

NEWS AND VIEWS OF SPORT

James J. Jeffries, retired heavy-weight champion of the world, received a great ovation at Duquesne Garden, in Pittsburg, Pa., Tuesday night, where he engaged in a six-round boxing exhibition with his sparring partner, Sam Berger. Jeffries appeared to have lost a great deal of weight, but was still heavy. He was extremely fast on his feet and very quick with his hands. In the preliminary Charles Goldman of New York had slightly the better of a bout with Young Zinger of Pittsburg, while Harlem Tommy Murphy of New York outpointed Jimmy Dunn of Newcastle, Pa.

Jeffries in a short speech before the bout said: "I can't say any more than the papers have said, but when the night time comes I will deliver the goods." The rounds were short, averaging 29 seconds each. Jeffries did the leading and delivering practically all the blows, Berger taking the punishment.

Candidates for honors in the automobile races of the western Vanderbilt, June 18 and 19, were out in force practice at Crown Point, Ind. Louis Strang, in a 90-horsepower Buick, made the 23-mile circuit in 21 minutes, establishing a 23-mile record. Strang took some of the down grades at the rate of 80 miles an hour. A Knox, driven by Denison, made the round in 26:12.

The two Apperson "Jack Rabbits," driven by Lytle and Seymour, were out for the first time and Lytle despite ignorance of the course, scored a lap in 25 minutes.

Speaking of the coming Ketchel-Pape fight, Tom Jones, former manager of Pape, says: "Ketchel is a great boxer all right, but if Stanley Ketchel makes 158 pounds for Pape, the Illinois boy will beat Ketchel just as sure as they enter the ring. I am confident, although I am not manager of Pape now, that Billy is the greatest fighter that ever lived at 158 pounds. Ketchel and Pape are not made to fight. I consider that Ketchel is afraid of Pape from what he said to me."

An important new feature in connection with the grand circuit opening at Detroit, Mich., July 20 to 23, is the addition of a purse for 3-year-old trotters. This is the beginning of another blue ribbon feature. The Detroit Driving Club will allow two or more horses under the same ownership to compete in any race in any race. There are 19 events on the programme calling for $30,000.

On his walk across the continent, Edward Payson Weston arrived at Spring Valley, Wyo., on Tuesday at noon.

Bonds last night were: Philadelphia—Ralph Erne beat Kid Williams in the sixth round at the Duquesne Garden.

THREE MOTOR BOAT RACES AT WESTFIELD

Westfield Outing Association Announce Events for July 1, 14 and July 31.

The Westfield Outing Association will have a series of three races for association motor boats and have set out the following notice:

Dear Sir:—You are hereby invited to enter your motor boat for the above series of races to be held during this summer of 1909.

First race, Thursday, July 1st, start 10:30 a. m.

Second race, Wednesday, July 14, start 10:00 p. m.

Third race, Saturday, July 31, start 3:45 p. m.

Suitable prizes have been provided. There must be three starters or no second prize, four starters or no third prize. The series of races is open to motor boats owned and sailed by members of the Westfield Outing Association. There are no restrictions as to size of boat or power of engine. Handicaps will be allowed to be figured out from actual (declared) speed of motor boat.

When making your entry state the speed of your boat (in knots) per hour. Motor boats exceeding this declared speed in three per cent will be disqualified.

Does Your Heart Flutter? Short Breath. Easily Fatigued. Rush of Blood. It's in this condition that sudden and unexpected death comes.

The heart is an unfailing index of strength. Bodily vigor and a strong heart go hand in hand.

A slight fluttering and shortness of breath is a sign of failing strength, arising from weakened digestive power, or from weakness of the nervous system.

The organic and dangerous affections of the heart seldom manifest themselves until the climax is reached, when death usually supervenes.

TOO MUCH WAR TALK AT I. P. C.

A Fact of Appalling Significance, Says Speaker at Meeting of Peace Society

(Toronto World.) "Prepare for hell if you wish to go to heaven is quite as reasonable a statement as that to promote peace you must prepare for war," was the view taken by Prof. McCurdy at the meeting last night of the Canadian Peace and Arbitration Society, in Zion Church, in connection with the Genesee yearly meeting of the Y. P. C.

Prof. McCurdy was the chief speaker, and in the course of his address he said that it was a fact of appalling significance that every session and every discussion of the Imperial Peace Conference now on the subject of war, and against Germany, there might be war, and if there were it would be the most destructive ever seen and would leave the victor a hundred times worse off than at present.

