He has preached before cultured authe Rocky Mountains, and his utin much request at the moment. The state of trade in wholesale departments at Toronto is practically unchanged. Travelers were in for the holiday on Thursday, and the mild weather of the first part of the week was not conducive to a large trade. The feeling with regard to the future is not as confiedent as a short time ago. Lower prices for wheat and the large number of fallures throughout the country are creating a more cautious feeling. The bank statement for October, however, shows an increase of $4,000,000 in current discounts to the public, and an increase of nearly $2,000,000 in note circulation, the total circulation of paper money being more large than on Oct. 31, 1894. Prices of gentral merchandise are, as a rule, unchanged this week, cotton and wool en goods are firm, as are also hard-ware and metals. The leather trade is still very slow, and prices of hides have again been reduced 1-2 cent, making No. 1 green now 5 1-2 cents. n in the line of progress and liber-

"At this time I consuited several physicians. One said I was run down, another said I had chronic indigestion but this I do know, that with all the prescriptions which they gave me was not improving; for in addition that prescriptions which they gave me was not improving; for in addition that prescriptions which they gave me was not improving; for in addition that prescriptions which they gave me was not improving; for in addition that prescriptions which they gave me was not improving; for in addition that prescriptions which they gave me was not improving; for in addition that it is one of the strongest and one of the strongest and most interesting collections of water of things and was daily becoming worse and felt that I should soon become a confirmed invalid if I did not soon understand my complishing, and was almost affail to walk across my room. rest from all mental work. In fact, I was already unable to take any duty for the reason that the feeling of complete prostration after the least exertion precluded me from any duty whatever, and it appeared to my mind that I was very near being a perfect wreck. As for taking absolute rest, I could not take more than I did unless it was so absolute as to rest in the grave. Then it would have been absolute enough.

"It is now quite three years since, in addition to all the pains and penalties which I endured, I found creeping upon me a peculiar numbness of the left limbs, and in fact could not walk knout. If I tried to walk I had to drag the left foot along the ground. The power of locomotion seemed to be gone, and I was consoled with the information that it was partial paralysis. Whether it was or not I do not know, but this I do know, I could not walk about and I began to think my second childhood had commenced at the age of 41 years.

"Just about two years ago or a little more, a ministerial friend came to see me. I was sick in bed and could hardly move, and he was something like ald Job's comforter, although not quite. He had much regret and commiseration, which was a very poor balm for old Job's comforter, although not quite. He had much regret and commiseration, which was a very poor baim for a sick man. But the best thing he did say was this: 'Did you ever see Pink Pills?' I said 'Who in the world is he?' He said, 'Why do you not try Pink Pills?' He said good-bye very affectionately, so much so that doubtless he thought it was the last farewell. Nevertheless, after thinking a little, I just came to the conclusion that I would make an innovation and less he thought it was the last farewell. Nevertheless, after thinking a little, I just came to the conclusion that I would make an innovation and see what Pink Pilis would do. I looked at them, and I said. Can any good possibly come out of those little pink things? Anyway, I would see. I was suspicious of Pink Pilis, and I remembered the old proverb: Sospetto licentia fede, suspicion is the pass-port to faith. So Pink Pilis I obtained and Pink Pilis I swallowed. But one box of them did not cure me, nor did I are militor or more of the public was a swell as a consideration.

I shall always wish and desire the greatest success for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and always cherish a deep feeling of gratitude to the friend who first said to me: Buy Pink Pills.
