SHOCKING AFFAIR; VICTIM'S HEAD

Miss Lillian Fraser Was Thrown from Train at Vanceboro

BROUGHT TO THE CITY

One Leg Cut Off and the Other Injured - She Also Sustained Internal Injuries and Was Much Cut-Died in the Hospital.

Miss Lillian Fraser, of North Port, near Amherst, N. S., was brought to the city today on the Atlantic express, in what is believed to be a dying condition, resulting from an accident at Vanceboro this morning.

Mrs. Fraser was on her way to her home from Boston, having left there on the train last evening. While the Montreal and Boston trains were being made up into one at Vanceboro Miss Fraser, who was standing on the end of the Pullman car, was thrown off in some manner and had one leg cut off and the other severely injured as well as receiving serious injuries to her head and internal injuries as well.

Word of the unfortunate affair was telegraphed to the C. P. R. offices here and Supt. Downie had the ambulance at the depot on the arrival of the train, and the injured woman was taken immediately to the public hospital.

Dr. Young of Vanceboro accompanied the stricken woman and did everything in his power to help her, but it was thought she could live to reach here. However life was not extant when the train arrived, and the baggage car in which she had been made comfortable on a cot, was shunted onto the south track near one of the side doors and the cot with its unaccountable broken up and conveyed as quickly as possible to the hospital, Dr. Young accompanying it.

Dr. James at the depot at the instance of Supt. Downie, and after making a brief examination he reported that the woman would not live more than a few hours at most.

One of the passengers who was in the baggage car with the unfortunate woman, had gone out to the end of the car presumably to get the fresh air. The train was then divided previous to making up the combined Boston and Montreal train which is effected at Vanceboro. When the other cars were added there was, as usual when a connection is made, a sudden jolt which caused Miss Fraser to fall off of the car onto the track. She fell beneath the wheels of the slowly moving car and was dragged about the length of a car before the train was stopped and she was extricated at that point. She was then taken to the hospital and a cot was hastily procured and she was carried to the baggage car, where there was more room for her to be properly looked after.

Dr. Young of Vanceboro was summoned to the city, though he could do little for her as her injuries are such that it is not considered possible for her to live.

Her age is thought to be about 35 or 40 years.

When taken from under the car her face was covered with blood and she presented such a ghastly sight that many had to turn away. It was about ten minutes to eight when the accident occurred.

Superintendent Downie wired to Amherst to notify her relatives as soon as he received word of the affair but has not as yet received a reply.

It is understood that Miss Fraser's occupation is that of a school teacher.

A telephone message from the hospital at 2:15 o'clock stated that Miss Fraser is dead.

GRAND BALL FOR PRINCE

FREDERICTON, N. B., Oct. 20--(Special)--R. S. Barker, the lieutenant-governor's private secretary, is busy today making preparations for the grand state ball to be held at the parliament buildings next Friday night in honor of Prince Louis of Battenberg. Several thousand invitations will be issued for the function, and people from all parts of the province are expected to attend.

Her condition today is quite favorable. The six-year-old daughter of W. J. Searcy of Williamsstown, Northumberland, died at Victoria Hospital last night from appendicitis.

Margaret, the six-year-old daughter of W. J. Searcy of Williamsstown, Northumberland, died at Victoria Hospital last night from appendicitis.

The trial of Harry McCherone, charged with the murder of Rev. F. C. Hartley, was to have commenced this morning, but owing to the indisposition of R. W. McLaughlin, defendant's counsel, it was adjourned until this afternoon.

A LIQUOR CASE

The case against Thomas Waters, charged with selling liquor on Sunday last from the drug store of J. Everett Waters, opened at the time of the court until one o'clock.

The information was laid by Sergeant Ross to Chief of Police Clark, the latter to Inspector Jones, and the latter laid the information before the court.

The first witness for the prosecution was John Nichols of Caledon, who said that he went to Waters' drug store on Sunday morning last between ten and ten-thirty o'clock and saw Thomas Waters there. He asked for liquor, and procured a bottle for which he paid twenty-eight cents.

Witness could not say what was in the bottle. Charles Nelson said he owed John Nichols fifty cents and paid it to him. About three-quarters of an hour after making the payment, Nichols brought to his house a little bottle, but gave him no money. Witness said he drank all of the contents of the bottle. Witness said he was not familiar with the bottle, but that what he got from Nichols was not whisky, brandy or gin. He could not say what it was. He would not drink water if he could get anything better.

Witness on being cross-examined stated that he got a square face of gin on this side of the harbor and took with him to his home. All day Sunday he drank it.

