WANTING SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

(Annapolis Spectator) The Middleton Outlook has a lengthy and sensible editorial about the requests it gets for free publicity, concluding with the suggestion that the newspapers should get together to make a stand against giving free space in such matters. No necessity for any association in this matter, the editor writes, the only thing necessary for each paper to act on its own initiative and "turn 'em down." The Spectator gets enough of this stuff every day to light two fires with every morning, but has found that it doesn't lose any vast amount of revenue by declining to hand out free tickets to space sponsors. In some cases the articles sent for insertion have been returned with an offer to print them at cost of production, but so very few of such offers are accepted that it is seldom worth while bothering to make the offers. It does seem curious, however, that it is the country publisher (who has the hardest work to make ends meet) who is most pestered with these parasites. In a city the people are well trained to know that if they want newspaper publicity they have to pay for it, yet it is most often city people who try to impose upon country publishers.

THE COUNTRY PAPER

(Hamilton Spectator) The old chap who writes these Musings spent over 40 years as the owner of a country newspaper, and naturally he has great sympathy for the boys who are now trying to struggle along and keep out of the sheriff's hands in these days of the high cost of living. It is a question at times whether the country editor who think they are conferring a great favor on him by paying him a dollar and a half or two dollars a year for the weekly visits of his paper, or whether they know how cheap they are selling goods, even in these over the top times. Do they ever think that the home paper gives each year from $500 to $1,000 in free advertising to the community in which it is published. The editor, in proportion to his means, does more for the town in which he lives than any other dozen men, and in all fairness he ought to be supported—not because you like him or admire the interesting way in which he tells the current history of the town. Is there a child born has Johnny or Jenny developed as a scholar in literature or music, is there a wedding in the family, or sad to tell, is there a death, who is it that can so kindly tell the story as the country editor? The Bugle Horn of Liberty may not be brilliantly edited or crowded with high falutin thought, but financially it is of more benefit to the community than the preacher or the teacher. Understand me, I do not mean mentally yet on moral questions you will find most of the papers, in city or country, on the right side. Today the editors of city and country papers do the most for the least money in the community in which they are published of any people on earth.

THE ROMANCE OF AN INDUSTRY

The Great Industrial Show Place in Canada Most visitors to the Border Cities usually make a point of visiting the plant of the Ford Motor Company, of Canada, Limited, which is today one of the great industrial show places of Canada. Few of them are aware, however, of the romantic rise of this huge concern which is today the factory with the largest automobile output within the British Empire. In the year 1903 a modest building housed the works of the Walkerville Wagon Company, so modest and unpretentious in fact was this building that the general manager, Gordon McGregor, could, if he so desired, walk around his shop in two minutes by the factory clock. The acre of land which was formerly occupied by the Wagon Company is now swallowed up by a building six stories high, covering over 9 acres of ground and having a total floor space of 498,389 square feet. There are also eight Branches in Canada with a floor space of over 887,574 square feet. At the present time the Home Office Factory employs number 3,509, besides which there is the office staff of 231. To these must be added the factory and office employees of the Branches totalling 650 persons, making a total of over 4,200. It is conservatively estimated that the number of people in Canadian firms who are directly or indirectly kept busy by the demands of this Company for material and finished products is upwards of 35,000. The Ford employees are the highest paid automobile mechanics in the Empire, the minimum wage being $5.00 per day, and over 70% of the men employed own their own homes. The power in the original factory was derived from a 75 h. p. engine but today the wonderful combination of gas and steam engines in the power house have a total capacity of 7,500 horse power. The first piece of machinery installed in the old factory was a solitary drill press. Now the machine shop presents a bewildering and seemingly endless forest of whirling belts, revolving wheels, flying cranks and spinning shafts. Here are machines designed by the Ford engineers which are marvels of the industrial world. One of such machines will mill 15 cylinder castings at one time. A giant punch press weighing 115,000 pounds with a 900 ton squeeze will form a crank case out of cold steel by one stroke while several other presses equally massive finish the operation. Other machines seemingly possessed of almost human intelligence pick up various parts with metal fingers and convey them to ingenious cutting, drilling and threading devices. Others again need only to be fed with a raw metal to carry out the entire operation and hand out the finished product. Yet in the seeming riot of these steel monsters, and amidst the crash of the ponderous presses and the roaring and screaming of the multitudinous machines, there is no confusion, no lost motion, everything has been reduced to a science. Since the humble beginning with that solitary drill press, the Company have manufactured and marketed 250,000 cars, and at the present time they are being turned out at the rate of over 250 per day. The most recent progressive step of the Company was the acquisition of the Dominion Forge and Stamping Company's plant for the manufacture of automobile fenders, which will mean an addition of close on 200 men to the number of employees. With eight flourishing Canadian Branches, 700 dealers and over 2,300 service stations, the Company has every reason to be proud of the part it has played in the industrial life of the Dominion.