The Western Union manager thought those three names were in college jells, so he wouldn't pay me the money until I hunted up a well-known lawyer, who was also an fanatical member of the St. Louis office. Come to think of it, it does seem funny to see at the bottom of a telegram Von der Ahe, Diddelbeck, Muckemus.

Conley's absence from the city prevented a reunion with Latham, but the men who played on the far corners of the old four-time winners probably will get together the next time the Giants come to town. Meanwhile arise says the umpire are looking for excuses to put him off the coaching line.

Prof. Jimp Kelly, who died at Chicago Sunday, was well known throughout New England as the trainer of mysterious Billy Smith, Billy Hennessy, Eddie Connelly, Mike Swann and other pugilists. After leaving Boston he was in the hotel business with Smith at Portland, Ore.

Officers of the Ottawa Rowing Club expect to be in a position this year to send a number of crack competitors to the Canadian Regatta at Coburnville July 30 and 31. It is hoped to have Ottawa represented in the senior and intermediate events.

The Ottawa have also practically decided to accept the invitation to row at the National regatta at Detroit August 2 and 3. The crews, which wear the Ottawa colors, will be talking with the Canadian association of American Oarsmen.

Tex Rickard is back on his financial pins again, and intends going after some of the big fight purses for Goldfield, Nev. There is a chance that he will secure the Johnson-Katman fight.

There was a dry goods tournament on the Every Day Club grounds last evening. The ball teams of Brock, Paterson and M. R. A. Ltd., met on the diamond and played a most interesting game.

The ball teams of Brock, Paterson and M. R. A. Ltd., met on the diamond and played a most interesting game. The Brock and Paterson teams were evenly matched, and it was not until the seventh inning that Brock secured the victory.

After a fast six inning game the B. & P. pulled out victors with a score of 8 to 2. The batteries were: Mahony & McGee for B. & P.; Girvan and Sterling for M. R. A.

The Brock and Paterson nine will play a team from Macaulay Bros. on Tuesday evening next on the Every Day Club grounds.

KIDNEY DISEASE COMES ON QUIETLY.

Perhaps no other organs work harder than the kidneys to preserve the general health of the body. It is not until they are so weak that they are unable to filter the blood properly that they are discovered.

Do not neglect any of these symptoms, for, if neglected they will eventually lead to Bright's Disease, Dropsy and Diabetes. In the first signs of anything wrong Doctor's Kidney Pills should be taken. They go to the seat of the trouble, and advise everyone suffering from Kidney Disease to try them.

Price 50 cts. per box, or 3 for $1.25, all dealers or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

THE BIG LEAGUES

National League. At Pittsburgh—Pittsburgh, 1; New York, 0. At Chicago—Brooklyn, 1; Chicago, 3. At St. Louis—Boston, 3; St. Louis, 4. At Cincinnati—Cincinnati, 1; Philadelphia, 1.

American League. At Boston—Chicago, 6; Boston, 4. At Washington—Washington, 2; St. Louis, 1. At Philadelphia—Philadelphia, 1; Detroit, 1. At New York—Cleveland, 4; New York, 1.

CHAS. W. MORSE HAS BEEN ADMITTED TO BAIL

Convicted Banker Was Released. Yesterday Pending Consideration of His Appeal in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

New York, June 16—Charles W. Morse, convicted banker, was released on bail today, pending consideration of his appeal in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals next October. For nearly four months Morse will be free to go and come as he pleases. At the end of that time the Court of Appeals will either order a new trial or affirm the sentence of fifteen years' imprisonment imposed upon the former "ice king" last November.

The bail bond for $125,000 was signed today by twenty wealthy friends of Morse who volunteered for the purpose several months ago and Morse quit the custody of the United States marshal shortly before 4 o'clock.

"I am very glad for this," he said to the little group of friends who gathered about the United States marshal's office for their congratulations. "And now, I have a busy four months before me. I am going straight to my home and take care of myself and my wife. There is a little planning to be done, and we expect to go to the country for a short time until we can get our minds settled. I shall not be here and climb into the harness, to pull all the tangled threads together."

The order of the court admitting Morse to bail was something of a surprise to his wife and friends, who it was handed down on Monday in October upon filing bail down at noon today. They have been working for his release since the early part of the year, but there had been no indication that a response to their petitions was to be forthcoming at once.

