Eyesight

is of such great value that one ought to take more than ordinary precautions to guard it against every possible trouble.

If you have even a remote suspicion that there is any trouble with your eyes, it will be for your own best interest to have your vision tested, and the trouble, if any, removed.

Simple trouble may develop serious results if not properly treated.

Ordinary failing eyesight receives our most careful attention both as to glasses and the frames.

Complicated cases we do not attempt to treat, but always refer you to some oculist of established reputation.

It is just as necessary to have the right frame as to have the right glasses.

We carry an assortment of frames that is calculated to supply any demand that you can make upon us.
