The Evening Chit-Chat

By MUR CAMERON

James P. Smith was killed yesterday afternoon in an automobile accident. The accident occurred when Mr. Smith turned suddenly to avoid a pedestrian, who had stepped directly in front of the machine. The automobile crashed into a telegraph pole and Mr. Smith was instantly killed. Mr. Smith has a reputation as a very careful driver and witnesses say he was driving very slowly at the time of the accident. One hears much all over the country nowadays about reckless driving. There are two sides to every question. What about "reckless walking"?

The above paragraph which I clipped from a morning paper, suggests the following hints for pedestrians—

In crossing a street always, look straight ahead, up at the sky or down at your feet, but never by any chance to the right or left.

If you are trundling a baby carriage, always select a very crowded crossing to cross upon. Stand a moment or two upon the crossing, as if deliberating whether to embark or not, while all the drivers and chauffeurs are watching you anxiously, and then, with the utmost deliberation you are capable of, and the most nonchalant indifference to your surroundings, make the passage.

If you meet an acquaintance in the middle of the road by all means stop right there and have a quiet little friendly chat with him or her. Under no circumstances bother to step up on the sidewalk.

If you step out of a trolley car never look about you, but assuming that the street must, of course, be perfectly cleared in honor of your arrival, start at once to the sidewalk.

When waiting for a trolley car, it is always preferable to stand squarely in the middle of the road. You might miss it if you waited on the sidewalk.

If you are a small boy, whenever you see an automobile coming, run across the road in front of it to see just how close you can come to being run over, without quite doing it. If you miscalculate by any chance you will have a new revenge on the automobilist, as your parents can collect damages from him and he may even be held for manslaughter.

Whoever and whatever you are, regard all automobilists and drivers as your natural enemies, and in so far as you can without too much peril to your own skin, get in their way and hamper and annoy them. I have entitled these few suggestions "hints" for pedestrians. I see many folly. A word to the wise is sufficient; a hint to most pedestrians is superfluous.

Fortune Telling

Does not take into consideration the one essential to woman's happiness—womanly health. The woman who neglects her health is neglecting the very foundation of all good fortune. For without health love loses its lustre and gold is but dross. Womanly health when lost or impaired may generally be regained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This Prescription has, for over 30 years, been curing delicate, weak, pain-racked women, by the hundreds of thousands, and this too in the privacy of their homes without their having to submit to indelicate questionings and offensively repugnant examinations.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free. All correspondence held as strictly confidential. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

DR. PIERCE'S GREAT FAMILY DOCTOR BOOK, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, newly revised up-to-date edition—1000 pages, answers in Plain English hosts of delicate questions which every woman, single or married, ought to know about. Sent free, in plain wrapper to any address on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only, or in cloth binding for 50 stamps.

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

Sundry highbrows are denouncing rag time hymns the people sing; after getting such a trouncing they will fade like everything! All our anthems should be stately, so the angry highbrows shriek; but it RAG TIME seems to me they're greatly off their trolley, so to speak. HYMNS Underneath the roof and steeple, where the hymnbook music roils, there are divers kinds of people, all varieties of souls. Some prefer a solemn measure, grand, majestic, noble, strong; others get a greater pleasure from the slap-bang kind of song. Let the hymn be swift and swinging if some lifting thought it starts; what's the odds what hymn were singing if it moves the people's hearts? Let who will go worship Milton and his harp that flashes fire; let who will prefer the lilting of a jorous rag time lyre!

If it is desired to have a veil a little stiff after it is washed, it can be accomplished by having a tiny bit of sugar in the rinsing water. Then stretch the veil in a doorway where it can dry in a free current of air.

Household Notes.

If the cake flavoring has been forgotten when making the batter try sprinkling the required amount over the cake as it stands in the pan before baking.

For burns or scalds nothing is more soothing than the white of egg which may be poured over the wound. It is softer as a varnish for a burn than colloidion.

It is very easy to make a new parol of an old one by carefully slipping off the old cloth and using it as a pattern to cut a new one, which may be made either of cretonne or English chintz.

A common horseshoe magnet, that costs but a few cents, should always be kept in the sewing machine, as it is useful to pick out needles from the machine drawers.

To clean gilt, try touching it up a little at a time with a camel's hair brush wet in alcohol. Don't let it dry, but rub off with a flannel, which should be changed frequently.

Fancy work laid away for the winter should be rinsed in very blue water and dried, but not ironed. If the pieces are placed in black or blue wrapping paper they will not turn yellow.

Clothes will not dry out so quickly if sprinkled and packed in a tin boiler the night before ironing day. They should be packed as tight as possible and the top placed on the boiler.

After washing lace curtains, lay a blanket on the floor of an empty room, spread the curtains on the blanket, stretching them carefully, and they will keep in place without fastening until dry.

After washing woolen socks, dry them on frames to prevent them shrinking. They should be washed in warm suds of white soap, with a little borax added, but should not be rubbed on a board.

It is well when bleaching a piece of lace or linen to place it in soapy water and set it out of doors where it may get strong sunlight. It should be covered with a piece of glass to keep the dust out of the bowl.

To remove kerosene from the carpet, apply buckwheat flour, let it remain for a few hours and then make a second application, which, after a few hours more, should be brushed off. The spot will have disappeared.

To fix a "loose" knife handle to the blade, fill the hole in the handle two-thirds full of mixed rosin and brick-dust. Then heat the shaft of the knife and while hot press into place. Hold it there until quite firmly set.

For a dainty and easily made dessert try slicing oranges and sprinkling a layer of the fruit with grated or shredded fresh coconut. Let it stand half an hour before serving. Sugar may be added if the oranges are not sweet.

Dies Cleaning Sweater

Flames Ignited From Stove Set Her Clothes on Fire.

Boston, Nov. 28.—Mrs. Petronas Sampson, 27 years old, wife of Michael Sampson, South Boston, was burned to death yesterday afternoon while alone in the kitchen of her home. It is supposed she was cleaning a sweater and was using either gasoline or naphtha. It is thought death was almost instantaneous.

It is believed she was near the stove and that the fumes of the cleansing liquid were ignited by the live coals.

Her screams started other women who live in the same house, and they ran in and found Mrs. Sampson effane. They threw a rug over her and poured on water until the fire was put out.

Fifteen minutes after the woman's death her 5 year old son ran into the house calling "Mamma! Mamma!" Mr. Sampson works in the sugar refinery.

ALL DRUGGISTS

The Shortall Case.

Up to last night the police had no further information as to the Shortall stabbing case as the man who is hurt has no recollection of what occurred to him. He woke up, he says, in a shed in which all the windows were out, he became very sick and then discovered that he was bleeding from a wound in his side below the ribs. The police are now strongly inclined to the belief that the man while drunk went to this shed and falling asleep lay on a broken bottle which cut through his clothing and penetrated the flesh. The Norwegian blacksmith now under arrest in connection with the affair, was a "bunk mate" of Shortall's all summer on the whaler Port Saunders, and both men were on the most friendly terms. They had a few drinks together on Monday afternoon and parted in amity. The Norwegian was greatly surprised when he heard of what he was suspected and indignantly denied the commission of any such act.