Mrs. Morse was with her husband in the Tombs when the news was received there, the spot one of the busiest thoroughfares of her life marshalling her husband's friends and obtaining their signatures to the necessary papers in time to bring about his release before sunset.

"When the last signature was approved by the court, she smilingly conducted an impromptu reception in the federal building, receiving with her husband the congratulations of many friends.

The banker's order today was as follows: "In view of the magnitude of the record and the pumber and intricacy of the questions presented in this appeal, and in view of the fact that you require extended examination, we order and direct that the defendant be enlarged upon bail until the second Monday in October upon filing bail down in the sum of $125,000."

PARTICULARS OF SHOOTING OF W. A. SHERWOOD OF SUSSEX

Additional Details of the Affair at Saskatoon by Which Well Known Young Man Received Serious Injuries.

Saskatoon, Sask., June 17.—With a wound in his stomach caused by a bullet passing through his body, W. A. Sherwood, well-known at the Saskatoon branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, formerly of Sussex (N. B.), lies in the city hospital today between life and death.

It is said for Lane that he demanded who was there before firing, but got no reply.

It is understood that the crown officers are informed that Lane called out before firing, warning the intruder to get out or take the consequences. The rope hanging evidently went unnoted of the intruder, and the shooting is a result.

It was found that a bullet had passed through the body, entering by his left side and passing out in front. A rent in the stomach had to be stitched up and the patient is now in a very collapsed condition and in the words of one of the surgeons "nearly moribund."

The story told by Lane of the clerk's shooting the man with a revolver that he had in his pocket, and that he was pulling the man down, Lane, who seems to have been a member of the crew, is not believed.

Mr. Moore believes the west will furnish the cavalry for the Canadian army. In every town of any size there is now a squadron of light horse, he stated.

"The movement for these mounted troops has come just in time. The old cowboys have not yet died out, and these squadrons will keep up the tradition and the cavalry. The west will be the school of cavalry, as the seaboard will be the school of the navy."

BEES AND ANTS In an article on bees and ants by Gaston Bouverie, in the "Revue Helvétique," the writer contends that these insects carry on conversation among themselves, and that, while this is done by means of their feelers, they are not entirely dependent upon them.

"A whole colony," says Mr. Bouverie, "is antenuously to a signal which has been given without contact. It is interesting to see an ant laborer for whom a burden is too heavy to go to a fellow, make a sign or give a certain touch with his feeler, and then see the second insect join the first in lifting or moving the object."

It is always impolite to say that a woman, or butler, is old.

Managing One's Liege Lord

One may have just the dearest sweetest husband in the world, always considerate and kind, but the fact remains that he has to be managed most tactfully. If the domestic peace of two happinesses is to be kept intact why this is so under such conditions is inexplicable, but it is so. Perhaps it is the nature of the brute, but certainly managing one in a while, and if one's husband be the other sort the necessity for managing him is all the greater and, naturally all the harder task.

To manage one's liege lord and master is an art, indeed, the first requisite of which is that he shall be managed with no ostentation or display, for so man is willing to admit even to himself that his wife can manage him. To give your husband certain definite and positive instructions about this, that or the other thing is not managing him at all—it is exactly "showing him up." If such a course does not bring him to his senses, his wife is better off without him.

The last of the submissive woman is negatively and passively happy. She prefers not to manage her husband—or she would not be a patient, submissive, suffering woman. As long as she is content she is willing to only crave her husband's attention.

Though it is generally admitted that the attitude of two married people, each toward the other, is determined by their relations in this respect during the first six months of their married life, there is no question or tyranny of husband over wife that cannot be alleviated if only the remedy is applied. To find that remedy is a difficult task, and the woman herself is the only one who can do so.

Study the idiosyncrasies of your liege lord and master, and the peculiarities of his ego. He is not invulnerable as every woman, though he may appear to be as such, is in reality. If you can only reach his feeler, to carry out the figure, he will succumb, as did that immortal, her will, mythology.

To understand your husband's character thoroughly, his tastes, his habits, and his mental calibre will enable you to avoid the sources of much discord and irritation.

To generate the idea in his mind that he is a difficult man to manage is a more difficult task, but one not hopeless of accomplishment. A clear insight into the mind of your liege lord is an open door for you to avoid many of the jars and jolts on the matrimonial highway.

It is strange, indeed, but none the less true, that the women who do the most managing are generally the ones who are most content with their husbands. Fearing his ill temper, his irritability and his caprice, such a woman seeks to keep her husband in a reserved, quiet, unobtrusive mood, and she will do anything to bring about this state of affairs.

