Nathan Schwartz Says Doctor's Fees Made Him Attempt Suicide

"I did it because the doctor had charged me twenty-five dollars," replied Nathan Schwartz, aged 40, of 61 Centre Avenue, when asked at Agincourt police station last night why he had attempted to end his own life. Schwartz was taken from his home suffering from gas poisoning and removed to the General Hospital. He was discovered in his room by the landlady of the house, and she called in a policeman. The man was later removed from the police station to the reception hospital.

The Call of the Motherland—Ontario's, too!

More Food Production

Even a normal harvest, much less a big increase, cannot now be sown, owing to a tremendous shortage of labor on Ontario's farms, unless thousands of business men, retired farmers, Y.M.C.A. members, high school boys, etc., volunteer, quickly, for this noble work. Come to the Mass Meeting—this vital question must be grappled with. The possibility of a crop shortage in 1917 is as grave a menace as any in our history.

SUFFRAGISTS WRITE PREMIERS.

The following letter has been sent to the premiers of Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, and a similar one to the premier of Newfoundland: "The National Canadian Suffrage Association hereby asks you to extend the franchise to the women of your province. We believe that by doing so you will confer far-reaching benefits on the people and that you will place your province side by side with the other progressive and freedom-loving ones in the forward march towards a higher type of civilization in our great Dominion of Canada."
