These stocks in all the principal industries, having cost so much to import and manufacture as to be now unsaleable, are the dam that is blocking the country of the commercial activities of the country. that the exchange barrier has brought about a biockade worse than anything in war times.

The immediate cause of the French trouble is the difficulty of readjusting the domestic scale of prices to the sharp decline in the price of raw materials, especially those imported from abroad. This is bound to cause heavy losses, as has been the case in America; but most importers, manufacturers and businessmen generally have made such large profits that they ought to be able to weather the storm fairly well.

National Finances.

There are, however, other and more ut a blockade worse than anything National Finances.

There are, however, other and more serious reasons for anxiety. The rest is undoubtedly the anomalous condition of the national finances. As long as Germany does not pay for reparations and pensions France will have to continue spending exactly double her income. Besides that, there already is an estimated deficit of 2,000,000 francs in the new budget, due to military expenditures in the Levant and Morocco. The Senate and Chamber finance committees have called Gen. Gouraud, French commander in the Near East, in conference with a view to discovering whether reductions are possible. and pensions France will have to con-

Whether reductions are possible. The new 1 per cent tax on the total business turnover has produced only 46 per cent of its estimated revenue during the first three months of its operation, which indicates that there will be a further deficit of from 3,000,000,000 to 4,000,000,000 francs. Unless the loan does much better than most people in a position to judge seem to expect, it is hard to see what will be the alternative to a further large issue of paper money, whose effect on French exchange need not be emphasized.

STOMACH TROUBLE—You know quickly enough when you have a bad stomach. When you have heartburn and indigestion, sour, gassy stomach. Many people will be surprised to learn that such a long train of ailments can be traced to Auto-Intoxication. The ailing man thinks the condition of the stomach is due to something eaten.
