Dr. Boyle Delivers Address at Annual Service of St. George's Society.

SUNDAY OBSERVANCE

Fourth Commandment Emphasizes Duty of Toil, Says Rev. D. T. Owen.

About 150 members of St. George's society attended the annual service of his organization in St. James' Cathis organization in St. James' Cathedral last night. Dr. Boyle also exhorted the members of the society exhorted the members of the society to practise true patriotism in support-ing the British Empire in all its acts that were in conformity with divine law, and in refusing to support any of its acts that the divine law would not

HOLY TRINITY CHURCH.

The rector, the Rev. D. T. Owen preached on Sunday observance yesterday morning and pointed out that only two directions for Lord's Day Testament, the breaking of the bread (the celebrating of the holy communion) and the laying up in store on the first day of the week (alms-giving).

The fourth commandment is as positive respecting the duty of work as it is concerning that of rest. In the Jewish Church it was rest first, worship second. In the Christian Church it is worship first and rest second. Only those who work can rest; only those who rest can work. Churchgoing is a great help towards resting the mind, not only by lifting it Godwards, but by changing its current of thought from its usual circuit, and the mind needs rest as much as does the body. Witness the nervous breaking down of today.

In the evening the Rev. Rural Dean E. C. Cayley preached on the problem of human life and urged his hearers to ask God earnestly what life meant, to seek to know, and to knock at the door of love for an answer. The power of the resurrection and its realty were strongly dwelt upon.
