

THE LESSON THAT PARENTS AND CHILDREN LEARN FROM HIS LIFE.

Mother get your children ready. I speak to the mothers, and I speak to the Sunday-school teachers, get your children ready.

There never was a time in the history of this country like the present for the opportunities for even the poorest and most ignorant to do good if they want to.

It wants to be taught by the mothers that commerce ought to be conducted on Bible principles, and that labor and capital should be used in harmony with the golden rule.

The future of this country is very largely in the hands of the mothers. We should teach our children to have right ideas, and encourage them to propagate their ideas.

My father used to encourage his boys to talk. Boys as we were had our opinions upon politics and other things. We talked with each other, and our father used to interpose; and some of the things he said about politics and other things remain with me to this day.

I do wish that mothers here would say, "I will have a Samuel. My boy or my girl shall be devoted to God and to goodness. I will bring up my child to have a right idea, and I will do my very utmost that my child, when he is a man, shall come out on the right side of the question; and before he is a man, even in his play he shall be known as the boy that never cheats."

Early consecration is the pathway to honor and greatness. It is the only political opinion. It is for you to act conscientiously, to act in the fear of God, and teach your child to vote according to his conscience. Remember that. For his vote he must account at the bar of God.

Early consecration is the pathway to honor and greatness. It is the only political opinion. It is for you to act conscientiously, to act in the fear of God, and teach your child to vote according to his conscience. Remember that. For his vote he must account at the bar of God.

Early consecration is the pathway to honor and greatness. It is the only political opinion. It is for you to act conscientiously, to act in the fear of God, and teach your child to vote according to his conscience. Remember that. For his vote he must account at the bar of God.

Early consecration is the pathway to honor and greatness. It is the only political opinion. It is for you to act conscientiously, to act in the fear of God, and teach your child to vote according to his conscience. Remember that. For his vote he must account at the bar of God.

Early consecration is the pathway to honor and greatness. It is the only political opinion. It is for you to act conscientiously, to act in the fear of God, and teach your child to vote according to his conscience. Remember that. For his vote he must account at the bar of God.

Early consecration is the pathway to honor and greatness. It is the only political opinion. It is for you to act conscientiously, to act in the fear of God, and teach your child to vote according to his conscience. Remember that. For his vote he must account at the bar of God.

Early consecration is the pathway to honor and greatness. It is the only political opinion. It is for you to act conscientiously, to act in the fear of God, and teach your child to vote according to his conscience. Remember that. For his vote he must account at the bar of God.

Early consecration is the pathway to honor and greatness. It is the only political opinion. It is for you to act conscientiously, to act in the fear of God, and teach your child to vote according to his conscience. Remember that. For his vote he must account at the bar of God.

NEWS AND NOTABILLIA.

Miss Murdock and Miss Buck, two women students at the Manchester New College, Oxford, have been invited to undertake the joint pastorate of the Unitarian church at Cleveland, Ohio.

In the 17th century a pamphlet was published entitled "The Spiritual Mustard Pot, to Make the Soul Sneeze with Devotion; Salvation's Vantage Ground, or a Louping Sand for Heavy Believers."

The Wesleyan Methodist Church of England, the Mother Church of Methodism, reports 427,739 full members, besides 30,016 on trial. This shows an increase for the year of 2,780 full members and of 4,476 on trial.

The Bishop of Ripon, at a meeting of the Children's Happy Evening Association recently, said he was especially glad to see that the old fairy tales held a place among children's amusements, and he said, "God bless those who filled a young child's mind with fairy tales."

It is not uncommon for a barrister to become a clergyman. The instances must not be few, however, in which a man is called to the bar and ordained in the same year. This was the case of the Rev. Sydney Adolphus Boyd, vicar of St. Giles, Norwich. Mr. Boyd has been at once a clergyman and a barrister a little over a dozen years.

Rev. Theo. J. Parr, who was pastor of the Western Congregational church in Toronto for a year or more, and who has just completed his course at Victoria College, with marked honor, will go up for ordination at the coming Niagara conference. Mr. Parr maintained his connection with the Methodist church, though occupying a Congregational pulpit.

The congregation at Fifth Avenue Baptist church, New York, recently subscribed $30,000 in a single collection, in response to the pastor's appeal on behalf of foreign missions. Leicester, England Wesleyans have lately shown that all the generosity is not in the land of millionaires, though they fell somewhat below the achievement of the New York church. At a meeting in support of their great extension scheme they raised over £4,000.

In looking up past history, it is interesting to notice that the Bishopric of Ely has furnished to the realm as many great officers as any other in the kingdom, for it has given to the State no fewer than nine Lord Chancellors, seven Lord Treasurers, one Lord Privy Seal, one Chancellor of the University of Oxford, one Chancellor of the Exchequer, two Masters of the Rolls, two Saints in the Church, two Cardinals in the Church of Rome, and to the English Court (including the present Lord Bishop) four Almoners.

