

ASK YOURSELF

Are you logical in your use of medicine? When your stomach is ailing you take something that reaches the stomach, but when the trouble is in your lungs or breathing passages, do you take something that gets there direct? This is where so many people make a mistake. They swallow remedies into the stomach in a vain attempt to cure an ailment which is of the lungs! Thus they wonder why they receive no benefit.

For ailments of the lungs and breathing passages the logical treatment is the use of a remedy that is breathable and therefore capable of reaching the lungs direct.

Peps is that kind of remedy—a breathable remedy in tablet form. When Peps are dissolved in the mouth, medicinal vapor is released and breathed to all parts of the bronchial tubes and the minute air cells of the lungs, soothing the inflammation and consequent irritation, healing the sore places and ending the cough.

Next time you are troubled with a cough, sore throat, bronchitis or laryngitis, take Peps and prove for yourself the superiority of the direct treatment. All dealers 60c.

Would Purchase a Car For Inspector

TO FACILITATE WORK OF CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY County Council Concludes Its Session

The purchase of a car to facilitate the work of Inspector Pullman of the Children's Aid Society was considered by the County Council yesterday. It was pointed out that the Inspector has to make many trips and that a car would save much valuable time.

The members seemed to agree that a car was desirable but were not all of the same opinion as to who should purchase it, the County and the two cities or Mr. Pullman himself, and there also was a difference of opinion as to the payment of the maintenance expenses of the car. Should the Inspector be paid so much salary, be provided with a car, and then pay his own expenses, or should the salary remain as it is, a car provided, and the county pay his expenses.

It was claimed by one of the members, that a salary was the only solution, he stating that the old arrangement with the County Road Superintendent in regard to car expenses had been unsatisfactory.

Finally the Council recommended the purchase of a car. A motion by Reeve Oaks and Reeve Bohlander was carried unanimously. Reeve Bohlander, it might be stated, had brought up the matter before the Council. The motion follows:

Moved by A. Oaks.
Seconded by D. Bohlander.
"That we recommend the purchase of a car for the use of Mr. Pullman and that the cities of Galt and Kitchener be consulted in this matter and if favorably considered by them a Ford car be purchased and a committee consisting of the Warden and Mr. Bohlander be appointed to confer with the interested parties."

So the purchase of the car depends on the opinions of Galt and Kitchener. Committees for the Year

The following standing committees for the year have been appointed: Equalization of Assessment: The Reeves of all the municipalities.

Finance: Fred Debus, H. Walker, L. Baechler, P. Stumpf, Jos. Snyder, and A. Oaks (chairman).

Roads and Bridges: A. Janzen, J. Reidel (chairman), A. Lantz, S. Koch and A. Y. Little.

Property: M. H. Stroli (chairman), R. S. Armstrong and G. Mothers. House of Refuge: D. Bohlander.

The various committee reports were submitted and adopted, but an amendment was made to the Finance, by which the grant to the Salvation Army in recognition of work among the soldiers overseas was fixed at $2000.

A Serious Matter

There is a deficiency about mentioning pills. And yet so many suffer needlessly who could be readily relieved and cured if they only knew about Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Men tell one another about this remarkably successful treatment. But many women pine away, their health and vitality, dreading a surgical operation and not knowing how easily they can be cured at home by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Legislature Opens On February 25th
APPEARANCE OF "FARMERS" MEMBERS TO INJECT INTEREST.

Toronto, Jan. 22.—The Ontario Legislature will meet on Tuesday, February 25. The official announcement was made to-day by Sir William Hearst, following a meeting of the Cabinet.

The opening this year is later than usual, and will allow the House less than eight weeks in which to dispose of its business, if prorogation is to be reached Easter week.

Sir William intimated that the business of the Government is in good shape and that little time will be lost once the House is settled down.

Chief Business.
The important measures to come before the Legislature have in the main received plenty of advance notice. Chief among these will be the new medical act, the bill to give the Federal Government authority in connection with land expropriation, etc., for soldier settlement, a new highway bill providing for provincial highway construction, the measure taking over the sale of liquor, the amendment of the bill prepared by the special assessment committee and the usual hydro measures.

The appearance of "farmer" members will inject new interest into the session, but in view of the fact that still another session will be necessary before the terms of the extension bill, a general election is not expected to be serious "fighting."

A Record Year For St. Andrew's
The annual congregational meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held last evening with Mr. J. F. Carmichael in the chair. The reports of the various societies were received with more than usual satisfaction, each and all showing that splendid work has been accomplished during 1918. Especially gratifying was the report presented by the Board of Managers, which was the best by far in the history of St. Andrew's Church.

The total amount of income from all sources was $11,246.97.

The following were chosen to fill the vacancies on the Management Board and are elected for three years: W. G. Cloghoun, A. H. Devitt and W. C. Treacy.

COMMISSION ILLEGAL.
Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 22.—Holding as a "fatal objection" that the commission was in violation of an imperial statute passed in the reign of Charles I., abolishing the star chamber, and affirming that it was in violation of fundamental principles of criminal procedure, Chief Justice Hunter, in a judgment given late this afternoon, declared that the royal commission appointed by the Provincial Government to investigate the illegal trafficking in intoxicants in British Columbia was "issued without lawful authority."

