PHILIP POCOCK PLAYS HOST TO 7TH OFFICERS

Military Training in Canada.

MUST BE PREPARED

Major Eric Reid, Commanding Unit, Says Overseas Officers Get Preference.

The old and new officers of the 7th Regiment were tendered a banquet by Philip Pocock at the Tecumseh House on Tuesday evening. It was the first occasion on which the men who inaugurated the regiment and the newlyappointed officers had met. Major G. Eric Reid, D. S. New Eight-Room School in Southeast Section Is Contemplated.

That immediate action will be taken to supply adequate public school accommodation for the city was indicated by discussion of the matter at the inaugural meeting of No. 2 committee of the board of education Tuesday afternoon. Trustee Edwin Smith, chairman of the committee; Harry Hayman, chairman of the board, and Architect L. E. Carrothers were appointed to inspect the schools at which changes are suggested and Mr. Carrothers will get estimates of the cost, to be presented at a special committee meeting next Tuesday.

The general additions considered by the committee are: Six rooms to Worthal

Major Hume Cronyn, M. P., responding to the toast "Canada," proposed by Major Gordon Ingram, said that the people in the future would realize the full value of a militiar regiment. The new officers, he said, had a wealth of experience, and with youth the people in the future would realize the full value of a militiar regiment. The new officers, he said, had a wealth of experience, and with youth the force of character.

Major Cronyn dwelt at length on the wonderful resources of the Dominion, and expressed the belief that well-trained militiar regiments meant much in the future welfare of the country. He paid high tribute to Philip Pocock, who, he said, had given much to the city, may not be built, Chairman Hayman being of the opinion that the cromany said, more men of the country said that Canada was the people door of opportunity. PROGRAM AT GRAND IS EVEN MORE THAN USUALLY EXCELLENT

Includes Marguerite Clarke in "Widow by Proxy," Chaplin and Vaudeville.

Marguerite Clark in "A Widow by Proxy," Charlie Chaplin in "A Day's Pleasure" and a vaudeville act such has not visited a London theatre in a long time completes a high-class bill in every detaff at the Grand Theatre this week.

Marguerite Clark, starring in a new Paramount Arteraft picture, is a "scream" from start to finish. She plays the role of a wideawake young bachelor girl masquerading as a widow in order to coliect a legacy for a girl chum, whose husband is reported missing in France, and who herself is too proud to secure the money from her snobbisn relatives.

When her deception threatens to shatter her own budding romance with the supposedly dead husband's brother, the alleged widow is sorely tried, but a edligntful surprise straightens matters out. Nigel Barrie is Miss Clark's leading man and a notable cast assists in making "The Widow by Proxy" a creen comedy of the rollicking type for which Marguerite Clark is a famous.

Charlie Chaplin, as usual, throws the audience into screams of laughter in "A Day's Pleasure." Charlie's troubles begin when he attempts to crank the family car, a remnant of the dark ages. Charlie gets into all sorts of trouble at a busy street crossing, and his antics with the "traffic cop" provide 30 minutes of laughter.

An excellent review in colors is also a feature of this bill.

The vaudeville act is provided by the Navassar Girls, exponents of instrumental music conducted.

a feature of this bill.

The vaudeville act is provided by the Navassar Girls, exponents of instrumental music, conducted by Miss Augusta Dial, and featuring; Miss Hall, flautist; Miss Powers, violin virtuoso, and Miss Van Atta, cornet soloist. These clever and talented young ladies offer a delightful 20 minutes of popular and classical selections. It is an act that will unquestionably prove a rare treat to all lovers of good music. This act will be presented at the Grand today for the last time. A VICTROLA FOR 1920.

The opportunity is yours to get what-ever you may want in a Victrola, and what better company in the home in this new year than the Victrola, and an assortment of timely records. The choice comes from a small-sized Victrola to something that is really sumptuous in its construction. Some very beautiful Victrola instruments are made these days. These you will find attractively displayed in the handsome Victrola Parlors of Ye Olde Firme of Heintzman & Co., Limited, 242 Dundas street, London.

My heart would palpitate something awful, and it was with the greatest difficulty I could get my breath. My nerves were in such bad condition the least little noise out of the ordinary or any little excitement would completely upset me. It was utterly impossible for me to get a good night's sleep and every morning of my life would wake up terribly nauseated and would nearly faint away. I was so weak and rundown all the time my husband had to wait on me and take care of me just like I was a child. I had : headache all the time, and at times it was so bad I would nearly go distracted.
