A syndicate of Toronto men purchased what is known as the Pontiac claim, on Nov. 18, 1908, and mining operations were at once begun. Six days later a calcite vein was uncovered for a hundred feet, and on Dec. 7, the last round of holes fired showed rich silver values in a vein of calcite from 6 to 12 inches wide, samples of of 22 1-2 acres in Coleman Township, which ran 3000 to 5000 ounces to the ton. Barr's Daily Market Letter

Owing to the nearness of the three days' holiday in the mining market, business on the Standard Stock Exchange to-day was not conducted with the same confidence as ordinarily. We were early informed of a movement in Rochester, and clients purchased some of the stock on our advice. We think this issue offers speculative opportunities which might easily carry the price several points above to-day's quotations. We are looking for another upward turn in Amaigamated, but the buying in this issue has not yet started to any extent, and intil such is the case we would not counsel purchases except on declines. In the higher-priced shares there was again some liquidation to day. Temiskaming solddown) below 1.45, and Trethewey also weakened under pressure of sales. Hargrave, in the unlisted department, is acting admirably, selling at 61. All offerings of the stock are well taken, and we are still confident that investment purchases of these shares will result in good profits. An attempt was made to hammer Peterson Lake to-day, for the purpose of getting stock, but the effort was not successful. We still advise the purchase of these shares. For to-morrow we will probably have a quiet day, and one in which traders will even up their transactions over the holidays, which will last until Tuesday.
