

repairs to coats and pants. The baker boys are also improving. The farm boys are now able to handle the hoe, rake, spade and various other tools with ease and grace, and are fast becoming very handy and useful boys. The carpenter boys are much interested in their work, and it is pleasing to observe the careful and neat way they handle and take care of their tools. I am very sure that the training the boys are receiving industrially will be of great service when they go out into the world to do for themselves.

A glance at the work accomplished by the boys will be interesting. Besides the housework necessary to keep everything in both buildings in good order, and the baking, cooking and laundrying, we have