Serg. Ross went after Olson's father-in-law, J. Peter Wilson, who said that he went to Olson's house about ten o'clock last Sunday morning and found Olson intoxicated. He tasted the contents of a bottle on a table and thought it was gin and the supper room was cleaned out of everything. There were no more supplies. Everybody seemed to have money to spend and to be anxious to spend it. At times last evening it was impossible to get anywhere near some of the booths, especially those where the ladies were gazing in strange costumes.

The Dutch fraternal came for many admiring glances, both from the fair and sterner sex. The ladies in the Oriental booth were dressed all evening in the most demure and Rebecca's were again wearing the curious ones who greatly admired the Jewish robes and jewels and the almost endless masses of the fair attendants.

The quiet but rich costumes of the dames in the Domestic Society exhibit were much admired.

One of the most interesting features of the show is the French booth, where the pretty Miss. Chas. McLaughlin, where the pretty Goshko girls are sitting in and out continually and some adding cross-lamb on the floor with the inevitable fun, go through a picturesque bowing stunt. Mrs. DeForest in the French booth makes a charming Marie Antoinette and is ably assisted by Mesdames and Mesdemoiselles in appropriate costumes. In the Colonial

The directors speak hopefully of restoring the bank to solvency and resuming business in a month or six weeks, pointing to promises made by those making good the amount. They also express the hope that Mr. Clark's estate will amount to some $500,000 or $600,000, but in this they seem to be hoping against hope. What ever there is of it, will be used in straightening out the bank's affairs.

The amount of the state money supposed to be in the bank will probably reach $750,000, but the exact amount will not be known for some days yet.

PROCESSES DENIED UNION FOR FACTOR OF A UNION FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK

New Brunswick and P. E. Island Sunday School Associations Were Wedded This Morning--J. N. Harvey to Lead Adult Bible Class--Report of Executive Committee

MONCTON, N. B., Oct. 20--(Special)--The New Brunswick S. S. Association decided upon two important measures at this morning's session.

First, the convention acted upon the recommendation of the executive committee to organize an adult Bible class department. This new department was organized and J. N. Harvey, St. John, elected its first superintendent. The next step was historical and important in character. It was unanimously decided to unite the New Brunswick and P. E. I. Associations to be called the N. B. and P. E. I. S. S. Association.

The provisions of the union provide for the time of the general secretary being divided proportionately between the two provinces and the annual conventions are to be held alternately in New Brunswick and P. E. Island.

The minimum amount to be contributed by P. E. Island to the association is $500. The representative from the P. E. I. Association present authorized to examine the union moved by Rev. F. A. Wigham and John Morrison.

T. S. Simms, St. John, chairman of the executive committee, presented the report of the committee.

The report said in part: The committee, appointed at the Woodstock convention, immediately organized and took up the work of the year. The usual number of meetings were held and the interest of the members has been maintained by a good average attendance.

County conventions--This year they have all been held during the months of May and June in connection with the fourteenth annual conference of the S. S. A. of the province. In 1884 most schools had their infant class, but few, if any, had a primary department. There was a Bible class for adults in connection with many schools but of grading and separate departments was no part in Sunday School work and the department was unknown and the grade roll had not been born. Another day of the Fair of Nations has passed and has been even more successful than the opening day. Over three thousand people patronized the show yesterday and it would have been practically impossible at times for any more to squeeze in.

There was an abundance to eat and drink yesterday, the supplies did not run short, owing to the entirely unlooked for demand. Rebecca's were again wearing the curious ones who greatly admired the Jewish robes and jewels and the almost endless masses of the fair attendants.

The state today entered judgment against the bank directors on their individual bonds to secure its deposit. These securities can be collected at once. Tomorrow the directors of the bank will hold a meeting to consider the matter of applying for a receiver of the Santa Fe Central R.R. The object of this move is to secure reimbursement for any loan which may have been made to the promoters by Cashier Clark.

Mr. Peter Binks wishes to deny the rumor that is in circulation to the effect that he will not be able to attend the Prince's reception next Thursday night because of the one evening dress he possesses in his closet.

The new ferry steamer Ludlow was put on the route yesterday, but being an unprotected female, is not allowed to go out at night. Therefore Wm. Luog was was about opening schools of their own, the matter was given up for the time being. As there seems to be a prospect that these associations will now be willing to unite with this association in holding such a school a sub-committee from these associations will now be appointed to interview them to consider if this will be practicable.

Field secretary--Our present field secretary has now been in the work for a little more than a year, and your committee are pleased to report that his services are giving entire satisfaction, and encouraging reports appreciative of his work have been received from all parts of the field.

Finances--It looks as if this would be the best year in our history from the financial standpoint. The treasurer's statement shows gross returns at date of writing $3,723, expenses $3,474.18. It has been the aim of the finance committee to present to the convention a clean sheet and to make no special appeal for funds during our meeting.

