In candad there is a friendly rivality among the larger clies to secure a visit from these eminent people, who come from all parts of the Dominion, and who in every case, have had the freedom of the city conferred upon them. Last year, when the Newfoundland delegates urged the claims of St. John's, they found themselves in condite with such prominent cities as Ottawa and Hamilton. Members of the Assodation here, therefore, have recognized that it is up to them to make the visit at memorable one, and they have been untiring in their efforts to arrange for the proper entertainment of the distinguished visitors. Just as soon as they touch our shores they will become the guests of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Newfoundland, and will continue so until they get through with the important business that calls them together and say farcwell.

REV. DR. POWELL AT GEORGE

the service on Sunday morning was in the basement of the Church. Rev. Dr. Powell, a worthy son of the old soil, who is here on a visit from the States, where he has for several years been doing very faithful and successful service in the Christian ministry, delivered the sermon on sanday morning and was heard with enraptured attention. All men can-not be the same in their individuality, not be the same in their individuality, and in their gifts and qualifications, and it is not doing violence to Christian ethics to say that Dr. Powell will have to hold himself responsible for the proper use of some of the best and most essential elements which he appears so richly to enjoy. There was enough of oratory and real elements in his remarks on this occawas enough of oratory and real eloquence in his remarks on this occasion to fascinate and enrich the minds of the best thinkers and enough of simplicity to please and edify the younger portion of the large congresation in attendance. The basis of Dr. Powell's remarks was "The Lord blessed the latter end of Job more than the beginning." The discourse was very helpful to Christian people. There was an encouraging and optimistic vein running through it and where words would have been inharmonious the smile of grateful approval shone out from many bright faces in the audience. The Doctor's illustrations were pertinent and penetrating and his deductions were clear comprehensive and convincing, and in his climaxes he displayed an aptitude for using to advantage the very precious giff which not only very precious gift which not only sways the multitude but touches and thrills the best instincts in our mor-al nature, leading on to achievements hat otherwise could never be accom-lished. DOCTOR POWELL AT WESLEY In the evening, Dr. Powell officia-ted at Wesley Church with a crowded congregation before him. His text on this occasion was Acts 10.44. The on this occasion was Acts 10.44. The Holy Spirit as the indispensible subject comprised the offices of the agency to give life and light and inspiration to the Christian Church and to all Christian organizations to-day. The learned and enthusiastic doctor showed in an exhaustive discourse that science, in its most ingenious and prolonged research had absolutely falled to produce life by any means possible to human thought and were driven back to the unassallable truth that all life proceeds from some antecedent or primordial first cause and that cause is God. The description of humanity in the Holy Scriptures is most deplorable—we are

PARIS, To-day.

The Chamber of Deputies concluded the debate on the measure which is France's reply to Germany to increase armaments by passing a three years military service bill. Vote was 358 to 204. The Bill provides for a three year's term of service in all branches of the army instead of two hitherto, and will add 210,000 men at the lowest estimate to the peace footing of the army which now stands at 578,783, excluding officers. One clause provides the term of service shall begin at the age of twenty.

LONDON, To-day.
Telegraphing from Sofia the Sunday evening correspondent of the Mail says: "The crisis has arrived, thirty thousand Roumanian troops have reached Orachimbi Etropol within forty miles of Sofia. Enver Bey, head of the Turkish cavalry, arrived at Adrianople where the Bulgarian garrison of two thousand received orders not to resist the Turks. The Turkish troops entered Adrianople after a brief conflict with the Bulgarian garrison, says a Sofia dispatch to the Times the Basha Bazouks burning and pillaging and committing atrocities.

It was thought she had been placed under arrest last night, but it was another woman impersonating Mrs. Pankburst whom the police captured in a taxi-cab and took part a way to Scotland Yard, then they discovered the mistake and liberated the prisoner. It was thought at first the whole affair was a hoax but it developed into a well laid scheme, whereby Mrs. Pankburst could escape from her flat by another passage while her impersonator was luring away the police. They believed she got away safely during the melee.

met simultaneously in Atalanta. They represented 2,000,000 members and 8.000.000 adherents.

One of the most dramatic incidents was the election of Dr. John Timothy Stone, of Chicago, as Moderator of the Northern Assembly.

"It also was a terrible rebuke of political dealing," says Dr. Charles Stelzle in the New York Outlook. "It doesn't really matter whether the friends of the other candidates were guilty of playing politics or not the guilty of playing politics or not—the candidates themselves surely had nothing to do with the business. The Commissioners had evidently become impressed with the feeling that there had been a deliberate frame-up on somebody's part to elect a Moderator through machine methods. When Dr. Stone's name was suggested in the most unusual manner in which it was, that settled it—there was a stampede toward big, honest John Stone that toward big, honest John Stone that was irresistible.

"Four candidates had been presented; their names had been hurled back and forth for many months in the newspapers and in the personal discussions. Everybody thought that the list had been completed, and everybody was getting ready to vote. Then the thing happened. Dr. W. R. King, of Monmointh, Illinois, whom few in the Assembly knew, and whose name was scarcely heard as the Moderator presented him, began in a very unusual way to place a candidate in nomination. 'I shall present the name of a man who does not know that he is to be nominated, he said. Good joke, thought the Commissioners, and they laughed. 'There isn't a man in the entire Assembly, excepting myself, who knows whom I am to nominate,' who knows whom I am to nominate,' King continued. This was rich. Who had ever heard of such simplicity and such a faith in a Providence that could direct the election of a Moderator without having the thing set up by expert politicians? And the Assembly laughed some more. 'This man has no claim upon the assembly.' Remarkable!
