PETER FINED TWENTY FOR ASSAULTING MERISSES

Boy Deserter Who Do Not Enjoy Jail;
A Civic Suit Over a Grocery Bill

In the police court this morning two drunks were fined the usual amount.

Andrew Petropolis was charged by George Meresses with assault. W. Watson Allan appeared for the defendant and E. S. Ritchie for the prosecution. The complainant testified that he and Peter Economy went into a Mill street pool room Wednesday night and Petropolis, who was in charge, refused to allow them to play, called him some very bad names, ordered him out of the place and finished with threats to him to the floor, where he punched and kicked him.

Thomas Goodwin gave evidence that he saw Petropolis assault the complainant, as did Peter Economy.

The prisoner denied the charge and Wm. McIntyre testified that the prisoner did not assault Meresses.

The weight of evidence was against the prisoner and he was fined $20 or two months jail.

Wm. Gordon, Owen Bond, aged 16 years, and Thomas Currie, aged 13 years, were before the court charged by R. Wren, chief officer of the C. P. R. steamer Lake Erie with absconding themselves from the ship without notice.

The three boys ran away from the ship on Wednesday, one of them secured work in the McAvity foundry, where he was located by Detective Cook of the C. P. R. who also rounded up the other two boys at the Marsh Bridge.

The captain of the Erie having promised to return the boys to Liverpool requested that they be held until the steamer is ready for sea.

The young sailors this morning said that the reason they left the ship was because the boatswain beat them. One night in the cells was enough for them said the smallest of the trio this morning. "I hope they don't keep us here for I want to go over to England where I have a mother and father to keep."

They were sent to jail to await the time for the sailing of the ship.

Mr. Seeley testified to the delivery of the goods. The case was adjourned at one o'clock and this afternoon the two lawyers will accompany Geo. A. Buchanan, the police clerk, to Carleton, where he will take the defendant's evidence by commission.

THE FINEST SINGING SINCE NORDIGA

Large Audience Delighted With Last Evening's Concert.

Mrs. Lizzie Blair Miller, Former St. John Lady, Is Possessed of Unusual Ability—An Artistic Treat

What may fairly be described as a very large and appreciative audience gathered in St. David's church last night at L. W. Titus' concert to hear Mrs. Lizzie Blair Miller, and it was satisfactory to observe that the musical public were alive to the fact of the presence in their midst of a former St. John girl who has now become a gifted and accomplished artist and who, dwelling in another land, reflects honor on her native city as its most honored daughter in the realm of song. Especially must last night's performance have been gratifying to Mr. Titus who was responsible for the early vocal training of Mrs. Miller when she was Miss Lizzie Blair Olive, and having thus laid the foundation for her present superb vocal equipment, ample and convincing evidence of which was displayed during last evening. From the above it will rightly be inferred that the audience were competent to criticize and prepared to do so, but after Mrs. Miller had sung her first number, which was the graceful and bewitching music of Haydn's "Clara's Prayer," with its limpid melody, it was felt irresistibly that criticism, to use a colloquial phrase, had "lost its job" for the time being and nothing prevailed but that admiration and appreciation which is involuntarily called forth towards the sweetest and simplest of her lower register. Her power of "painting" each song in appropriate vocal tone colors was evidenced throughout, notably in "Land of Roses," White's "Spring Song," and the Nevin selection. She completely won the hearts of her hearers and had, moreover, to respond to hearty encores, and it is safe to say that not since "Lucifer" from Mendelssohn's "Elijah." Her other classical number was Handel's "Rejoice Greatly," which showed her great flexibility of voice, the singular evenness and richness of all the tones in her vocal range, and impresses the hearer as well as the brilliance of her upper tones and the sweetness and limpidity of her lower register. The remainder of the programme, which was commendably not of a lengthy order was made up of two much appreciated organ solos by D. Arnold Fox, who also played the accompaniments throughout, many of them of a most exciting nature, with sympathy and distinction—and three numbers by the Union Male Quartette, led by the talented organist of the concert, which were listened to with much pleasure, notably Buck's "Lead Kindly Light."

It is hoped that Mrs. Miller will at no far distant date again visit St. John and give its music lovers an opportunity of renewing pleasurable recollections.

The sudden running of the ice and the breaking away of the ice bridge at Fredericton carried down large quantities of logs, and all this forenoon three or four tugs were busy in the Springfield, and later by the Elaine. Reports from Brown's Flats this morning are to the effect that as far as the eye can see the river is filled with loose ice moving rapidly down, and that in two days at least all will be clear.

The steamer Elaine, bound for St. John this morning, was having quite a lively time making her way through the jam of ice in the Reach. She had to go along at slow speed and it took some careful manoeuvring of the wheel to keep her in the straight path. The Elaine was making all stops on the way down from Wichham, which passed Brown's Flats upward bound at two o'clock yesterday, was not reported on her return till 11 this forenoon, but will likely return to St. John early this afternoon.