The secretary has given special attention to the financial side of our work with a view to a new appropriation of amounts to be raised by the counties. It is expected that the county treasurers, with the secretary and provincial treasurer will survey the whole field and set order on finances that our work may be self-sustaining some of which have contributed largely in excess of their pledge, as may be seen by referring to the treasurer's report to which special attention is requested.

The report dealt with the necessity for teacher training and referred to the Sunday school tours and the Toronto sustentation S. S. convention and concluded with the following:

THE GREAT LAKES ARE SOFTLY SWEEP

IRVING RESTS WITH GARRICK

White Shadow of Shakespeare's Monument Falls Across Great Actor's Grave in the Abbey.

LONDON, Oct. 20--Beside the other actor, Garrick, and under the statue of Shakespeare, as the interpreter of whose plays he won fame, the ashes of Sir Henry Irving were today given burial in Westminster Abbey. The service was held in the presence of representatives of all walks of life. King Edward was represented by General Sir Lightfoot Proby, keeper of the privy purse, and the Prince of Wales by Lieut.-Col. Wm. H. P. Carrington, controller of the Prince's household, while the cabinet ministers and ambassadors attended in person. Whitlaw Reid, who is visiting in Scotland, came to London purposely to testify America's regard for the dead tragedian.

Long before the hour set for the service immense crowds gathered around the abbey and those having cards of admission were in their seats as early as ten o'clock. Those who were unable to secure admittance remained about the entrance until the conclusion of the ceremony when, in common with thousands of others they passed through to the burial place.

The service, although short and simple, was most impressive. Sharply at noon the procession started from the Chapel of St. Faith, where the casket containing the ashes had lain over night, and passed through the cloisters to the space between the choir and the sanctuary where the casket, covered with a pall of laurel wreaths, was placed on a catafalque. Lord Tennyson, the choir sang a hymn. Then followed the psalm "Lord, Thou hast been our refuge." The lesson was read by Canon Duckworth, the sub-dean of Westminster, who was assisted in the service by Bishop Weldon, Archbishop Wilberforce and Canon Hensley Henson.

The anthem over: "Crossing the Bar" and "Weep ye not for the dead." After the anthems the casket was borne to the grave as the organ played forth the funeral march from "Coriolanus." The only mourners were Lady Irving and the sons of Sir Henry Irving. A few intimate friends and the pallbearers, Sir Charles Tennant, the Earl of Aberdeen, Lord Tennyson, Lord Bunsford, Sir Alexander Mackenzie, Bechocha Trevelyan, Sir Lawrence Alma Tadema, Sir James Dowar, Arthur Wing Pinero, Burdett C. M. P. Sir Charles Wyndham, John Galsworthy, George Alexander and J. Forbes Robertson, followed the casket to the grave.

Of the case of formal pieces sent by friends and admirers of Irving but four were taken during the service. One of these was a cross of lilacs from Queen Alexandra bearing the words: "To Sir Henry Irving, from the Queen-into Thy hands, O Lord, into Thy hands."

That the death of Sir Henry is considered to be a national loss is shown by the universal mourning and throughout London. Scores of thousands of people stood in the streets for hours around the abbey as the only means of paying a last tribute, while for those who were unable to get into Westminster Abbey, services were held in several churches of the city.

TRAFFALGAR DAY

To-morrow will be Trafalgar Day and loyal Englishmen throughout the city will celebrate it.

Among the various celebrations will be the St. George's Society smoker in the assembly room of the York Theatre. Music will be furnished by Jones' orchestra, and D. Armstrong will accompany the singers. Arrangements for the programme are the following--Address by the president, Rev. George Skinner and Mayor White; a recitation by George King and songs by David Plagon, Harold Allison, S. Matthews, Mr. Morrison, and others. G. S. Mays will render the Death Song.

The rooms have been tastefully decorated with pictures and the portraits of Nelson will be exhibited, and the alms' motto, "He who dies for his country shall go his duty."

As the celebration of Trafalgar day will be 83 instead of 80 o'clock. Members are requested to wear their best.

The wedding of Miss Blanche Reynolds, daughter of Herbert A. Reynolds of the Portland Rolling Mills and E. Colegan, son of Le Baron Coleman, of Douglas avenue, manager of the Sydney Publishing Co., of Sydney, C. B., takes place on Wednesday morning next at the bride's residence.

PITIFUL CASE OF YOUNG NEW BRUNSWICK SQUAW

Alone and Out of Doors When Her Baby Was Born--Friendly Women Begged Clothes to Cover Infant--Bad Drought in Truro.

TRURO, Oct. 19--A pitiful occurrence took place at the Indian reserve two weeks ago. A squaw of eighteen years, who had left her young in Dorchester has been confined for a few weeks. A day or two ago in the open air where one of the camps, for she had no where else to go, she gave birth to a child. She is now housed in a rough shed and some of the nearby squaws look on her occasionally with pity. The child came into the world being begotten the town for clothing.

