AGRICULTURE—EXOTIC BREEDS OF CATTLE

Question No. 1,857—Mr. Herbert:

Does the Department of Agriculture keep records of the exotic breeds of cattle exported by (a) individuals (b) partnerships (c) cooperatives or corporations and, if so, what are (i) the names and addresses of the individuals, partnerships, cooperatives or corporations who received permits in 1974 (ii) the number of permits in each instance (iii) how many permits did each receive in the previous years 1970-73 inclusive?

Hon. E. F. Whelan (Minister of Agriculture): The Department of Agriculture does not maintain lists of the cattle of the exotic breeds which have been exported. Purebred cattle that have been imported into Canada through a Canadian or Canadian controlled quarantine station are under export control. Excepted from this control are cattle of the following breeds: Ayrshire, Aberdeen Angus, Galloway, Guernsey, Hereford, Highland, Holstein-Friesian, Jersey, Lincoln Red, Shorthorn, South Devon, Red Poll, Welsh Blacks. These controls are affected under the authority of the Export and Import Permits Act which is administered by the Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce. Those classes of animals subject to these controls must be accompanied by an export permit issued by that department. While the applications for these permits are referred to the Department of Agriculture for advice as to the eligibility of the animals listed, the exports permits are issued by the Department of Industry, Trade and Commerce and the records of such permits are maintained by them. Any records of the export of the "exotic" breeds which are not subject to control are maintained by the breed association concerned.