His Holiness Pope Leo XIII. in his youth was a great walker, and during the thirty years that he was Bishop of Perugia, he continued the habit of his early days; but since his election Leo XIII. has not crossed the threshold of the Vatican. He is an enthusiast in the culture of wines; the gardens of the Vatican have been almost entirely turned into vineyards, which the Pope personally superintends with the greatest interest. Leo XIII. has a strong liking for the English language, which he is said to speak perfectly, and which he uses conversationally in preference to any other when occasion permits.

The New York Sun says:—We do not agree with the prominent individual who maintains that society could not exist under the principles of the gospel; that the laws and methods of business would be destroyed thereby, and that social chaos would be the result. We say that we should have no laws, customs or practices that are incompatible with the righteousness, charity and faith, which are the foundation stones of christianity. Yet we admit that if the precepts of the New Testament were put in practice by all christians, great changes would soon be brought about in christiandom and in the whole world.

This year the Free church of Scotland—the church of Chalmers and Candlish, of Dr. Guthrie and Hugh Miller—is celebrating its jubilee. It is now just 50 years since the Free church separated from the state after a struggle remembered as "The Ten Years' Conflict." In 1843 the number of its ordained ministers was 474, at present it is 1,122. Meanwhile the income of the church has steadily risen from £300,000 per annum to over £2,000,000. The missionary income of the undivided church in the seven years before the disruption was £16,000 a year; that of the Free church during the first seven years of its existence was £35,000 annually, and at present it averages about £100,000.

The exodus of foreign Jews from Russia is assuming large proportions last year was the period of grace for their emigration; patriation is growing shorter. On an average each departing Russian steamer from Odessa to the Levant carries from 100 to 150 Jewish families. The emigration overland westward is commensurately large. There are still about 15 thousand Jews, classed under the term "Black Hundreds," in the Black Sea provinces. This regulation leads to very painful scenes, and the police and gendarmes who enforce it are not infrequently more than a little brutal in the execution of their duty.

The Rev. R. Y. Whytehead, Vicar of Madingley, a village near Cambridge, is one of the few energetic country clergymen seldom to be met with nowadays. Possessing a fair knowledge of bricklaying and carpentering, and finding the village sorely in need of a parish room, he recently accomplished the task of laying something over 30,000 bricks, and with the aid of the village policeman as assistant carpenter, has given the inhabitants a thoroughly substantial building. Adjoining the vicarage is a place fitted up in splendid style, and containing all the requirements of a tradesman following the vocation of builder. This same gentleman also acts as village doctor, and week by week receives visits from those of his flock who may be suffering from an illness. Mr. Whytehead has a thorough knowledge of chemistry, and the inhabitants receive advice and medicine free of cost. One of the rooms at his house resembles, in a small way, that of a country chemist's shop; it contains all the necessary ingredients for the making up of any kind of medicine.

Out-door Rogation Service.

An open-air service was held in the parish of Ardeley, five miles from the railway, on the evening of Rogation Monday, which seems calculated to familiarize country people with the mind and devotions of the church. A cart was placed, as a pulpit, in a grass field in the centre of the parish, around which the parishioners—farmers, laborers, women, and children—gathered in large numbers. The service was that drawn up for this purpose by the Rev. Daniel Eldale, Rector of Moulsoe, Bucks, and his year very appropriately it took the form of a special intercession for rain. Two hymns were sung, the Rogationtide hymn, "Lord, in Thy name Thy servants plead," and the Old Hundredth as a conclusion. Psalm LXV, was read, and as a lesson the last eight verses of the fourth chapter of the Book of Amos. A most suitable litany is included in the service, and after a short address from the vicar on the words, "I have withholden the rain from you," the following benediction was delivered:—The blessing of God Almighty, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, be upon these your fields, and these your homes, and upon yourselves and your children, now and for evermore. A simple out-door service of this kind has proved to be a means of attracting those separated from the church, and it certainly shows to country people that the church has in her heart their labor in the fields, and that she extends her blessings to their manifold toil, not only in the harvest, but also in the springtime of the year.—(London Church Times.)

THINGS OF VALUE. You can tell more about a man's character by trading horses with him than you can by hearing him talk in prayer-meeting. I know MINARD'S LINIMENT will cure diphtheria. French Village. JOHN T. BOUTILLER. I know MINARD'S LINIMENT will cure cough. Cape Island. J. F. CUNNINGHAM. I know MINARD'S LINIMENT is the best remedy on earth. Norway, Me. JOSEPH A. SNOW.

