"The Scottish people have a very warm feling for Canada and Canadians," said Judge Patterson, and he added that during the war more than eighty per cent. of the Canadian soldiers on leave spent their furloughs in Scotland and of these sixty-five per cent. passed their leave in Edinburgh."

In the aggregate of all games played the Nova Scotia rink made the best showing with 276 points up, but in the match games for the Strathcona cup the Manitoba rinks were the best among the Canadians with the Quebec curlers coming in second place. "The Nova Scotia team saved the day for the Canadians in their match with the City of Edinburgh and in another match also," said Judge Patterson and he very frankly added, "we lost one match for them too."
