The Cohesive Elements of British Imperialism

By Alleyne Ireland

[Our readers will like to have a few personal notes about the author of this article. Mr. Ireland is a native of Manchester, England. His father was Alexander Ireland, the proprietor of the Manchester "Examiner and Times" and the friend and biographer of Ralph Waldo Emerson. His mother was the author of the "Life of Jane Welsh Carlyle." He was educated at the Manchester Grammar School, and subsequently studied at Berlin University. During the past twelve years Mr. Ireland has spent most of his time in the British Colonies. He lived for three years in Australia, and later spent seven years in the West Indies and in South America. During his stay in the West Indies he devoted himself to a study of tropical labor, taking the practical course of working on estates as an overseer. During the past two
