REGATTA COURSE. New Longon, Conn. June 24.—The Yale 'Varsity crew won the annual boat race from her ancient rival, Harvard, today in her adeent rival that has ever been waged over the historic Thames course.

Harvard led the way over the first three miles, with Yale but a scant half length behind. Do what she could. Harvard could not throw off her adversary, and gradually Yale forced the bow of her shell ahead of the Crimson craft, and gained a lead of about a length. Harvard spurted with all her ebbing reserve, and cut down Yale's lead to half a boat length, but the mens from New Haven held to their task, and swept over the finish line 31-5 $\psi$ onds ahead of Harvard. The official time was: Yale 20:41; Harvard, 20:441-5.

Brantford Expositor Baseball is a funny game. The is e fans want to see heavy hitting—by the home team—and want to see the Brants pull through with a win. But as soon as the game was "on ice" last night, a number of them got up and came away. The explanation is simple—in Brantford. If a 1.1 gets through the fence for nothing, is doesn't care how much basebal he sees.
