MANSION HOUSE HOTEL, BALTIMORE, Md., 20th October, 1871. JAMES L. FELLOWS—Dear Sir: I have just received the tenth and last bottle of your estimable medicine of the Hypophosphites. To its use I subscribe, and of course expectoration; also, return of vitality, buoyancy of spirits, increase of flesh and fatness, and a daily duty with a degree of assurance unknown to me for a long time. I have experienced from it beyond description, and I advise all persons afflicted with conditions that were the result of your Hypophosphites, to have it in my grave. Yours truly, GEO. C. FOUT.

Important New Books

DABNEY.—Sacred Rhetoric; or a Course of Lectures on Preaching, by Robert L. Dabney, D. D. $1.25.

Of different works on Homiletics and Sacred Rhetoric which of late years have been published, we have no hesitation in pronouncing this to be the best for practical purposes. Its size, and, above all, the perspicuity, candour and earnestness by which it is throughout characterized, render it a suitable manual of instruction. Theological students, preachers and ministers of the word would derive important advantages by frequently consulting it and laboring to reduce its principles and rules to practice.—"Presbyterian Witness," Glasgow

BEECHER.—One thousand Gems from Henry Ward Beecher. Edited and compiled by the Rev. G. D. Evans. Third Thousand. $1.50.

Mr. Spurgeon says—"Who else among the living sons of men beside Mr. Beecher could furnish material for such a volume? He is, for originality of genius and wealth of illustration, altogether peerless."—The extracts in this work comprise all Mr. Beecher's finest utterances, and each is placed under an appropriate heading with a copious index, so as to render them readily available for use in teaching.

GLASGOW.—The Apocalypse translated and expounded by James Glasgow, D. D., Irish General Assembly's Professor of Oriental Languages $3.75.

A sober, thorough, and competently learned Exposition of the Book of Revelation, by a modern biblical scholar, was a desideratum, and we are disposed to think that Dr. Glasgow has supplied it. Dr. Glasgow has a special fitness for the task he undertook. In the "Prolegomena" the questions of the authorship and date of the Apocalypse are carefully discussed and also a number of other points regarding which some understanding is required to be before any exposition could be attempted. Then follows a commentary with a new translation on each chapter and verse. And the whole concludes with an appendix containing notes and illustrations. It is a most valuable and useful work, and we are confident that it will be a valuable addition to the libraries of all who are interested in the study of the word of God to their people, who are sure they will not be disappointed if they add to their libraries the work of Dr. Glasgow.—"Presbyterian," Edinburgh.

DAVIDSON.—Lectures and Sermons by the late Alexander Dyce Davidson, D.D., Minister of the Free West Church, Aberdeen. Edited by his Executors. $2.25

STEWART.—The Argument of the Epistle to the Hebrews. A Posthumous Work, by George Stewart, author of "Mediatorial Sovereignty," etc. $2.25.

CREMER.—Biblico-Theological Lexicon of New Testament Greek, by Hermann Cremer, Professor of Theology in the University of Greifswald. From the German. $1.00.

HESSEY.—Moral Difficulties connected with the Bible. Second Series. Being the Boyle Lectures for 1872, by James A. Hessey, D. C. L., of St. Paul's, London. 45 cents.

JOHN.—Whom Jesus Loved, by James Culross, A. M., D. D., of Highbury Hill, London. $1.25.

THE MISSIONARY WORLD.—Being an Encyclopedia of Information, Facts, Incidents, Sketches and Anecdotes, relating to Christian Missions in all Ages and Countries, and of all Denominations. $1.65.

MELVILL.—Selections from the Sermons preached during the latter years of his life, by Henry Melville, B. D., late Canon of St. Paul's and Chaplain in ordinary to the Queen. 2 vols., $3.00.

LANGE.—Critical, Doctrinal and Homiletical Commentary on the Psalms. $1.50.

KEIL AND DELITZSCH.—Biblical Commentary on the Old Testament. The Book of Chronicles, by G. E. Keil. $2.25.

HENGSTENBURG.—Kingdom of God under the Old Testament, by E. W. Hengstenberg, late Professor of Theology. Berlin. Vol. 2, (completion) $2.25.

COOPER.—The Life of Thomas Cooper, written by himself. Third thousand. $2.00.

Harper's Bazar.

Notices of the Press.

The Bazar is edited with a contribution of tact and talent that we seldom find in any journal; and the journal itself is the organ of the great world of fashion.—Boston Traveller.

The Bazar commends itself to every member of the household—it is the children's playmate and the young ladies by its fashion-plates in endless variety, to the prudent matron by its patterns for the children's clothes, to the mother by its tasteful designs in embroidered slippers and luxurious dressings.

