High Hit Count Web Pages
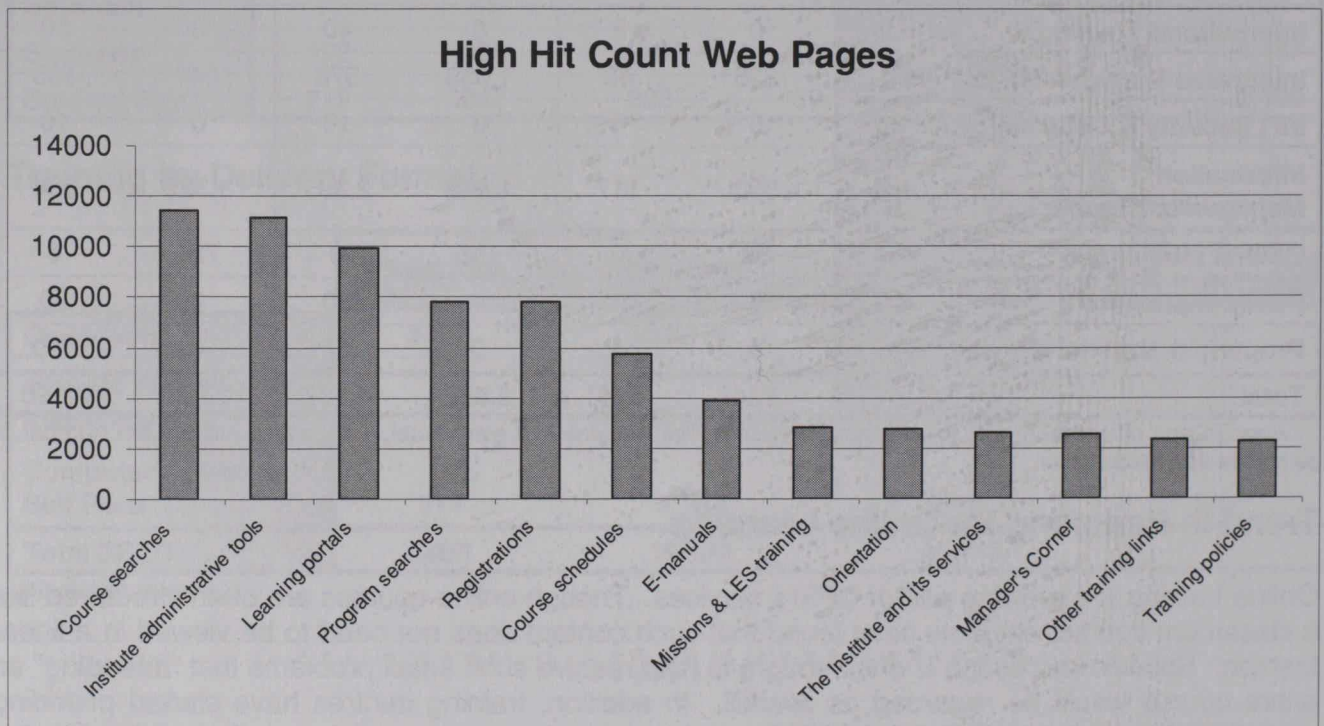

This is very telling of the way employees use CFSI virtual: it is firstly a path to training for students seeking to choose courses or programmes and to register. The navigation is then directed to the learning portals, the doorway to online courses. It is followed by manuals and other helpful tools. The tool used by the Institute to administer training is also heavily used.

The most downloaded documents were E-manuals (67%), followed by the course calendar.
