EL PASO, May 10.
The white flag has been hoisted over the barracks where General Navarro and some of his men sought refuge. Juarez was surrendered this afternoon, by General Navarro and the federalists who had made a last stand for two days. The battle resulted in a victory for the revolutionists under General Madero. The victory was not secured without terrible loss of life on the United States side line, as well as on the field of battle. Juarez has been transformed from its usually tranquil appearance, into a mass of ruins. As soon as the white flag was hoisted over the barracks and the surrender was completed, Mexican flags were unfurled on the house tops, and the church bells rung out in celebration.

WASHINGTON, May 10.
The annexation of Canada, instead of Reciprocity, was advocated to-day by Ladd, of Massachusetts, State Grange. At the Senate Finance Committee hearing on the Canadian Reciprocity Bill, Ladd argued against any trade agreement, declaring that it should be by annexation, so that Canada might share the burdens of the States as well as enjoy its benefits. A number of representatives were heard in opposition to the agreement. Hall, Master of the Michigan State Grange, presented written protests against the Bill, in which thousands of democratic and republican farmers pledged themselves never to vote for any one who worked or voted for the agreement.

WASHINGTON, May 10.
Secretary of State Philander Knox, whilst ready to negotiate with Newfoundland for a Reciprocity Treaty, has decided to await action of Congress on the Canadian Bill, before proceeding with what would be a useless task in the event of the Canadian arrangement proving a failure. Pilot Commissioners Hold Meeting.
Yesterday afternoon the Board of Pilot Commissioners met to deal with the question of getting a new pilot boat to replace that lost recently. There were present Hon. John Harris, Messrs. Geo. Shea, R. B. Job and the Harbor Master, Capt. E. English. The Board decided to get a suitable boat for the service as soon as possible and she will be larger and more powerful than the steamer lost. Already the Commissioners have received offers of boats but none was selected. A diver will be sent down to try and recover the engine of the lost boat, and if secured it will be sold by auction and the sum realized will go towards defraying the cost of a new boat.
