Roumania May Be In War

London, Aug. 14—A British official statement issued tonight tells of the latest offensive by the British troops between La Bassee and Arras. It reads as follows:

Yesterday afternoon, after a bombardment, we attacked the enemy's trenches, under cover of a cloud of smoke and gas from a point about 600 yards southwest of Hulluch to the Hohenzollern redoubt. It reads as follows:

"Yesterday afternoon, after a bombardment, we attacked the enemy's trenches, under cover of a cloud of smoke and gas from a point about 600 yards southwest of Hulluch to the Hohenzollern redoubt. We gained about 1,000 yards of trenches just south and west of Hulluch, but were unable to maintain our position there, owing to the enemy's shell fire.

"Southwest of St. Elie we prepared and held the enemy's trench behind the Vermelles Hulluch road, and the southwestern edge of the quarries, both inclusive. We also captured a trench on the northwest side of the forest. We captured the main trench of the Hohenzollern redoubt, but the enemy is still in two communicating trenches between the redoubt and the quarries."

NAVAL FIGHT REPORTED IN GULF OF FINLAND.

Stockholm, via London, Oct. 15, 3.09 a .m.—The Aftonbladet's frontier correspondent says a naval fight has occurred near Porkala, in the Gulf of Finland. One cruiser is reported to have been sunk and another heavily damaged.

The correspondent adds that a Zeppelin has raided the Finnish coast, causing fires.

Porkala is a peninsula in the Gulf of Finland, twenty miles southwest of Helsingfors, and about 200 miles west of Petrograd. While no mention is made in the despatch from Stockholm as to the nationality of the vessels engaged, it is presumed that if a sea battle has taken place it was between Russian and German warships.

The Gulf of Finland, off Porkala, is the most northerly point where fighting in the world-war is reported to have taken place.

London, Oct. 14—Sir Edward

ALMANAC FOR ST JOHN, OCT 15.

where fighting in the world-war in the house of commons today on the situation in the Balkans, but as he dealt with the diplomatic side of the question, he added little to the knowledge of the public, and failed to satisfy curiosity as to the progress of the Anglo-French expedition landed at Saloniki. He did say, however, that Russian troops would co-operate "as soon as they were available."

The French premier, M. Viviani, had more cheering news for the Allied countries when, in the French senate, he expressed the belief that "the Allies can count on Italian co-operation in the Balkans."

There is naturally much speculation as to how Italian and Russian assistance will be afforded. Italy has a large number of troops available, and the means of moving them to the desired spot, but Russia is handicapped in this respect, and there is an indication here to believe a report from Rome that Petrograd has asked Roumania to allow Russian troops to pass through her territory on the way to Bulgaria. To grant such a request would be construed by Germany as tantamount to a definite alliance with the entente, and would doubtless result in Austro-German troops attacking Roumania. This, it is thought, might happen anyway, as Germany has already shown her displeasure with Roumania's refusal to allow munitions to pass through to Turkey, and now it is reported that Germany has suspended the postal service and is holding up all foodstuffs consigned to Roumania over German railroads until Bucharest more clearly defines its attitude toward the central powers.

These diplomatic questions are not delaying the military aperations. PORT OF ST JOHN. Arrived Yesterday. CANADIAN PORTS.

until Bucharest more clearly defines its attitude toward the central powers.

These diplomatic questions are not delaying the military operations. They are, however, meeting with stern resistance, and although under constant attack since Oct. 5, the Serbians are giving ground only foot by foot. The extent of the Bulgarian invasion up to the preesnt, according to a despatch from Nish, consists of an advance over the frontier at one point of a mile. With this exception, says the report, the fighting line remains intact, and the railways have not yet been reached.

It is reported also that the Allies have begun an offensive in the Dardanelles, to keep the Turks busy. The Russians are continuing their attacks in Galicia, in an effort to clear the Austrians from the Roumanian frontier and prevent them from sending any further reinforcements against Serbia.

In fact, there appears to be a general attack on all the German fronts. The British and French, Berlin relates, have attacked in Flanders and Champagne, while the German official report of the campaign in Russia is a record of counter attacks against the Russians, who are endeavoring to regain the initiative.

Even the Belgian coast is not excepted, British monitors again having bombarded the German position along this coast. British submarines in the Baltic so far have sunk ten German ore-carrying steamers and have completely paralyzed the ore trade between Sweden and Germany. This has caused some dissatisfaction in Sweden, and it is charged that two steamers were sunk within Swedish territorial waters. But the British assert that they have been studiously observing international laws, and have been sinking only German steamers.