Confidence and

Specializing in Sole-Leather.

With the completion of the improvement and additions named the company in the four tanneries can handle over twenty-two hundred sides a day. The Hastings plant will be used for the manufacture of Trent Valley Oak sole-leather; the Kitchener tannery to those of hemlock and oak; the Hastings tannery to the Company's famous "Pens-tang" hemlock brand only and the Woodstock to that of Royal Oak.

"The distribution of sole leather to the shoe factories is usually made in full hides, crops, backs and bends, but who a tannery specializing in one or two lines require sole, ready cut, The Provincial Cut Sole Co. of Queen St. North, are able to take care of their requirements.

This organization, under the able supervision of Messrs. Falge & Falge, of Boston, Mass., is supplying some of the leading factories of Canada, to-day.

Shipments From Here.
Practically all shipments of leather will be made from this city, where the company's ware-houses are located, which are under the management of Mr. L.O. Breithaupt, the sales-manager. Recently a representative of the Record had the privilege of visiting these ware-houses and the local tannery. The business around these places is so out of the story that the outlook for the future is bright.

A Model Tannery.
Of particular interest and instructiveness was the visit to the tannery. One of the features that impress the visitor as he enters this plant is the inviting condition of the same. Everything that makes for the best of surroundings for workmen and for the expedient and efficient operation that is necessary is outstanding.

In bygone days the appeal of a tannery, rightly or wrongly, to the eye was not the most favorable but this plant leaves one under the impression that many an individual, who perhaps had never been through a tannery, had a wrong conception of the interior of one. The local plant is the reverse of anything that is repulsive owing to surroundings of the industry.

From the hide house through the wash room and beam house, through the quarters where the various tanning materials are applied in vats, through the drying and finishing rooms and finally through the rolling department the Record representative went, and in every corner of the big plant favorable conditions and surroundings were noticeable.

At the local tannery it was noticed that the bark is ground and conveyed to the leach-house by an endless chain for the extracting of tanning liquor. The spent bark is used to generate some of the steam power necessary at the plant. This steam power generated by burning the spent bark generates electric power to drive the various motors in the respective departments each of which can be run separately whenever necessary.

The plant has an efficient chemical laboratory where the various tanning materials are analyzed as to their efficiency and purity. Mr. J.E. Breithaupt, chemical engineer, is the chemist and is in charge of this department.

It might be stated that the principal by-products of the plant is hair taken from the hides which are washed, dried baled, and sold, being utilized for building purposes and for various kinds of felts required in building equipment. The fleecings and trimmings are sold to the glue-factories utilized for making cabinet-makers glue.

The Company's Confidence in this City and Canada.
On the occasion of the interesting visit to the plant the material sign of the company's optimism and their confidence in Kitchener, yes in the Dominion, was manifest in these alterations and improvements. It made an enthusiast in the City's case rejoice to see that her prosperity would continue as surely as it has in the past. And added to this evidence was the expressed confidence of the energetic sales-manager, Mr. L.O. Breithaupt, who incidentally remarked: "These improvements have been made because the company has great confidence in the future of Canada. Having taken such a glorious part in the war that has ended so victoriously for allied arms we feel that Canada will have a great future. This young and vast country will advance as never before. There no doubt will be a great flow of immigration from European countries to this country and there will come the development of Canada's natural resources on an unprecedented scale. We want to be ready for these developments so that when they do come we will be equal to the task. As trade arises we will be able to produce even larger quantities. And we have confidence in Kitchener. Her prosperity and growth are assured. The aim of the company in the past, to assist in building up a great city, we still and always will hold."

Another Story Revealed.
Such is the justified enthusiasm of the company. A splendid example of community spirit, of love for home city and an inspiration for all. But there is more than that. After the sales-manager had finished his last sentence there was before the imaginative eye not only a golden age of local and national prosperity but the magnificent book of history which has made the city and the country what it is. In glittering letters there stood out the achievement of the sturdy men of the past, of pioneers who underwent the hardships and trials of the day and who laid the foundation of the city. There also flashed to the press representative's thoughts a retrospective of the remarkable changes in trade and in conditions of trade in this twentieth century as compared to three decades ago. This all came to him when he recalled that the business of the company was established in this town in 1857 by the late Louis Breithaupt, father of Mr. L.O. Breithaupt and Mr. J.C. Breithaupt, president, and secretary-treasurer of the company respectively, the founder being one of the early town builders, who was interested not only in the welfare of his own business, but also in that of his home town and who, like his sons was deservedly honored by his fellow citizens by being elected to municipal office including head of municipality, namely the Mayor's chair.

A word and a reference in connection with the growth and development of the industry of the company therefore is a natural sequel to the story about present day expansion. Firstly the company has two hundred years of interesting history in the tanning sphere behind it. It is a fact that two hundred generations of families with the name Breithaupt have followed one after the other in pursuing the tanning trade or business.