But the reading matter of the Bazar is uniformly of great excellence. The paper has acquired a wide popularity for the leisure enjoyment it affords.—N. Y. Evening Post.

NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

Now, as heretofore, THE TRIBUNE strives to be first of all and preeminently a news paper.

France, a Republic—England and Germany gradually penetrated with Republican ideas—Spain saving in the nerveless grasp of a ruler too good for a King and too good for a Republic, who is unable to govern the great island that blocks the entrance to our Gulf of Mexico and equally unable to give it up—the German-speaking peoples agitated by a new Protestantism, separating from the See of Rome and the Pope's infatigable infidelity and asceticism—Russia, North or South—the whole Continent pervaded by the intellectual ferment that comes of the conflict between old ideas, philosophical, theological, material, and the advance of physical Science—Russia and Great Britain running a race for the "mid-greatness" of the world—Asia, China—China seeming ready to abandon her ancient and receive her half opened gates—Japan abolishing feudalism and inviting Western civilization to irradiate Western commerce to enrich her long-bleeding empire—such are phases of the news from abroad which the mind over all continents and the wires under all Seas are daily bearing to us. With able and trusted correspondents in the leading capitals, and wherever great changes are in progress, THE TRIBUNE aims, at whatever cost to its readers the most prompt, complete, and popular presentation of these diverse and conflicting movements, and of all which, for a King and for a Republic, are everywhere struggling up toward larger recognition and a brighter future.

At home the struggle for freedom seems over. The last slave has long been a citizen; the last opposition to emancipation, long since an equal right, has formally been abandoned. No North or South declare that these results must never be undone and, with a whole people thus united on the grand platform of All Rights for All, where our bloody struggle, and the prolonged and agonizingly equal fight, have finally closed the records of the bitter, hateful Past, and turn peacefully, hopefully, to the less alarming because less vital problems of the Future. To whatever may elucidate the general discussion or action on these. THE TRIBUNE gives ample space and a most impartial and unbiassed presentation of the views of all political leaders, and whatever officers may do, is fairly set down in its columns, whether this news helps or hinders its own views. Its readers have the right to an honest statement of the facts, and thus they always get it.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE, now more than thirty years old, has endeavored to keep up with the progress of the age in its improvement and enterprise. It devotes a large share of its columns to Agriculture as the most essential and general of human pursuits. It employs the ablest and most successful cultivators of the soil, and their reports in practical views of the Farmer's work. It reports public discussions which elucidate that work, gathers from every source agricultural news, the reports of the latest experiments, the stories of the latest successes and failures, and whatever may tend to once to better agriculture, and to commend it to the most important of progressive Art, based on natural science.

THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE appeals also to Teachers, Students, and persons of inquiring mind, by the character of its literary contents, which include reviews of all the works proceeding from the master minds of the old or of the New World, with liberal extracts from those of especial interest. Imaginative literature has claim after that; but in a subordinate degree. "Home Interests" are discussed weekly by a fully qualified to instruct and interest his own age, and the younger portion of the other. No column is more eagerly sought or perused with greater average profit than hers. The News of the Day, elucidated by brief comments, is so condensed that no reader can deem it diffuse, while given sufficiently in detail to satisfy the wants of the extensive correspondence of THE DAILY TRIBUNE from every country, and its editorials of more permanent value are here reproduced. In short, THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE commends itself to Millions, by ministering to their intellectual wants more fully than they are met by any other journal, and to commend it to the first and foremost of our Producers, and other Markets, will, of themselves, save the farmer who regularly notes them far more than his journal's price.

For the family circle of the educated farmer or artisan, THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has no superior, as is proved by the hundreds of thousands who, having read it from childhood, still cherish and enjoy it in the prime and on the down hill of life. We respectfully urge those who know its worth to commend THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE to their friends and neighbors, as we prefer it to clubs at price which barely pay the cost of paper and press-work.

PROSPECTUS FOR 1873—SIXTH YEAR.

"THE ALDINE."

An Illustrated Monthly Journal, universally admitted to be the handsomest Periodical in the world. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.

Not for Sale in Book or News Stores.

THE ALDINE, while issued with all the care and delicacy of the most refined taste, is distinguished by a characteristic of originality and grace. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature, and a collection of pictures the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each volume cannot display more than a limited number of these treasures, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated at a time when bound at the close of the year. While at other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is an unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or in value. The possession of a complete volume cannot display more than a limited number of these treasures, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated at a time when bound at the close of the year.
