It is a big mistake to confuse hoarding and saving. The man who hoards and puts his money away secretly is a miser. People are penalized nowadays for saving food; they are likewise guilty if they keep out of circulation that which buys food. Saving is a different matter. The man who saves wisely does so with a view to investment. He saves money in order that he may "put it to work." There is no better way of making it work than to invest it in Victory Bonds.
