

City Police Court. Yesterday afternoon John Feeny stepped into the hall of justice to hear the impositions of Sarah Logan, in that he had without provocation used abusive language to said Sarah, and had also unlawfully committed an assault. Mr. Feeny, after a spirited trial, was fined $30, with the alternative of two months in Gaol.

During the long watches of last night, while the bacchanals continued his revels, and policemen and drunkards slept, five captives lay in chains in the cells of the city prison. This morning they were led forth and placed on the peevish bench to learn of the justice and morality which should prevail in a well regulated city like St. John.

His Honor was sufficiently imprudent to get drunk last night and showed even greater improvidence by coming to the station in that condition. As it did not appear that his intention was to surrender himself for the purpose of making an example to the vicious, the Magistrate fined him $4, and intimated that on his next appearance he would be sent to the Penitentiary.

Peter Toner was found in the barn of P. McCourt, Esq., in such a state of liquor that he was supposed to be insane, and was taken to the station. This morning he had somewhat recovered from his misfortune, and was told by the Judge to "Go home and drink no more rum."

Wm. Hockley, 29, N. B., drunk on Charlotte street, was fined $4. James King, 27, Ireland, was found drunk on King street, and in default of payment of a $4 fine was sentenced to gaol for two months. "Oh, your Honor," he exclaimed, "I am not able to go to gaol. Please send me to the almshouse." Her prayer was not answered.

John Driscoll, 50, Ireland, an old and it would seem incorrigible offender. His great bent to the world is when he is full in whist-playing and performing stunts or minor chores—and when John is a good boy he is often released before the expiration of his term. Such an occasion is one on which to be joyful and John becomes so gleeful on gain that he is again found by the bobbies and placed in gaol. He was before the court yesterday and he is let go immediately because so cheerful that his fit and proper resting place was the whist-playing bench. On being called in court this morning he smiled a genuine Irish smile and in reply denied the charge. The magistrate was so much amused that he because there was no liquor to be had, and then gave a point to his accused by sending John to the Penitentiary for two months.

Reuben Hecker is only 22, but her ways are even darker than her complexion. She lives about Sheffield street and in that vicinity was found last night as "rosy as a cherry" and moreover cursing and swearing. This was naughty, but she was money and independent when she was placed in the dock. She denied being drunk, but humbly remarked that if she was not cursing and swearing there was no fun in it. She was sent to the Penitentiary for two months, and on receiving her sentence remarked that she would have the benefit of the country air. This did not please the magistrate who with some asperity warned her that before two months she might find herself in custody. On the prisoners being marched out he scornfully commented on them to the police as "a hard crowd."

Wm. Seabury is a nuisance to himself, his family, and the world at large. Continually in the Court for being drunk and ill-treating his hard working wife and daughter, on whose earnings he subsists, and continually in the penitentiary for the same reason. Recently the wretched man maintains a stolid indifference to when liberated again assaults his wife and raises Cain generally. Recently the objects of his malice sought shelter in the house of a neighbor, but to this place he followed them and in his frenzy broke in the door. This morning he pleaded guilty and was fined $30 or two months Gaol.

Shipbuilding in Dorchester. Dorchester, Nov. 23rd, 1872. To the Editor of the Tribune. Sir: There are now lying in this port two new ships of upwards of 1000 tons each, built respectively by Wm. Hickman and R. A. Chapman, Esq. The first, that is, Mr. Hickman's, is waiting for a tug boat to take her to St. John, where she will load for Europe. The latter is the leading deck by D. H. Gilhoun, Esq., of Liverpool. These make seven new vessels built in Dorchester this summer, and all owned in this and adjacent districts, viz. three by Mr. Chapman (two bark and a schooner), two barks by Wm. Hickman, one bark by Gilhoun Palmer, and a large brig by Capt. Geo. Beck, now loading with building stone for New York. Mr. Chapman has a bark and a frame moulded for a large brig, to be owned by himself, the Olive Freeman Co., of New York, and others, for the stone trade. She is to be launched in April. He will at once put down another keel for a bark of about 800 tons for Taylor Bros., St. John, to be used in June, '73. He will also, as soon as the brig is off, build a ship of about 1200 tons for local owners, to be off next fall. This shipbuilding is getting to be a very important one for this part of the country, and the amount of money derived among owners by Messrs. Palmer, Chapman and Gilhoun this winter will amount to from $150,000 to $200,000.

The survivors, including Capt. J. E. Bell, the master, the first and second mates and six of the crew were safely transferred to the steamer and brought to this port.

IS HORACE GREELY INDIAN? A medical gentleman stated yesterday that Dr. Brown, of the Bloomfield Agency, was applied to by a man named Dr. John Greely into that institution as a patient. A morning paper published to day a story current in newspaper circles for nearly a week, that Horace Greely is insane, and says he is now an inmate of the asylum of White Plains. The same paper makes public an interview with Whiteley Reid, managing editor of the Tribune, in which he says, in answer to questions, that Greely has been under medical treatment, and very ill, and is considered by some stark mad. But it is simply nervously prostrated. For months prior to the death of his wife he did not sleep a hour's night; and since her death he has been in the same condition to answer to the question, "Is it true that Greely drew a knife on one of his friends?" Reid is made to answer by the interviewers: "I tell you that he (Greely) does nothing which, to those who know him, seems strange. He always acts as a center man, and at best acts as if he were queer; but now, nervously prostrated, strangers might think him crazy. I have seen him positively furious when a first proof has been brought him that he is sane. Greely has had enough of very him, and what he needs is a quiet rest. The Express is assured that Greely's health is not so bad as was represented, but he is unable to be at his post or to perform any editorial work. The Tribune makes no allusion to the reports of Greely's insanity.
