Note and Comment

The ice was fair for the curlers yester lay afternoon, but somewhat sticky at promised for the first interclub games of the year to-night, the program being Parkdale v. Prospect Park.

Queen City v. Granites. Toronto v. Lakeview.

Play starts at 8 p.m., six rinks a side, siderable doings. According to the rule, there's to be no packing up of rinks, the skips selected being obliged to play

In the midst of rebellious clubs and critical eyes, Ottawa showed no mercy to the Galt challengers in the opening game for the Stanley Cup, regardless of how the attendance might fall off in the second game on Friday. The holders must be in good shape-financially, as well as from the standpoint of skill.

The committee appointed to look after the drawing up of a constitution and a set of bylaws of the Province of Quebec section of the newly-formed Amateur Athletic Union of Canada has completed its task, the results of which will be submitted to a special meeting called for Saturday next in Montreal. The amateur definition, the bugbear of amateur athletics in Eastern Canada during the pasthree years, is the most noteworthy point in the whole constitution, and it has been framed on the identical lines of the A. A. U. of C.

The article dealing with the territory within the jurisdiction of the union in cludes Ottawa, and the organization will be called the Lower Canada Amateur Athletic Union. The territory under the jurisdiction of this union shall be the Provinc of Quebec, and that part of Ontario lyin east of the C.P.R. from Ottawa to Brock ville, including the towns on this line spallway.

Now it is alleged a man has been in jured playing checkers. Henry Hutzler Cincinnati, one of the American check team that had been picked to play in the correspondence match with the Canadia team, is mable to play because of an injury to his head. The match has been in progress since last November, and will ast until summer. Perhaps Mr. Hutzler made a flying jump into the king row.

The enormous figure of $280,000 has been refused for Bayardo, the champion English 3-year-old, and, as far as turf history goes, this is the record offer for a race horse. It has been stated that the animal norse. It has been stated that the animal was wanted for stud purposes, but as Mr. Fairle, his owner, is a wealthy man, he cares more for Bayardo than for the money, big as the offer was.

In another way, the price is a record one, especially when it is considered that he only won the St. Leger—one of the big races. He was unplaced in the Two Thousand Guineas and Derby, but his failure was attributed to his softness of hoof, as he could not be galloped on the hard ground of, the early English season. When, however, the ground softened, and he rounded into form, not a 3-year-old, he made nearly $67,000, which brings his total figure up to date to over $200,000. This, added to the price refused for him now, leaves him the most valuable horse ever foaled.

up to date to over $200,000. This, added to the price refused for him now, leaves him the most valuable horse ever foaled. He is a bay colt by dead Bay Ronald, out of Galicia, and is by no means a handsome animal to look at, but is said to have superb action. His career on the turf does not end with this season by sny means, for he has a good string of engagements for next year. Foremost among them is the gold cup at Ascot. Sometime ago it was hinted that Bayardo's owner would keep him for his own stud. Some years ago M. Edmund Blanc paid $187,500 for Flying Fox, the Derby whoner, and this is yet the record sale, the it is away behind the sum turned down for Bayardo.

Rough Junior Hockey. rgonauts were victorious over T.R.C. and t. Helens respectively, Simcoes winning he first game by 13 to 6, while Argos ucked away the second by an 8 to 3 score, leading at the half by 5 to 0. Simboes and Toronto Rowing Club mixed it up in the first encounter, the game ending with three men a side, so rough did the exhibition become. Both teams played good hockey the first half, Simcoes leading at the interval by 6 to 3, while in the last half the game started with six men a side, owing to Meredith being injured the first half, Meech going off to even up. The second period saw the eams mixing it up, the result being that he penalty box was hardily ever empty. McGliffin was the worst offender, his continuous slashing causing his banishment. His rough tactics made the other slayers get the fever and towards the close the whole Rowing Club team marked McGliffin every time he came down the ice, Whale getting him once with the blade of the stick, which struck McGliffin in the face. There was one fistic encounter, when Warwick purched Maxwell and nearly another, when Mariett and MeGliffin squared up.

However, getting back to the game, both and nearly another, when Mariett and Me-Giffin squared up.

However, getting back to the game, both eams showed a pretty nifty junior Menon, with Simcoes overshadowing T.R.C in team work and experience, the Rowing Club team being very green, but once they cound to a little team work and get going together they will give the Simcoes a hard game the next time out. They have three nifty forwards in Hill, Barlett and Freeman, while their defence is good, but Maxwell in goal in only fair, he being very bad on long shots. For Simcoes, their defence is good, Addison making some clever saves last night, while on the forward line McGiffin was the speedlest player and the best, when on the ice, but he was off the ice half the time. The teams:

ANOTHER ALLIANCE GAIN

Renfrew Goes Dry by a Very Narrow

The Dominion Alliance made an important gain in their local option campaign which they did not learn of until yesterday. This was in the town of Renfrew, which, owing to a transposition of figures, was recorded as a loss. The figures that the Alliance received were 307 for and 232 against, instead of 370 for.

Another gain was also made in Brussels, which was previously thought to be held up by the three-fifths clause. The vote was given as 166 in favor and 112 against, instead of 105.

It is also probable that an appeal will be made by the liquor men in the repeal vote taken in March township.

Owing to a mistake the Alliance sent up ballots that read "To sustain the bylaw," while under the new law all ballots of such nature should read:

A "cub" reporter on a small city paper was sent out by the city editor to get a stony on the marriage of a young society girl and a man well known in the city.

The "cub" was gone about an hour and then returned and went aimlessly over to his desk, by which he sat down. Shortly afte wards the city editor noticed his presence and his evident idleness.

"Here, kid," shouted the superior, "why aren't you at work on that wedding?"

"Nothing doing." replied the hoy.

"Nothing doing? What do you mean? Didn't the wedding take place?"

"Nope, the bridgroom never showed up, so there ain't nothin' to write."

It was the new city editor's first night. Summoning a veteran of the staff, he said:

"I'm going to brace up this force. I want a couple of cracker-jack descriptive writers, such as Rex Beach or Jack London, and I want a bang-up humorist. Know of any we could get?"

"I'm not sure about the descriptive writers,' was the hesitating response, "but I know of a bully good humorist."

"Fine for you. Who is he?"

"Well, now, mind you, this isn't his real name—but they call him Mark Twain."