The drought surprises anything remembered here for over a quarter of a century. Small rivers, quaking brooks and low, wet swamps are dry. Partures in place have to carry water to their cattle

AND LIVES WERE LOST

Wind Reached 40 Miles an Hour at Detroit Last Night--All the Lakes Lashed by an Awful Gale and Wrecks Are Feared.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 20--The lower lakes were swept last night by the heaviest storm of the season. Navigation across the lake at Kila crossing, at the mouth of the Detroit River, is entirely suspended today for all but light draught craft. The forty mile south-west wind last night having lowered the stage of the water at the crossing to the lowest in many years.

The wind reached forty miles an hour here last night and today is blowing thirty miles and slowly increasing in velocity. Lake Huron is being lashed by a forty-two mile an hour gale off Alpena, while reports from Lake Erie today are that the wind is blowing forty-eight miles an hour. Reports to the westward are that a thirty mile wind blew last night on Lake Michigan. The Buffalo and Cleveland boats arrived safely and four hours late respectively.

QUEBEC, Oct. 20--During a fierce storm on Lake Erie today, the steamer Sarah E. Sheldon went ashore four miles east of Lorain. She carried a crew of thirteen men, a number of whom jumped overboard when the vessel began to go to pieces. It is believed that at least two of the crew were drowned. The Sheldon will be a total wreck.

The steamer Wisconsin while leaving the Lorain harbor last night ran upon a partly completed breakwater and for a time the vessel was threatened with destruction by the heavy sea. Later she was pulled off and it is now believed the boat has not sustained great damage.

The steamer Sarah E. Sheldon, today, loaded with coal for Detroit river and left here last night evening. She was caught short after she left this port and it is thought because unmanageable as the result of a broken rudder. The boat finally struck on the rocks four miles east of Lorain and will go to pieces. The Sheldon is a wooden vessel built in 1875 and is owned here.

The steamer Pease, a freight carrier, which left here last night barely escaped striking the breakwater as she was leaving the port during the height of the storm. The vessel was thrown on her beam ends repeatedly. She finally managed to turn and reverse the boiler.

NEW BRUNSWICK BRIGANTINE LOST

SYDNEY, C. B. Oct. 20--(Special)--The steamer Christian Borg, Captain Hillcock arrived in port last night, having on board Capt. Zacharias and H. W. Palmer, rescued in 1832 N. long, 33 1/2 W. on Saturday, October 14th. The Palmer left Bon-touche Roads, N. B. on October 2nd, and with a cargo of 211 standards of deals for Queenstown for orders on Tuesday, October 11th the vessel struck with a severe hurricane, sprang aloft and after the wind had moderated sailed into the track of ocean steamers, where she met the Christian Borg. The water was rapidly that by few provisions were saved, and the log book, charts, compass and all papers and instruments and effects of the crew were lost. Before leaving the derelict kerosene oil was applied to the fire already lit and the ship was left to burn. The object being to remove her from the track of ocean-going traffic.

The Palmer was built in Dorchester, N. B. in 1882, and was owned by Peterson & Ullinso, of Port Jervis, Norway. She was 400 tons register, and besides the captain carried a crew of eight men.

OTTAWA, Oct. 20--(Special)--The pupils of the Separate Public Normal and Model Schools were to have joined in the celebration of Nelson Day in the afternoon, but on account of wet weather it was postponed until to-morrow evening. Capt. Grey and Hon. R. W. Scott were to have addressed the children.

The Times New Reporter.

A man was reported by the police yesterday for going out on the beach and charging a gun. This is commendable, and an example should be made of this man. He should know the law and obey it. If he must go out with a gun, he should go into the woods after noon, pick out his man and shoot to kill.

Mr. Jansoney Jones has been looking up the question of precedence as it relates to social functions. He wants to know if he should precede Mr. Peter Binks or whether Mr. Binks should precede him in standing on the sidewalk to see Prince Louis pass on his way to the Union Club. If he sees the Prince first, Mr. Binks will see him last, and just how this might affect the standing of the two families a generation hence is a matter of grave importance. He is determined that the linkness of the future shall not look down on the Joneses because of any laxity on his part.

Mr. Kid McCoy has decided to stop prize fighting and to change his name. This is the result of being five times married. It is perhaps only fair that Mr. McCoy should change his own name at least once in five matrimonial events, and it is also doubtless true that such an experience would give a man a distaste for fighting in the ring.

A rumor got abroad yesterday that the police magistrate intended to proceed against the Times for the alleged picture of him which appeared in this paper last night. The rumor arose from the fact that he and the recorder were driving around together in a carriage. What they were planning was a joint celebration of St. Patrick's Day and the Twelfth of July, to be held next June.
