

The Educational Value of Pictures

INTELLIGENT people everywhere appreciate as of the utmost importance the informing value of pictures of news-events, portraits of men and women in the lime-light, and pictures showing the kaleidoscopic development of our great Dominion. Pictures are as essential in their way as type. The reason there are so few really well-illustrated magazines is because of the enormous cost involved in the production of high-class pictorial work.

But the fact is that pictures of importance besides giving pleasure give also a whole horizon of exact facts at a glance. That is why the CANADIAN PICTORIAL in its chosen field is acknowledged to be the leading educator of this country. Nearly a hundred and fifty thousand people, old and young, are regularly taking pleasure and profit from its pictures, month by month. All it contains is of peculiar and vital interest to Canadians.

We don't need to praise the CANADIAN PICTORIAL; we can leave that to others all over the country, who are talking and writing about it. We can leave it to our subscribers who, sending their renewal subscriptions, cannot refrain from praising it; and often get others to join them in taking advantage of our generous clubbing offers. We can leave its praise to other publishers, who, knowing how vastly more expensive the production of such fine pictures is than many times the volume of poorer pictures or type pages, express wonder at the value we are able to give, and overflow with compliments for the exquisite work and interesting features of the CANADIAN PICTORIAL.

Until the establishment of the CANADIAN PICTORIAL, three years ago, Canada was without a high-class illustrated periodical. Since then it has become to Canada what the "Graphic" and "Illustrated London News" are to Great Britain—but with this remarkable difference—the annual subscription is but a fraction of that of the great English illustrated papers. Canadians appreciate this and, when sending in their subscription, subscribe also for their friends in other places, to whose homes the CANADIAN PICTORIAL is a welcome visitor.

A six months' TRIAL subscription to new subscribers, beginning with this number, may be had for only 40 cents.

We would be glad to have our subscribers make this offer known to their friends.

Its extreme whiteness and impalpable fineness make a paint that has no equal for durability and color.

Appreciation from a High Source

Lord Strathcona writes from London:

Your most excellent "Canadian Pictorial" is a publication which, if I may be permitted to say so, is a credit to Canada. I have been most favorably impressed by the general character of the magazine and the clearness of its illustrations.

Believe me,

Yours very truly,

STRATHCONA.

"The 'Canadian Pictorial' has been steadily improving with each year of its existence, and is a credit to Canadian journalism."