There is something wrong if you feel spiteful when ever you see another woman wearing a better bonnet than you can afford. And what shall I say more? for the time would fail me to tell of all the virtues of Putner's Emulsion. The peculiar inequalities of genius might cause it to be defined as the inability to do what others do and the ability to do what they cannot.

And what shall I say more? for the time would fail me to tell of all the virtues of Putner's Emulsion. The peculiar inequalities of genius might cause it to be defined as the inability to do what others do and the ability to do what they cannot.

And what shall I say more? for the time would fail me to tell of all the virtues of Putner's Emulsion. The peculiar inequalities of genius might cause it to be defined as the inability to do what others do and the ability to do what they cannot.

And what shall I say more? for the time would fail me to tell of all the virtues of Putner's Emulsion. The peculiar inequalities of genius might cause it to be defined as the inability to do what others do and the ability to do what they cannot.

And what shall I say more? for the time would fail me to tell of all the virtues of Putner's Emulsion. The peculiar inequalities of genius might cause it to be defined as the inability to do what others do and the ability to do what they cannot.

And what shall I say more? for the time would fail me to tell of all the virtues of Putner's Emulsion. The peculiar inequalities of genius might cause it to be defined as the inability to do what others do and the ability to do what they cannot.

And what shall I say more? for the time would fail me to tell of all the virtues of Putner's Emulsion. The peculiar inequalities of genius might cause it to be defined as the inability to do what others do and the ability to do what they cannot.

And what shall I say more? for the time would fail me to tell of all the virtues of Putner's Emulsion. The peculiar inequalities of genius might cause it to be defined as the inability to do what others do and the ability to do what they cannot.

And what shall I say more? for the time would fail me to tell of all the virtues of Putner's Emulsion. The peculiar inequalities of genius might cause it to be defined as the inability to do what others do and the ability to do what they cannot.

And what shall I say more? for the time would fail me to tell of all the virtues of Putner's Emulsion. The peculiar inequalities of genius might cause it to be defined as the inability to do what others do and the ability to do what they cannot.

And what shall I say more? for the time would fail me to tell of all the virtues of Putner's Emulsion. The peculiar inequalities of genius might cause it to be defined as the inability to do what others do and the ability to do what they cannot.

And what shall I say more? for the time would fail me to tell of all the virtues of Putner's Emulsion. The peculiar inequalities of genius might cause it to be defined as the inability to do what others do and the ability to do what they cannot.

And what shall I say more? for the time would fail me to tell of all the virtues of Putner's Emulsion. The peculiar inequalities of genius might cause it to be defined as the inability to do what others do and the ability to do what they cannot.

And what shall I say more? for the time would fail me to tell of all the virtues of Putner's Emulsion. The peculiar inequalities of genius might cause it to be defined as the inability to do what others do and the ability to do what they cannot.

C. B. Mark is stamped on every C. B. Chocolate. Image of a chocolate wrapper.

The Pneumatic Sulkey. Image of a Sulkey. Text: Perfect in every respect. Every patron of the race track should have one to be up with the times. MADE BY CROTHERS, HENDERSON & WILSON, (Builders of first-class Carriages, Light Road Waggon, Top Buggies, Surreys.) No. 42 and 44 Waterloo, St. John, N. B.

STOP At the LADIES' HAIR STORE, 113 Charlotte St. Where you can get an endless variety of TOILET REQUISITES. A full line of Bands, Bangs and Ornaments for the Hair. All the latest styles in Hair Pins, also the Oriental Waving Iron. I make a SPECIALTY of Hair Dressing for Balls and Parties. Best value at lowest prices. MISS KATE HENNESSY, Opposite Hotel Dufferin.

Great Cash Bargains. Pants from $3.00 up. Overcoats from $13.00 up. Reefers from 8.00 up. Gent's Suits from 14.00 up. MADE TO ORDER AT SHORT NOTICE. PANTS MADE WHILE YOU WAIT. W. H. McINNIS, Tailor, 38 Mill Street.

YOU WANT A RANGE. I HAVE THE BEST VARIETY. ROYAL ART, MODEL ART, HAPPY THOUGHT, NEW MODEL, PRIZE and others. A full line of low-priced Stoves. Stoves taken down and stored. Jobbing attended to. J. H. SELFRIDGE, 101 Charlotte St. (Opposite Hotel Dufferin.)

Buy Comfortable Corsets. The only comfortable corset is The Improved All-Featherbone Corset. WHY? Because it has no side steels to break, rust or hurt. Try a pair for a week and see. D. E. COLES. I. O. SHARP. COLES & SHARP, Successors to COLES, PARSONS & SHARP. Model Grand Ranges, 90 CHARLOTTE STREET. ASK FOR THE NEW BRAND. "Clover Leaf" Bologna. JOHN HOPKINS.

