New Stores, without a doubt, are the best, brightest and most cheerful stores in the city. Open evenings during Fair week.

Where to Buy

has grown to be the important question. You know where this store stands—staunchly, unmovably, for quality and price. And so long as we invite your patronage we guarantee the very lowest prices possible to quote for qualities that are safe to buy—that are worthy of your consider tion.

No store is more fortunately positioned, no store has a fuller command of the market—and these advantages are plainly manifest in our selling. We own two of the stores we occupy, therefore we have little rent to pay. We pay cash for all our goods; take all discounts. We buy as very few can buy, therefore we are in a position to give our patrons every possible advantage when buying from us, as the past has clearly proven.

WE HAVE OPENED OUT TODAY one case of beautiful English Victoria Lawns, 45 inches wide. Our price for these fine goods will be-

We are showing some very pretty designs in Felt Hats, which it would be well for you to see. Our prices are right, as

Mr. John Tweed: "The Lord's Day Alliance receives and adopts the report of the executive committee, approves of the action taken by the executive during the period covered by the report in promoting the objects of the alliance; expresses satisfaction with the measure passed by the Legislature of Ontario at its last session, forbidding all electric or radial ailways which may yet be constructed from running on the Lord's day. lliance expresses deep regret at the ecision of the attorney-general of Ontario declining to bear the cost in whole or in part of an appeal to the privy council in the case of the Hamton Street Railway with the view of Day Act in some of its essential fea-

Bishop Baldwin, of London, spoke at the evening meeting. He said the Sabbath day did not mean a day of rest n the sense of mere cessation from abor. It is a day on which the world ow at the feet of God. France, said the bishop, sought to dishonor God, and as a result foreign armies stacked their guns in the Place de la Concorde. The remainder of the ime of the congress was mainly ocipied with reaffirming time honored esolutions expressing, as the Morning Post says, "pious opinions of little value in practical life." Even the Daily Chronicle says: "We suppose there is Meath, has written in reference to the nothing for it to do, pending a political so-called Paris fund, particularly that revival, but to go on passing the same good old resolutions." that the future of the Soudan cannot belong to the caprice of British diplomacy, has not attracted half the attention it deserves. The Temps is the only newspaper at this moment in France which can be regarded as inspired. It is practically the organ of the foreign office. Either by accident or design, the Temps' remarks about the Soudan were followed almost immediately by the announcement that French expeditions, which were making for the Upper Nile re-gion from different directions, had ed hands and were now doubtless stalled on the great river itself. In ome quarters the impression prevails the Anglo-Egyptian army will and the French flag flying at Khartoum if the advance beyond Berber is deayed till next year. That would con-titute a casus belli, for England over and over again has told the powers that the Soudan, though temporarily that the Soudan, though temporarily abandoned to the dervishes, never has been relinquished by her protege, Egypt, which reserved to itself the task of reconquering the country whenever the moment seemed oppor-tune. There is not the slightest reaon to doubt that if Gen. Kitchener uld find the French flag flying at should find the French hag hying at Khartoum he would promptly pull it down. Such a contingency is remote, however. The row between France and Great Britain is much more likely and Great Britain is much more likely to commence over the disputed boundaries of the Upper Niger region of West Central Africa. Newspaper readers are well aware that long ago the French diverted the trade, heretofore a British inonopoly, to their own Senegal, and occupied territory recognized as British by the Anglo-French convention of 1890.
