

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

SUMMARY NEWS.

On Monday, the ice bridge has formed on the Ottawa River, at Gatineau Point. Hog cholera, plague is killing off the herds of swine in Essex County, Ont.

R. G. Dun & Co. report 52 Canadian failures this week, against 40 in the same period last year. Polling on whether or not the Scott Act shall be repealed in Western Canada will take place January 6th.

A fire took place at Amherst, Dec. 1, which destroyed $20,000 worth of property, including the Seaside building. It is said the Minister of Justice has refused to interfere in the Florida case and the condemned man must be hanged on Jan. 3.

The Minister of Marine and Fisheries has decided to allow Indian on the Kestigouche River, the privilege of free fishing for smelts. John Jones, aged 27 years, a farmer of Asphodel Township, Ont., who, it is alleged, was disappointed in love, took his life by hanging on Sunday.

Three children, named Gangel, were burned to death at Gladstone, Man. during their mother's absence Monday. Their ages ranged from one to four years. The Ministerial Association of Toronto has declared in approval of the statute, which allows councils to pass curfew by laws. This is apropos of Ald. Bell's curfew by-law.

John Fraser, of Erin, Ont., was tried before Judge Chadwick on charges of forgery, writing and sending through mails obscene literature and theft. He was sentenced to two years. James Murchie, the veteran St. Stephen lumber operator, now in his 83rd year sent another crew of men to the woods at Musquash this week to operate during the winter.

The old Halifax penitentiary on the Arm has been purchased by the People's fuel, heat and light company for $5,000. It comprises some 20 acres in all. A strong committee has been appointed in Halifax to undertake the erection of a statue of the late Joseph Howe. A dollar subscription will likely be solicited from different parts of the Dominion.

Rev. Dr. Shaw, assistant missionary secretary of the Methodist church, who was seriously injured by being run down by a trolley while riding a bicycle in a Toronto street, died Tuesday night. He was aged about 65. The Standard Oil and Gas Company has been drilling in No. 5 well, two miles east of Kingsville, Ont., over a month and Wednesday they struck a gusher estimated at seven million pressure, and said to be the strongest well in the field.

The employees of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, presented Mr. John Lowe, ex-Dputy Minister of the Department, with a complimentary address and a beautiful silver tea service, on the occasion of his retirement from the service. Halifax citizen impersonated a clergyman and married a country couple. They lived together for some time before finding out the trick that had been played on them. A legal marriage followed and now a suit is being taken against the citizen.

The Annapolis Spectator says that the trustees of Upperylesford district have notified Joseph Paul, an Indian, that he must not send his children to the district school.

Although the modus vivendi, of 1888, has been wiped off the Statute Book, says an Ottawa despatch, by order-in-council, the privileges it conferred upon the United States fishermen are still extended as a matter of grace, to them on payment of the prescribed license fee.

On Saturday Justice Falconbridge sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary William Curry, a farmer, who set fire to the barns of his daughter's husband in King township. Curry's crime was for revenge, his wife having left him and gone to live with her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. James Willis, of Mount Dalhousie, Pictou, celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of the married life. Mr. Willis is now eighty-three years of age, and his wife is in her eighty-sixth year. The aged couple are still in vigorous health.

John W. Patterson, the absconding teller of the Traders' Bank at Stratford, by P. D. Nowlan, George S. Dait, and his wife is in her eighty-sixth year. The aged couple are still in vigorous health. John W. Patterson, the absconding teller of the Traders' Bank at Stratford, by P. D. Nowlan, George S. Dait, and his wife is in her eighty-sixth year.

The Ontario Government, it is said, will not accede to the wishes of the commercial travellers, who requested that an inspector of hotels should be appointed to see that the sanitary conditions of public houses was satisfactory. A remedy for the complaint can be found in the local Boards of Health.

Alex. McDonald, aged 25, was killed at Hillabro, Friday. He was engaged at work in the Albert Manufacturing Co's quarry when a stone fell striking him on the head. He was killed instantly, never speaking a word. Deceased had been working there several years. He was a son of Angus McDonald.

Fire at Alberton, P. E. I., Thursday evening is supposed to have originated in a defective flue in Skerry's book and seed store, which it soon destroyed. There was no insurance. The clock was saved. The store of Wm. Clark was destroyed, but the goods were saved; no insurance. The residence and barn of Edmund Wallace were also burned; no insurance. Two vacant dwelling houses were also burned.

