Harbor Grace Notes

The annual State Convention of the Knights of Columbus was held here on Sunday and Monday, and was attended by a large number of delegates from the Councils at St. John's, Bell Island, Grand Falls, Bay Roberts and other places. The election of officers for the chairmanship of Past State Deputy C. J. Cahill resulted as follows:

State Deputy—W. T. Jones (Avalon Council).

State Secretary—J. G. Higgins (St. John's Council).

State Treasurer—W. S. Madigan (St. John's Council).

State Advocate—W. H. Kennedy (St. John's Council).

State Warden—A. Duggan (St. John's Council).

State Chaplain—Rev. J. J. McGrath, P.P. (Conception Council).

On Sunday evening Dalton Council, assisted by the Dalton Ladies' Association, entertained the delegates at dinner in the Dalton Clubhouse.

"At Home" was held in the Academy Hall on Monday night, which was largely attended and proved most enjoyable.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Thomson Boat and Shoe Co., Ltd., held at the office of the Company on Wednesday, 26th inst., the following officers were appointed:

President—W. S. Madigan.

Vice-President—Hon. J. R. Bennett.

Secretary—M. P. Stapleton.

Treasurer—A. R. Thomson, much success.

Mr. W. J. Mylius left here on Thursday last for St. John's to connect with the "Digby" en route to his home in England. Mr. Mylius has completed his three year period of work with the Imperial Cable Service Co., and is now returning to resume duty in the Mother Country. He has many friends here who will follow him in the future.

Amongst those to spend Empire Day and the holiday in town were: Mr. A. and Mrs. O'Brien, Miss G. M. Russell, of Bay Roberts; Messrs. Irene Willis, Isaac Dwyer; Messrs. C. L.

Nosworthy and S. Stowe of St. John's.

Mr. A. T. Walsh, former Principal of the R. C. Academy, who is now studying law at Dalhousie University, has been in town recently. His many friends here were pleased to see him again.

Miss Queenie Hinton, who has been attending College at Sackville, N.S., arrived here during last week.

Mr. Herbert Butt, who is studying at McGill, arrived here by Monday's train to spend the vacation at home.

Miss Rita Parsons, Teacher at the Methodist School, Bay Roberts, spent the week-end here with her mother, Mrs. R. S. Parsons, and returned by Tuesday morning's train. Her sister, Clarice, Teacher at the Methodist Orphanage, St. John's, was also here to spend Empire Day and returned to the city on Monday afternoon.

Hon. F. McNamara, St. John's; and Messrs. C. A. Jerritt, "Brigus," and Robert Duff, M.H.A., Carbonear, were in town on Tuesday to attend a meeting of the Maritime Railway Dock Co., which was held in the office of the Company on that afternoon.

Miss M. Diamond, Teacher of the Methodist School here, spent last week-end at Bay Roberts, and returned by Monday night's train.

The many friends here of the late Mrs. Ernest Coffin (nee Miss Elsie Telford) learned with profound regret of her sudden passing, which occurred at her home, St. John's, on Saturday last. She was a Harbor Grace, being a daughter of our respected townsman, Robert Telford. We extend to the family in their sudden bereavement our sincerest sympathy.

Mr. M. F. Hayes went to St. John's on Friday last for a brief visit.

S.S. Prospero arrived here on Wednesday en route to Labrador and took on board passengers and a quantity of freight. She left port again after a short stay.

Schooners "Elmira," "Exotic," "Laura" and "Baden Powell" have been docked here within the last few days.—COR.

SIDE TALKS.

By Ruth Cameron.

THE KISSING MAN.

"Is there, anything so painful and so ridiculous and at the same time so pathetic as the kitchiness of a woman approaching middle age?" a woman said to me the other day. After we had both been half amused, half embarrassed spectators of an exhibition of kitchiness by a matron some-where around 44 in years and the same in bulk.

And I said: "Yes, one other thing. The silliness of a middle-aged man."

"Save Me From The Kissing Bag."

"Heaven keep me from getting kitchiness," is a prayer I have recommended to every woman who is approaching this dangerous age. And "Heaven keep me from getting silly about girls or being bitten by the kissing bug," would be a companion prayer for the man approaching middle age.

Most of us know some examples of this type of man. He simply adores being with young girls. Not just to admire them just as we all admire charming young things like birches, and kittens, and girls. But so that he can act coquettish with them, jolly them, pretend to be one of the crowd.

His middle aged flirtations with his daughter's friends are quite as ridiculous as the middle aged woman's attempts to be kitchiness.

Anything Female.

And he simply adores kissing. Preferably young girls, of course, but in case they are not to be had, anything female.

Any relationship, however distant (in fact the more distant the better) is a legitimate justification in his mind for kissing. The cousins, the nieces-in-law, the cousins-in-law, the step aunt's daughter-in-law, all are hailed and sped with a kiss whenever they come to the house, provided they will stand for it.

And he also thinks it is very smart and, unsophisticated to daintily offer casual kisses to the totally unrelated.

For instance, he kisses his wife, good-bye, and the young visitor (not on his regular kissing list) says: "What a devoted husband, I wish my husband remembered to kiss me every morning." Whereat he says: "Suppose I do it for him," and proceeds to—unless checked.

A Mustachy Kiss.

Or the coquettish middle aged friend on being asked if she had a good time on the motor trip, says: "How could we help it when we had Mr. Somes at the wheel. I really think he is the best driver I ever rode with." Whereat Mr. Somes expresses his pleasure at the compliment by stooping over the lady and implanting a mustachy kiss to the accompaniment of her shrieks of protest.

It is rather ridiculous to see even young people being silly and sentimental in public. But we can forgive much in young lovers. We do not extend the same sympathy and amnesty to the folks of the middle aged.