YOUNG WOMEN AVOID PAIN

This One Tells How She Was Benefited by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Regina, Sask.—"For two years I suffered from periodic pains and nausea so I was unable to get around. My mother had me take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am much better and able to go about all the time, which I could not do before. I recommend Vegetable Compound to my friends if I know they suffer the same way, and you may publish my letter if it will help any one, as I hope it will."—Miss Z. G. BLACKWELL, 2013 Oiler Place, Regina, Sask. If every girl who suffers as Miss Blackwell did, or from irregularities, painful periods, backache, headache, dragging down pains, inflammation or ulceration would only give this famous root and herb remedy a trial they would soon find relief from such suffering. It hardly seems possible that there is a woman in this country who will continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, proving beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other medicine in the world. For special advice women are asked to write the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of forty years experience is at your service.

LIFT CORNS OR CALLUSES OFF

Doesn't hurt! Lift any corn or callus off with fingers

Don't suffer! A tiny bottle of Frezzone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops on the corns and calluses and "hard skin" on bottom of feet, then lift them off. When Frezzone removes corns from the toes or calluses from the bottom of feet, the skin beneath is left pink and healthy and never sore, tender or irritated.

NOT USING THE SAME ENERGY

The Digby Courier says: The churches, having successfully put over the financial part of their Forward Movement are now trying to work out a spiritual advancement—but it seems to me they are not putting the same energy into it that they did when dollars and cents—and not souls—were the objective. They had canvassers (and good ones, too) out for the money; why wasn't the same method kept up for the other objective? There are dozens of families which never have a representative in a church and never send a child to Sunday School. Canvassers could reach these homes, find out what was wanted in clothing or any other of the physical wants and could possibly make church goers out of them. The prayer meetings and special services only reach those who are already church goers. Under the circumstances they may deepen the spiritual life but they do not extend it into new homes and sections.

FARMERS AGAINST DAYLIGHT SAVING

FREDERICTON, March 18.—The New Brunswick Farmers and Dairy-men's Association passed a resolution unanimously this morning protesting against the adoption of daylight saving time or any other than the present time, upon the grounds that confusion was caused thereby and productions would be curtailed. The morning session was the final one of the convention, which has been in progress here all week, and the delegates are spending the rest of the day in the Dominion Experimental Station. H. H. Mars, of Rothesay, was elected president and the report of M. A. McLeod, Superintendent of Agricultural Societies, showed a total of 154 Societies in New Brunswick, with 10,280 members.

MARRIED TWENTY YEARS

On the evening of March 15th about fifty guests gathered at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Armstrong, Mt. Hanley, to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of their wedding. They were married on March 14th 1900. Owing to the effect of the recent heavy thaw, and the condition of the roads many of the friends were unable to be present. A very enjoyable evening was spent. In pleasant conversation and gay repartee the time passed all too quickly. At 9 o'clock a bountiful supper was served, the richness and variety of which seemed like a challenge to the high cost of living. Our higher tastes were gratified by some music. Closing with the singing of God be with you till We Meet Again. The esteem and good will of the friends were manifested by the gifts, consisting largely of china, silver and cut glass. An earnest prayer by the pastor, Rev. M. W. Brown, brought the evening to a fitting close. The company then dispersed for their homes wishing that their host and hostess might enjoy many more happy anniversaries.

A REAL LIVE TESTIMONIAL

Given By Professor Hamilton of Hampton Metephan River, Digby Co., N. S. This is to certify that I took a severe pain in each big toe. Feet swelling up and legs, and toe nail coming off. I told my wife that my time had come and I would not live with the same disease. I tried two doctors without results so I sent for Prof. Hamilton and he cured me in a very short time, three years ago. I have been working ever since and feel good for a man of 75 years. I highly recommend the professor sick and suffering.

HOW CRUEL OF HIM!

Hubby pushed his chair back from the table with a disturbed look on his face. "What's the matter now?" asked his wife sharply. "I can't eat this soup!" he replied in a coldly firm tones. "You can't eat the soup?" shrieked the partner of his woes and bliss. "What do you mean, you ungrateful wretch? Here I've slaved all the afternoon making this soup for your supper, and now you say you can't eat it! Why not? Isn't it good enough for your Majesty?" The man waited till the echoes of her wrath had died away in the little room before he told her sadly: "Because I have no spoon!"