An attempt was made to rob the Kingston, Kent, post office Monday night. The burglar effected an entrance by breaking a window, but left without securing any booty. He evidently made off in a hurry, as he left a pair of mitts behind. A young man named George Wade was arrested Tuesday on suspicion of having committed the crime. He confessed after being arrested, and was lodged in jail.—Review.

Mr. C. F. Brown, station agent at Jacques River, had quite an experience a few days ago. He was attending to work at his office when a man named McDonald, crazed from liquor, burst open the office door and entered. He called on Brown to surrender, declaring he had instructions from President Cleveland to make him a prisoner. To enforce his authority, McDonald drew from his pocket what Mr. Brown thought was a revolver, but which proved to be a claw hammer. To add to the embarrassment of the situation a call came from Mr. Brown from some other station, but he does not seem to answer it. He is being attacked with the hammer. The situation was getting quite awkward, when Section Foreman Donnelly came along. He seized McGowan, and with other assistance quickly bound his hands and feet with rope. On the next train McGowan was sent to Dalhousie, where he was sent to jail for four months, so that he could sober up and carry out President Cleveland's orders in a more rational way. The friends of Mr. Brown are congratulating him on his escape from such a perilous encounter.

John Daly, who is now serving a sentence of penal servitude, for connection with the dramatic conspiracy of 1884, and whose recent election to the House of Parliament was cancelled for this reason, was on Monday elected High Sheriff of the city of Limerick by the corporation. It is not considered probable that the Viceroy of Ireland will sanction the corporation's choice.

Thomas F. Bayard, United States Ambassador to England, presided at the dinner of the Locomotive Engineers Benevolent Society in London recently. In his address he dwelt upon the international dependence of different callings of society, accentuating the indissoluble tie of humanity the world over, and declaring that while parties and forms of government might differ, the sense of human brotherhood was stronger and better than all else. If the hand workers could realize the feeling of the brain workers toward them, it would make Great Britain stronger and better.

Theodore Durant, the murderer of two young women in a church at San Francisco, has been denied a new trial. He will appeal to the Supreme Court. In the American Senate Wednesday resolutions were offered by Allan (Pop. Hoar, (Rep. Mass.) with reference to representations of protest to be made to the Turkish Sultan, and by Squire (Rep. Wash.) for appropriation for coast and lake defence.

The New York Central Express on the New York Central Road, after two futile attempts to reduce the running time between New York and Buffalo, but succeeded, Wednesday, in wiping out all previous records by making the schedule time of 10 hours, and arriving at the Central Depot, Buffalo with five minutes to spare.

PAIGE—At Amherst, Dec. 4. Amos Paige, silver-smith, born 1803. This advanced age was attained by temperate habits, a judicious use of the medicine of a beloved daughter, and the blessing of God. He was the delicate one of his father's family, being afflicted with asthma from a child, yet outlived them all by many years. He was baptised at Amherst, in the year 1820, by the pastor, Rev. James Munro, was a member for a short time of Leinster St. church, St. John, and at the time of his death belonged to the Amherst church. He was a constant reader of the Bible, and a lover of the great works of literature in regard to his contents. He was an old fashioned Baptist, and was one of the first to advocate the Temperance Reform. During the last four months he was confined to his bed, being unable to take a recumbent position. He bore the infirmities of extreme age with patience, and having suffered according to the will of God was at last gathered to his fathers. His funeral services were observed by the Baptist church in Amherst, on Friday, in December, at 10 o'clock, and his body laid to rest in the old cemetery, where sleep all the fathers of the place.

THE PUBLISHERS OF THE YOUTH'S COMPANION are sending to their subscribers free an art Calendar which will be highly appreciated. Four elegant water color paintings are reproduced in all the beauty of color and design of the originals, and of such size (7 1/2 x 10 inches) that they may be framed with fine effect. The first two pictures offer a striking contrast—a blustering winter with the sugar orchard, and a peaceful scene in midsummer. Then follows the noontide scene in the harvest field, a charming bit of color with a foreground of goldenrod and brilliant autumn foliage. The winter scene is in black and white, the snow-covered fields is the last of the series. To all new subscribers to the paper who send their name and address and $1.75 at once, the Publishers offer to send this handsome Calendar, lithographed in color, by express, the retail price of which is 50 cents. The Companion free every week to January 1, 1896, including the Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's double numbers, and The Youth's Companion fifty-two weeks, a full year to January 1, 1896.