WE KNOW THAT OUR Remedy is the best for Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Constipation. Hundreds agree with us. BUY GRODER'S SYRUP (PLEASANT TO TAKE.) Take it faithfully until cured, and then write us a statement of your case. We offer a FREE TEN DAY'S TRIP to the WORLD'S FAIR to the individual who shall, before the first day of August, 1893, show the greatest improvement, or most remarkable cure from the use of this remedy. These cures must be bona-fide, sworn to before a Justice of the Peace, and each testimonial accompanied by the photograph of the individual sending it, and the signature of the dealer who the remedy was purchased. A Committee of three well-known Drug-gists will act as Judges at the close of the Competition. Send Testimonials to THE GRODER DYSPEPSIA CURE CO., LTD. ST. JOHN, N. B. HARNESS. A nice assortment of Light Driving in stock from $10.00 upwards, and all kinds made to order at lowest prices at WM. ROBB'S, 104 Tinton Street. TELEPHONE 133

Persons Whom represents May concern.

Commissioned by the Honorable Honorable Thos. C. B. K. C. M. as Governor of the Province of the Great Seal and by virtue of authorities vested in him under the 49th Victoria, Chapter 4, in the Town of Bathurst, District No. 10, in the Parish of County of Gloucester, or constituent of the schools or any of them or either of them and also of complaint touching the said school or schools is said to be in writing and presented to me in writing on the 26th day of May, instant, and I am so empowered, presented to me in writing and notified of which persons are notice and govern themselves on this Ninth day of May, A. D. 1893. JNO. JAS. FRASER, Judge of the Supreme Court FOUND AT MOUNT SINAI. Discovery and Translation of the Syrian Text of the Four Gospels. The two English ladies, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Gibson, who have distinguished themselves by the discovery of a Syrian text of the four Gospels are both Oriental scholars, speaking Arabian and modern Greek fluently. They were both deeply interested in the discovery of the fragment of the Gospel of St. Peter, found in an Egyptian tomb, and studied the art of photographing handwritings with Rendell Harris of Cambridge. The convent at Mount Sinai has been searched and researched for such treasures. Prof. Harris himself was there three years ago, but it has been left to Mrs. Lewis to find the precious manuscript, which, when she first saw it, was in a "dreadful condition." But by the exertion of that most excellent womanly gift of patience, she has managed to separate the leaves and to photograph the whole, which consists of three or four hundred pages. The lost text, it must be remembered, is covered by more modern writing, but after a month's work the Syrian text has been brought out. Mount Sinai has never before seen three Syrian scholars at work at the same time within its walls, and what is more unusual still from a monastic point of view, working under the presidency of a woman.

The World's Daily Bread. To me the supply of the world's daily bread is a standing proof—not only of a self-existent and ever active deity, but of a Divine Fatherhood—ever thinking, ever acting, ever providing for the wants of all His children. Let any man who thinks otherwise account, if he can, for the lavish bounty with which the wants of the world are met. It is easy, I know, to say that it is the result of man's co-operation with nature. But that, to my mind, does not explain the mystery. When I say that nature does this—nature "bringeth forth grass for the cattle and green herb for the service of man"—I not only personally nature, but deity. I know nothing of nature apart from God. There must be the recognition of a thinking mind and a loving heart to satisfy my reason in its demand for an explanation of the constant supply of the necessities of life. Given nature, and the mystery of the bounty becomes an understandable fact. Given the Divine Father, and what more natural than that He should not only care for, but provide for His children? Given that we and all the creatures His hands have made are His offspring, and what more natural than that we should cry, "Give us day by day our daily bread?" I see nothing, moreover, against believing that "the lions, roaring after their prey, do seek their meat from God," that He feedeth the young ravens that cry unto Him for food, and that in His care for higher creatures He also thinketh of and catereth for the sparrow that twittereth upon the housetop. Every autumn is God's answer to the human cry for bread and to the animal cry for food. He knoweth our need; He remembereth our dependence upon Him.—Rev. A. E. Butler.

An Early Christian Hymn. Shepherd of sheep that own Their Master on the throne, Stir up Thy oil-dry weak, W 1 gull less lips to speak, In hymn and song, Thy praise, Guide of their infant ways. O, King of saints, O Lord, Mighty all-conquering Word; Son of the blishest God; Whistling His wanders' rod, Our stay when cares annoy, Give us Thy joy. Of all our mortal race, Saviour, of boundless grace, O Jesus, hear!

Fisher of men, the blest, Out of the world's unrest, Out of the troubled sea, Taking us, Lord, to Thee, With thine all-wise rod, Drawing Thy nets to shore, Lead us, O Shepherd true; Thy mystic shew, we sure! O path where Christ hath trod, O way that leads to God, O Word, abiding eye, O endless Light on high, O glorious Life of all, That on their Master call, Christ Jesus, hear.