

The Problem of Selecting Spring Clothes Looms Large at Easter Time

Besides there is the time old custom in vogue every Easter—the donning of the new spring costume and millinery. True enough that in the larger cities Easter Sunday is the "Dress Parade" day of the fashionable world. 'Tis then that Milady arrays herself in all her spring finery and hies herself off to church and the promenade afterward. Although locally the parade does not assume such large proportions, nevertheless in this same city there is the same friendly rivalry prevalent as in the metropolis. The following descriptions of some charming exclusive suits are therefore of interest just now:

Girls' Suit in Pheasant Brown, made up in the pleasant basket weave with grey plaid silk collar coat of kimono sleeve and peplum, moderately flaring from the waist, skirt in plain peg top effect with pleat running down the front and trimmed with three dainty bone buttons, $17.50

Gobelin Blue Suit, coat with yoke effect running from a point high up in the front under the arms and running through to the back, 3/4-length sleeves trimmed with metallic silk, skirt in full peg top with pleat and three buttons down the front, $27.50

Suit of Navy Blue Serge, plain tailored with black check skirt; coat is trimmed with material to match skirt. Price $17.50.

The Three-quarter Length Sleeve Demands Long Gloves

Be sure to have your selections made before Easter. No matter how we try to prepare for your wants there is usually a dearth of size the few days preceding Easter. We have the season's newest productions in our standard makes in stock now.

TRAVELS 1300 MILES TO HIS PRESBYTERY

There are few Presbyterian ministers in the older and more closely settled districts who have to travel thirteen hundred miles from their headquarters to attend a Presbytery meeting. Such is the duty, however, of Mr. C. M. Wright, a Presbyterian Missionary of Prince George, who has to journey to Vancouver for his Presbytery meetings. Mr. Wright goes first east over the Grand Trunk Pacific to Edmonton, and thence by way of Calgary to Vancouver. He might have gone by the old stage route from Prince George to Ashcroft, but he prefers the rail route to hardships of cross country travel in the early spring even though he is compelled to cover thirteen hundred miles by this longer route.

Mr. Wright is enthusiastic about the people who make good. It is the kind of country where one has to be ready to do anything, and the man who is willing to work and wait for the good time that is coming, is the man who succeeds.

"It is a fact worthy of note," continued Mr. Wright, "that we are getting a good class of people. There are problems to be faced as in other prairie towns, and some of them are appalling, but the people as a whole are taking a good stand. There are people belonging to all classes and from every quarter. One may see a college graduate having wood. These are the people who make good. It is the kind of country where one has to be ready to do anything, and the man who is willing to work and wait for the good time that is coming, is the man who succeeds."
