will be quickly raised and an energetic committee was appointed to handle the collection.

It is expected Rothsay will have its motor chemical in a very few weeks and the people will rest feeling a little more secure from the ravages of the fiery fiend.

Automobile Owners Receive A Warning

Five Car Owners Fined for Speeding—Must Dim Lights or be Prosecuted.

Six automobile owners were before Magistrate Allingham who held court at his residence last evening. In all cases the charge was for speeding on Lancaster Avenue last Sunday, the reports having been made by Norman Downing who is assisting Inspector Robert Crawford. The case against car No. 7746 was withdrawn, while fines of five dollars were struck against cars 2753, 1647, 2298 and truck 327, a fine of two dollars was struck against car No. 2169.

Must Dim Lights

Speaking to The Standard last night Inspector Crawford said that he gives warning that all car owners who exceed the speed limit will be prosecuted as he is engaged on the Loch Lomond Road and Rothsay Avenue, while his assistants are looking after the traffic on the Westfield and other roads on the West Side. Another warning given out by the inspector regarding the dimming of head lights. He said that every car owner he caught in the future that failed to dim the lights when approaching and passing another car will be haled into court and prosecuted, as he claims that the practice is being carried on continuously and is very dangerous.

Robert Anderson Was 95 Years Old

Funeral of Retired Government Railway Employee at River Glade.

The death of Robertson Anderson occurred at his home River Glade on Tuesday last. He was aged about twenty-five years, leaving one son, William H. Anderson, 4 Summer street this city. The funeral took place yesterday from the late home, the services being given by Rev. Mr. Mason, of Petfordville, and internment was in the Church of England burying grounds at River Glade.

Long Service Man.

The late Mr. Anderson is well known in the city, especially by the older men employed on the Government railway, as he was presented with a long service medal for the long period in which he was employed on the railway. When the Intercolonial railway was under construction Mr. Anderson was a conductor on a ballast train on the section between St. John and Moncton. He was afterwards a baggage master at St. John and a station agent at Sussex and Salisbury, besides holding other positions up till the time of his retirement.

Salmon Hatchery May Still Remain

Fishermen Came to Agreement With Inspector Walker Last Night.

It is now believed that the Salmon Hatchery will not be removed from these waters and that the order to have it removed and resealed; this was the word given out after a meeting of the fishermen held last evening.

Inspector Walker Satisfied

Inspector S. J. Walker, of the Fishery Department, Ottawa, who has been in the city for the past week trying to settle the matter between the fishermen, was to have left the city yesterday afternoon; on request of some of the fishermen decided to remain over the night and once more meet the men and discuss the matter without favorable results.

Price for Salmon

The fishermen arranged with Mr. Walker to deliver salmon at the Government Hatchery for five dollars and twenty-five cents a fish, and they further decided to make arrangements with George B. Wilson to gather the fish from the weirs in pontoons and deliver at two dollars per fish, leaving the weir owners $3.25 per fish. This agreement was apparently satisfactory to Inspector Walker, and last night he sent a telegram to the Fishery Department at Ottawa asking that the Salmon pond be not removed from St. John this season. Inspector Walker, after a couple of previous meetings with the fishermen, which were not satisfactory, had recommended to the department that the local hatchery be removed, but now it is expected that within a few days the fishermen will learn that Inspector Walker's request as sent by wire last night will be granted.

Sea-Dog Menace

Another important question that was brought up at the meeting last night was the Sea-Dog Menace. One weir owner stated that Wednesday night he had placed a strong salmon net across the mouth of his weir, hoping that it would prevent the dogs from entering and destroying the fish, which could easily swim through the net. Yesterday morning when the owner visited his weir he found that the salmon net had been broken full of large holes by the dogs and, accordingly, a large number of fish had been destroyed or driven away.

Using Spiked Poles

Another weir owner said that he had placed a wire rods across the mouth of his weir and felt sure that this would prevent the dogs from entering, but on investigation yesterday morning he found that these rods had been bent apart by the dogs in forcing their way into the weir after the tasty gasperaux. This fisherman said that as the rods or stout nets failed to keep the dogs out, he had tried another plan last night by placing a pole with sharp spikes driven in it at the mouth of the weir, and he felt sure that sea-dogs would be unable to pass the spikes.

Ask for Assistance

After considerable discussion, it was decided that a committee with A. O. H. Wilson as chairman, circulate a petition among all weir owners and fishermen who drift in the harbor, as well as the outside fishermen at Lorneville for the purpose of asking the government to assist in the extermination of sea-dogs, which are causing a great amount of damage as well as destroying the fish in these waters. The petition will be sent to the Fishery Department at Ottawa within a few days.

Dogs Up River

It was pointed out by the fishermen last evening that never in the history of St. John was the harbor so full of sea-dogs, and one fisherman stated that dogs were quite plentiful in those waters, and furthermore were using an end of one of the islands there as a base for their operations, as he had seen a large number of pups this season.

How to Destroy Them

The manner of destroying the dogs was talked over for some time and it was decided that just as soon as they are killed they sink to the bottom, and fishermen with rifles could clear the harbor of a great number. It was also suggested that some sort of traps could be set and perhaps men would go into this business, provided the government would pay some kind of a bounty on each dog destroyed.

Only two items of business were considered at the meeting of the common council in committee yesterday morning and both were referred back for reports.

James Huey $383

Commissioner Frink presented a request from the New Brunswick Telephone Company for permission to open Duke street, West, in order to lay a conduit to carry some of their wires and on his motion the matter was referred to the road engineer for a report. In making the motion the commissioner said it would probably mean