The late Louis Breithaupt who founded the business came to the town village of Berlin some years before 1857. An American citizen he and his father periodically in those days came up to the hamlet from Buffalo to buy hides. The employer was located in Buffalo. But buying hides in the fifties and sixties was quite different from what it is today. In those pioneer days, when there were few railroads and when the modern means of communication were in their infancy, horse-back and tramping over the trail on foot through forest and swamps, or crude wagons over miles of narrow lanes through the timbered stretches of country were the common ways of travelling between here and Buffalo. And the journey was not made over night as it is today. Weeks were required to go back and forth.

A Tannery Established.
The young tanner came here and went to the pioneer home of timber and hides. There were calf, sheep and in fact all kinds which he purchased and took to Buffalo. And the return trip from Buffalo he brought back leather which was tanned from the hides which had been collected in this way. His venture was a success and soon he opened a little room where now is the office of the president of the company in the big offices on North Queen street. There being free-trade in those years the business kept on growing and in 1857 he entertained the idea of establishing a tannery here and manufacturing leather. Thus was the business launched which has grown from small beginnings to the big proportions of today. His policy of close application to business and the fair treatment of customers was carried out from the beginning and handed down to his progenitors who are at the helm today.

Source of Hides Changed.
Interesting it also is to note that the source of hides in those sixty-two long, yet short, years has changed. Whereas the tanner in the early period bought direct from 'John Brown, who managed to build a homestead and eke out a competence the manufacturer of leather today owing to the increased output following the growth of the country and owing to the changed conditions of trade and international conditions must buy through different channels and from different and widely scattered concentrations of hide-purchasing at points. These raw materials today arrive in big shipments from different corners of the globe. The sources of hides today are South America, South Africa, India, the United States, New Zealand, Australia and various other British colonies besides Canada.

An example of industry.
Such is the transformation in the conditions of sixty years ago and those today! Such is the rock bottom foundation of an industry evergrowing one has sprung, whose asset to the city is what the asset of the little tannery of fifty to sixty years ago was to the little hamlet of the early days! Such is the example of thrift from which the dozen business men and perhaps two score or so of industrious workmen of the early days received an inspiration to build a home town which has made this city a great hive of industry and an important commercial centre! Yes, more than this, it is typical of those men of industry whose efforts account for the old foundations of a great nation, both commercially and humanitarianly.

Bethman-Hollweg Views DISCUSSES THE POSSIBLE TERMS.

Berlin, Jan. 22.—Dr. Von Bethman-Hollweg, German chancellor at the outbreak of the war, has made the following statement to the Associated Press concerning peace questions:

"I am asked what constitutes a peace of justice. I answer gladly. President Wilson has announced an exalted program for the future regulations of international amity and that there shall be an arrangement similar to that which has long been the aim of the policy of all individual states. Just as a constitution guarantees to a citizen in the exercise of his fundamental rights as a human being protection against violence and freedom and integrity of person and property and honor, so the new league of nations shall secure to all states, great or small, those rights which are consequent upon mutual recognition and respect."

"Only if the peace to be concluded is animated by this spirit can it deserve the name of a peace of justice. If the victor exploits the distressed conditions of the conquered, violates his body, compels him to employ his forces of blood and property in enslaved service, he can then, it seems, boast his power, but justice will veil her head and the ideal of a league of nations will sink into dust and ashes under the dominance of a new international Bolshevism."

"What do I think about the di-

Freed from Chronic Pains

To those who are afflicted with the agonies of a chronic aching back, loss of strength, weight and vigor, the case of Mr. P. Herbert of Pleasantville will appeal with special significance.

Mr. Herbert had suffered with Kidney trouble for years and failed to find a prescription that would give him any relief. Finally he tried GIN PILLS because he was impressed by the fact that GIN PILLS contained the beneficial ingredient of Juniper without any Alcohol being added.

Note these extracts from his letter: "I suffered from Kidney trouble for several years, and tried numerous remedies without finding any permanent relief. My case appeared chronic."

I knew that Juniper without alcohol was excellent for the Kidneys, so decided to try GIN PILLS. One single pill gave me great relief, and since taking four boxes, I find myself completely cured. I am no longer bad-tempered, have increased in weight, and am strong and vigorous again."

Here is another case. Mrs. M. B. Gardner, of Richmond, Que., writes: "My husband was taken with severe kidney trouble last winter, and could not work for some time. He heard of GIN PILLS, and after taking one he was able to resume his work. Two boxes relieved the pain in his back, and to-day he is well and strong again."

GIN PILLS help others—surely they will do the same for you. Try them. 50c a box everywhere.

vision of responsibility for the war? "My answer is plain. I have precisely the same opinion to-day which I always have had, and which, as chancellor, I repeatedly expressed in the Reichstag. I have never carried on a spurious propaganda, but have always endeavored to serve the truth."

Dr. Von Bethman-Hollweg admitted in an interview which he gave in Berlin last November, it may be recalled, that the Germans erred in the administration of Alsace-Lorraine and in paying too little heed to pan-German activities. He blamed also what he called a false naval policy and "many deficiencies in international policies."

A Central News dispatch from Paris to-day said it had been definitely learned that President Wilson will return to America on February 15. This is the date generally agreed upon in unofficial advice.
