ADVISES NEW BRUNSWICK TO WAKE UP AND GET SHARE OF NEW CANADIAN SETTLERS

Colonel Lamb of Salvation Army, Here to See About 12,000 Newcomers, Talks Plainly About Position of Province in Matter

Colonel D. C. Lamb, immigration commissioner of the Dominion Army, with headquarters in London, arrived here today from England on the S. S. Empress of Britain. His mission in this country is to make arrangements for the coming of Salvation Army immigrants this season. In conversation with a "Times" reporter, Colonel Lamb said that the army expected to bring out about 12,000 immigrants during the season, and that they would mostly all go to Western points. "You people here in New Brunswick are altogether too slow," he said. "Why, you don't try at all to interest the immigrant to stay in your province, but you do all you can to shove them off to the west. No wonder your census figures show a decline. If you would only get busy and induce some of them to stay east, why you would be much further advanced than you are at the present time."

"Australia is making a great bid for the old country immigrants at the present time and during the last couple of years has secured about 25,000. This, of course, is a distinct loss to Canada. The immigrants that are coming out to this country nowadays are, on the whole, a most desirable class of people, and would make excellent citizens. Tell your people to get busy and interest themselves in the matter. You have the opportunities here, the lands, farms, etc., but hardly anyone knows of them but yourselves. Wake up, before it is too late."

Colonel Lamb will leave tonight for Portland, Me., to look into matters there after which he will go to Ottawa to interview the Dominion Government regarding immigration work, paying particular attention to the maritime provinces. He expects to return to the old country about Christmas time.

FIRST SLEIGHING

About an Inch of Snow Came With Early Morning Storm

St. John people are enjoying their first sleigh ride of the season today. Although it rained constantly all day yesterday, the temperature took a sudden drop during the night and snow started falling early this morning. The lowest temperature during the morning was 29 degrees. The wind was blowing from the northwest and at times was quite a gale.

Up to noon about one inch of snow had fallen, but the wind changed and the storm ceased. The probabilities are now for somewhat colder weather. Sleighs were seen on the streets this morning and the going was fairly good. The rainfall yesterday amounted to one-tenth of an inch.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH MATTERS

At the preparatory service held in St. David's church last evening two new members were received by certificates. Rev. J. H. A. Anderson, interim moderator, presided, and the sermon was delivered by Rev. W. W. Malcolm. This is the first occasion on which Mr. Malcolm has preached in the church, of which he was formerly a member, and his sermon, taken from Psalm 24, made an excellent impression on the congregation.

Three new members, two by profession of faith and one by certificate, were added to the membership of St. Andrew's church at the preparatory service which was held last evening. Rev. David Lang, club pastor, presided, and the sermon was delivered by Rev. J. J. McCaskill.

The session of the church met before the service and appointed a committee consisting of Hon. J. G. Forbes, W. C. Whitaker and Alex. Wilton to arrange for pulpit supply after the departure of Rev. Mr. Lang. The session also decided to invite Rev. C. Y. Goodson, who has been conducting revival services at Norton, to occupy the pulpit during the month of December.

MASONIC GRAND OFFICERS RETURN

The members of the Grand Lodge of the Masonic Order of New Brunswick, who have been visiting the lodges on the North Shore, returned to the city on Friday afternoon. The party consisted of Dr. H. S. Bridges, Grand Master; F. J. G. Kingston, grand treasurer; J. Twining Hart, grand secretary, and C. D. Jones, grand director of ceremonies.

The annual visit to the lodge in Bathurst was made on Tuesday evening, and on Wednesday the officers paid a visit to the Dalhousie lodge. An important feature of the tour was the dedication of the new Masonic Hall in Campbellton, at which they assisted on Thursday evening. Initiations of new members took place in both Bathurst and Campbellton.

Doctor Bridges said this morning that the fraternity is in good condition in that part of the province, and that the meetings were very satisfactory.
