LORD DERBY APPEALS TO EMPLOYERS TO MAKE IT EASY FOR MEN TO ENLIST

Personal Appeal Sent Out to Every Eligible Man Asking Him to Consider if Reason He Has Hitherto Held for Not Enlisting Stands in Present Crisis.

London, Oct. 21.—The enlistment of recruits under the plan of the Earl of Derby, director of recruiting, cannot begin until early next week, it is officially announced, "as a royal warrant is necessary before the men could be passed to the reserve and classified in their proper groups."

Meanwhile, the Earl of Derby, with the concurrence of Premier Asquith and Earl Kitchener, the minister of war, has sent a letter to every man eligible for military service who is not engaged in munition work, in which he says:

Punish Civilians If Allies Drop Bombs On Belgian Towns

Germans threaten to make Belgian people suffer for air raids by Anglo-French aviators.

Amsterdam, Oct. 21, via London.—German authorities in Belgium have announced, says the Echo De Belge, that on the occasion of any Anglo-French aeroplane raids on Belgian cities under German occupation the inhabitants of the city will be held responsible. If bombs fall on the barracks the soldiers, according to the announcement, will be billeted in civilian homes, and a fine corresponding to the damage will be imposed upon the city.

British Nurse Executed Although She Had Cared For Wounded Germans

The German authorities of anything so serious. "I further called attention to the failure to comply with Mr. Conrad's promise to inform the location of sentence. I urged that, inasmuch as the offence charged against Miss Cavell was long since accomplished, and as she had been for some weeks in a prison, delay in carrying out the sentence could entail no danger to the German cause. I even went so far as to point out the fearful effect of a summary execution of this sort upon public opinion both here and abroad, and although I had no authority for doing so, called attention to the possibility that it might bring about reprisals."

before the day of the trial, and by public acknowledgment in court, that she was guilty of the charges." The report of Mr. Deleval says that Miss Cavell, in her oral statement before the court disclosed almost all the facts of the prosecution. She spoke without trembling, and showed a clear mind, and often added some greater incident to her previous depositions.

Attorney Kirschen, Mr. Deleval reported, stated that Miss Cavell was being prosecuted for helping soldiers across the frontier and that lawyers defending prisoners before a German military court were not allowed to see their clients before trial and were not shown any document of the prosecution.

"The attitude of the German authorities is, if possible, rendered worse by the discretable efforts successfully made by officials of the German civil administration at Brussels to conceal the fact that the sentence had been passed and would be carried out immediately."

THE ALLIES' STIRRING ADVANCES IN FRANCE IN THEIR GREAT DRIVE AGAINST THE GERMANS

This diagram, prepared especially for this newspaper, the New York Herald and the London Spiders, illustrates the recent allied advance in France, which took place in the two districts known as Arras and Champagne. The former was carried out by a combined British and French attack from near Arras to Hooge. The attack was pushed with great vigor to the east of Arras and Verdun. Here the enemy's trenches, on a front of over five miles, were attacked and penetrated to a distance of 4,000 yards. At the same time the villages of Hullois and Loos and the position known as Hill 70 were also taken by storm. The French farther to the south also attacked with great brilliancy and captured the whole of the village of Souchez, and the Chateau of Caragny.

Darnley, to raise the German cruiser Emden, now on a reef at Keeling Island, whither she was driven during the sea fight against Sydney last November. Mr. Darnley, who is an old Canadian Pacific Railway man, having gained his diving experience with that company in Nova Scotia, has inspected the scene of operations and declares he can float the Emden safely.

PARIS, OCT. 21.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight says:

"There was no important action along the front. The Belgian official communication reads: 'Except for a violent bombardment of our trenches to the north of Steenstraete, the day was calm.' London, Oct. 21.—A report from Field Marshal Sir John French issued tonight says: 'An enemy attack yesterday afternoon was made against our front from the quarries to Hullois. After a heavy bombardment of our trenches, infantry attempted to attack across the open ground, but was completely stopped by our combined fire, artillery, machine gun and rifle. This was followed by a number of bombing attacks in the neighborhood of the Hulloisern redoubt and Pass No. 8. All these attacks were also repulsed. The enemy's losses were very severe.'

UNION LABOR TROUBLES IN ENGLAND EXAGGERATED

Magnified by Unpatriotic Persons, Delegate of British Trade Union Says.

LABOR OPPOSED TO COMPULSORY SERVICE

Opposition based on economic reasons — Conscription would add only 300,000 without crippling industries.

New York, Oct. 21.—Labor troubles in England have been much exaggerated by the press and by others whose motives are economic and not patriotic, according to Ernest Bevin and Charles G. Ammon, fraternal delegates of the British Trades Union Conference, who arrived here today on the steamship Odrna, to attend the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, to be held in San Francisco, beginning November 8.

"Laboring men of England affiliated with the various unions are firmly opposed to conscription," said Mr. Bevin. "We are now enlisting as fast as exemptions from military service will permit, and insinuations that we are not loyal to the government are resented. Under the law employees of railroads, docks, telegraph, transport and postal services are exempt from military service, as well as all employees of munitions works. The number of men thus employed in England can be safely placed at about 1,000,000. If conscription comes to pass the government would not be able to add to the army more than 300,000 men without crippling industrial conditions. Under the present volunteer system we are adding men to the forces for field duty faster than they can be equipped."

"Our fight against conscription is an economic one, having in view possible conditions that will exist after the war is over. What we have now represents more than one hundred years of concerted action and work, and to ask us to give up these conditions and accept conscription is asking more than is required of landlords and manufacturers." Mr. Bevin also said that labor unions were not opposed to women taking positions previously held by men in industrial pursuits. "All that we ask is that women be not introduced into factories and railway work at less pay than is accorded to men. In most of the factories where women are now employed they are being trained under the direction of our members, the only provision being that they go in at a pay that is the minimum accorded to men, under the same conditions. On the question of suffrage, I believe that the feeling in England is the same as exists among trades unions in the United States, and I am free to say that the woman vote is sure to come."

The delegates are on a fraternal mission. They were elected at the General Labor Union Conference held at Bristol, and their credentials indicate that they represent approximately 3,000,000 tradesmen and laborers. They said that they were under instructions not to discuss politics, either privately or while sitting in the convention.
