A Test Vote—The Government Triumph by Sixteen Majority—How New Brunswick Membres Voted.

OTTAWA, March 8.

After the recess yesterday an exciting debate occured on Blake's motion for a summary settlement of the election cases, and Sir John's amendment referring them to a Committee.

Revival Meetings.

For the past three weeks, revival meetings heve been held nightly in the Mission House, Lower Cove, by the Rev. Wm. Maggs, at which a large amount of good has been accomplished. Each night the church has been well filled. Last evening the attendance was musually large, and many went up to the penitent bench. It is probable the meetings will be accomplished during the coming week.

The Sprint of a Good Man Awakes a Backslider who Visits His Grave. Rev. C. Powell, in writing to The Christian Visitor concerning the lamented kenzie, making a telling speech on the Rev. T. Ansley, and the desirability of fore them. If this were ignored, and constitutional questions decided by a vote, anarchy would result. While a representative he would give an independent vote. After a fair investigation of the questions, and when both sides were heard ou this case before the proper tribunal, and the reports were made, the House could fairly decide. Mr. Palmer's unexpectation of the questions, and when both sides were heard ou this case before the proper tribunal, and the reports were made, the House could fairly decide. Mr. Palmer's he repaired to the grave, knelt on it, and endeavored to pray, and thought the House could fairly decide. Mr. Palmer's unanswerable legal points made a strong impression. The whole speech was received with much applause.

After speeches from Sir Francis Hincks, Howe, Cauchon and Blake, the debate was closed by Sir Sir John A. Macdonald in a most brilliant speech.

The vote was taken at midnight Mackenzie's on amendment—yeas, 79, nays 95; Government majority 16. Cauchon voted with the Opposition. Of the New Brunswick members, Domville, McAdam, Mofular and the struck him he with the Opposition. Of the New Brunswick members, Domville, McAdam, Moffat, Cutler, Palmer, Costigan, and Burpee voted with the Government, and Anglin, Ferris and Pickard against, the rest being absent.
