

An Extra Week's Pay

When your Savings Bank Account reaches a reasonable amount the interest begins to tell. One workman, who had a few hundred dollars on deposit, said that the interest seemed like receiving an extra week's pay each year. They all had to start once. Lose no time in making your initial deposit. One dollar starts an account in

TWO QUEER ANIMALS.

But the Hook Tail Bear Put One Over on the Sidhill Creeper. Paul Smith, the famous Adirondack guide and story teller, once met his match. There was an Englishman, supposedly with the proverbial English sense of humor, who wanted to know if one starts after the bear the morning after his arrival he started out with a gun alone. As he left the camp Paul told him to beware of the "side hill creepers?"

"What's a side hill creeper?" asked the Englishman. "Well," said Paul, "it's an animal that lives on the side of a hill, and as its right legs are long and its left legs short it can only run on sloping ground. They are very ferocious, and if one starts after you you must run up or down hill, as on account of its deformity it cannot catch you when you do that."

The Englishman shouldered his gun and went out. About night time he returned. The guide said to him, "Well, I see you dodged the creepers, all right?" "No, I met one," said the Englishman. "Yes?" said Paul. "How did you get away from him?" "I ran uphill," said the Englishman. "You shouldn't have done that. You could make better time running downhill."

"I know it," said the Englishman, "but you see I met a hooked tail bear and I just naturally had to run uphill." "How's that?" asked Paul. "Well, you know when a hooked tail bear gets started running the only way he can stop is by high treening and he can't stop if I had run downhill. I ran uphill why every time he hooked his tail around a tree he just tumbled over backward, and so I got away."

Paul owned himself beaten and when the Englishman left refused to accept any money for his board.—New York Herald.

BURNING WOMEN ALIVE.

A Punishment That Was Abolished in England In 1790. The horrible punishment of burning women alive seems to have existed in Saxon England, but perhaps only in the case of slaves. Under the Norman rulers any woman, bond or free, who killed her husband was burned alive, and the same punishment for this crime was also for high treason and for coining and other minor offenses continued or arose from time to time through the second and third periods until it was abolished by act of parliament in 1790, the last actual execution of this kind having, however, taken place six years earlier.

The whipping of women for various offenses continued even later. Public whipping was not abandoned until 1817, and cases of private whipping occurred as late as 1820.

There can be no doubt, we think, that the savage human instinct of cruelty had something to do with the barbarous punishments above mentioned. As the old Roman public lashed for the crime of the adulteress, so in the flourishing days of the Inquisition, so the lower (perhaps not only the lower) strata of English nationality took delight in witnessing tortures which in all probability were devised and kept up partly for their entertainment. Judge Jeffers in sentencing a woman to be whipped is reported to have said:

"Hangman, I charge you to pay particular attention to this lady. Scourge her until her blood runs down. It is Christmas time, a cold time for mankind to strip. See that you burn her shoulders thoroughly."—Cornhill Magazine.

The Bright Guide. It was a party of visitors seeing the sights in Pittsburgh that finally entered the Patterson factory presented to the city by Mr. Phipps. The curator while showing them around was called away on business and left the visitors in charge of one of the clerks. They came to a beautiful statue which was admired immensely. It was of translucent marble. He pointed out the excellences of the statue, told the name of the sculptor and showed it from every viewpoint. One asked, "Alabaster, isn't it?" "No," he said, "Venus."—Argonaut.

Spanish Women's Hands. The hands of a Spanish woman have a classic beauty, and their movements are incomparable. Such hands cannot be described; they can only be admired. When they manipulate a fan or roll a cigarette, when they raise a skirt or arrange a mantilla, it is always done with infinite grace. A Spanish woman alone knows how to use her hands as they truly should be used.—New York Sun.

A Settler. "Yes," said Mr. Curox earnestly, "but what convinces you that the Duke loves our daughter deeply and devotedly?" "The fact," replied his wife icily, "that he is willing to accept you as a father-in-law."—Washington Star.

Defining a Canard. While—Law, what is a canard? Paw—A canard is when a newspaper prints a statement that a politician who is a friend of the pee-pee has had his pants pressed.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

He Knew. Little Brother: "What's etiquette?" Bigger Brother: "It's saying 'No' to 'thank you' when you want to bother 'Gim-aw'."—Judge.

Electric Restorer for Men. Phosphonol restores every part in the body and gives vitality. Premature decay and sexual weakness averted at once. Phosphonol is a new and improved machinery. Prices right, satisfaction guaranteed, prompt delivery. John H. Hall & Sons, Limited.