If there is something else in specially desirous of accomplishing, she begins weeks beforehand to twist and turn the

He takes delight in rumpling his hair and banging his hat on the table.

He is a most difficult husband to manage is the stingy one. It is hard indeed for a wife to hold her love and respect for a man who is so pronounced that he makes her feel she is a financial burden at every turn. A woman in such a predicament needs the assistance and the utmost patience and perseverance. She must accept the undesirable implication that she loves him more than she does her and by her plans from that view point.

Though one cannot "change his face," as the idiom has it, he can see to it that his face does not betray his weak points. But before he can do this he must change his thought and habits. These, in fact, are generally responsible for one's facial expression. In many professional schools of the country, boys who enter with handsome, or defiant expressions are generally able before they leave to look people straight in the eye and maintain a reserved, quiet expression. Facial expression, anyway, is determined by the lines in the face and proper thoughts and right habits can change and obliterate the lines, just as sorrowful or discouraged thoughts or improper habits put them there.

The face is an open index to character. In most instances a single glance at a man's countenance will tell whether or not he is successful. To the initiated many of the principal characteristics of mankind are easily recognizable in the face of those he meets. But the man who may have no more than a cursory interest in the subject should be able at least to distinguish the different types of men by their facial expressions. Nearly all professional men have firm jaws and thoughtful eyes and brows. A soldier who is really a soldier has his profession almost written in his face. The successful, wide-awake business man looks it, with his alert eyes and mobile features.

Tightness of lips and straightforwardness of gaze are generally characteristic of the clergyman, while the prominent and aggressive nose is usually characteristic of the man of action and large responsibilities.

Millions in Hidden Wealth It is the belief of Lieutenant-Governor Tweedie that the hidden resources of Canada have been merely scratched. This is an absorbing topic discussed in his article, published in the June 18th issue of Collier's.

First Man Waiting to Be Shaved—How is this barber, does he know his business? Second Man (ditto)—Yes, and everybody else's.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office. Mr. Newpop—Does it say anything about how many miles the father of a young infant walks every night?

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office. Mr. Newpop—Does it say anything about how many miles the father of a young infant walks every night?

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office. Mr. Newpop—Does it say anything about how many miles the father of a young infant walks every night?

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office. Mr. Newpop—Does it say anything about how many miles the father of a young infant walks every night?

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office. Mr. Newpop—Does it say anything about how many miles the father of a young infant walks every night?

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office. Mr. Newpop—Does it say anything about how many miles the father of a young infant walks every night?

SHOE POLISH shines instantly at the first rub or two of the brush or cloth. Will not rub off. Is waterproof. Softens and preserves the leather. No substitute even half as good.

10c and 25c Tins

Managing One's Liege Lord

One may have just the dearest sweetest husband in the world, always considerate and kind, but the fact remains that he has to be managed most tactfully.

To manage one's liege lord and master is an art, indeed, the first requisite of which is that he shall be managed with no ostentation or display.

To generate the idea in his mind that he is a difficult man to manage is a more difficult task, but one not hopeless of accomplishment.

Though one cannot "change his face," as the idiom has it, he can see to it that his face does not betray his weak points.

The face is an open index to character. In most instances a single glance at a man's countenance will tell whether or not he is successful.

Millions in Hidden Wealth It is the belief of Lieutenant-Governor Tweedie that the hidden resources of Canada have been merely scratched.

First Man Waiting to Be Shaved—How is this barber, does he know his business? Second Man (ditto)—Yes, and everybody else's.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

He takes delight in rumpling his hair and banging his hat on the table.

He is a most difficult husband to manage is the stingy one. It is hard indeed for a wife to hold her love and respect for a man who is so pronounced that he makes her feel she is a financial burden at every turn.

Though one cannot "change his face," as the idiom has it, he can see to it that his face does not betray his weak points.

The face is an open index to character. In most instances a single glance at a man's countenance will tell whether or not he is successful.

Millions in Hidden Wealth It is the belief of Lieutenant-Governor Tweedie that the hidden resources of Canada have been merely scratched.

First Man Waiting to Be Shaved—How is this barber, does he know his business? Second Man (ditto)—Yes, and everybody else's.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

Wanted to Know. Mrs. Newpop—This paper says that every man walks three miles a day if only moving about in his room or office.

WILSON'S FLY PADS Will kill many times more flies than any other known article REFUSE UNSATISFACTORY IMITATIONS