MOODY—VAUGHAN.—At the bride's home, Harborville, Kings Co., N. S., Dec. 4th, by Rev. D. H. Simpson, Perry Moody, to Florence Vaughan, daughter of the late Nathan Vaughan, of the sugar orchard, and a peaceful scene in midsummer. Then follows the noontide scene in the harvest field, a charming bit of color with a foreground of goldenrod and brilliant autumn foliage. DEATHS. BAILLIE.—At Westport, Nov. 8th, in faint child of brother and sister Baillie. RICHARDS.—At Pugwash, Nov. 3rd, Ella, beloved daughter of Guselle and James Richards, aged 21 years. COUGHS.—At Westport, Nov. 1st, Arthur W. Coggins, aged 33 years. Deceased was a member of the Baptist church and died in sure and certain hope of a glorious resurrection. PURDY.—At Wallace River, Nov. 21st, Ann D., wife of Adolphus Purdy, aged 73 years, leaving three sons and six daughters to mourn their loss. "She is not dead, but sleeping in the arms of her Lord." MOODY.—At Pugwash, Nov. 6th, after a long and severe illness, John Moody, aged 77. His faith was firm and clear, expressing itself thus: "There is a bright eternity before me." May God comfort the widow. BARNHILL.—At Wallace Bridge, Nov. 10th, after an illness of two weeks, Charles Langill, aged 25 years. Our brother professed faith in Christ two years ago and when he entered the valley of death Jesus was his light. VINCENT.—At the residence of his son-in-law, Rev. W. J. Blakely, Newswick, Thomas, was "slept in" his 83rd year. He leaves two children, a son and daughter, six grandchildren and one great-grandchild. The deceased lived the most of his life at Rothesay, Kings Co., N. B. (See John papers please copy).

DODGE.—At his home, Middleton, N. S., Nov. 23rd, Dr. Dodge fell asleep in Jesus. Eleven months ago he was baptised by Rev. Isa. Wallace and united with the Butternut Ridge, N. B., Baptist church. Since then he has adorned his profession by a consistent Christian walk. During his residence in Havlock he made for himself many warm friends who esteemed him for his many sterling qualities. To his widow, three children, and many friends we commend the good in his life, the Spirit whom he loved, that they may join him in the heaven he has attained.

OLIVER.—At Litchfield, N. S., Nov. 30th, after a very painful illness borne with christian resignation, Susan, wife of David Oliver, aged 57 years. She leaves a husband, and four children to mourn their loss. Sister Oliver was baptised when quite young by Rev. James Spenser, and united with the Baptist church at Parker's Cove, remaining a faithful and consistent member until the angel of transition called her to depart and to be with Christ which our sister resolved to be far better. A large circle of relatives and friends unite with their sincere sympathy with the bereaved family.

CORBETT.—At Five Islands, Nov. 21st, Elias Corbett, widow of the late Marsden Corbett, of Five Islands, and youngest sister of the late Rev. S. Thompson, aged 85 years. She was baptised at Lower Economy, Sept. 6th, 1895, by Rev. Walter Rees Waters, then pastor of the Lower Economy and Five Islands Baptist church. Her late husband was baptised the 20th of the same month and year by the same pastor, being the first candidate baptised by pastor Waters after his arrival in Nova Scotia from England. Sister Corbett, for death, but died patiently the appointed hour till her change came. J. S.

THURBER.—At Freeport, Digby Co., N. S., Sep. 20, Emiline, beloved wife of Capt. George A. Thurber, aged 43 years. She was a great sufferer for several months, but later husband and her inevitable she resigned herself cheerfully to the will of God, although of course nature clung to her beloved husband and aged mother and two little children, 10 and 8 years of age. Her husband was away on the great voyage and she had to face the last enemy without his presence to cheer her, but she was happy in the love of Christ. The church has lost a praying christian, and one who loved forward to brighter worlds to work. A very large number attended her funeral.
