The Danbury News Man's Sensations in a New House.

The first Sunday in the new house is a notable day. There is an entire absence of old landmarks, and a strange, wierd newness on everything, and you can't find your shaving soap. You start for a scuttle of coal, but you don't see the scuttle. It is in the bottom of a barrel in the garret. You take the dripping pan. When you change your shirt you look for it first. It is in one of the bureau drawers which are piled one upon another, in the parlor, and you find you have got to lift a half ton of carpets and feather beds before you can get down to the drawers. After you have lifted them down and searched them through, it is remembered by your wife that the desired garment is in one of the barrels—the one in the shed she thinks, although it may be the one in the garret, and yet it would be just like the stupid carman to have carried that barrel down cellar. You think so too. You attack one of those brrrels, and are surprised at the result. A bed-quilt comes out first, then a pie-tin, next a piece of cold ham neatly done up in your vest and packed away in the missing scuttle. Below is an assortment of ironware and a length of stovepipe, a half loaf of bread, a couple of towels and a rolling pin. You begin to expect you will eventually come upon a coal mine, and perhaps some dead friends. Then you go down in that barrel again, and come up with a pleasing assortment of stockings and half emptied medicine bottles. The way you come up this time leads you to consider the barrel itself. It has caught in the back of your vest and made the cloth let go; it took off one-half of one sleeve and created a sensation on the back of your hand as if a bonfire had raged there. It is quite evident the cooper who built that barrel was called away before he commenced to clinch the nails. You involuntarily grasp the rolling pin and look around as if you half expected to see him. Then you call the girl to repack the barrel, and start up stairs to look after something that is easier to find, but finally change your mind, and pass the balance of the day in digging carpet tacks and worthless wood from the palms of your feet, and concocting lies about the wealth of your uncle; and the moon looks through the window at night, and touches up with a glow of burnished silver, several lengths of stove-pipe, a half dozen odd chairs, a sheet of dingy zinc, and a barrel with bed-quilts foaming over the top.

Nursery Rhymes--No. 24.

A STORY OF DOOM! (almost.)

CANTO I.

The coffin-maker bent low at his work,
And, coughing, cast his eyes upon his bench,
A spasm came, which gave his frame a jerk,
And shook his head about with fearful wrench;
The blood skipped from his ears and sought the ground:
The Undertaker deemed his lungs unsound.

CANTO II.

It was a quiet and dismal afternoon,
The ice had melted in the Skating Rink,
And lovers sighed to walk beneath the moon,
And topers paused at Bars to get a drink:
The coffin-maker hummed an air, then stood,
And drove a nail deep in the coffin-wood.

CANTO III.

Another spasm came, then down he fell,
And caught the pitch-pine floor, quite ill at ease
And listened to the knell of deep-mouthed bell,
His gold hair fluttering madly in the breeze:
But Ham's Invigorator cured the pain,
And Ayer's Vigor brought in the hair again.

CANTO IV.

These two great Cures he at the Chemist's bought,
The Pharmaceutist's, King street, twenty-four,
Where Drugs and Medicines are often sought
By iron-mongers when life is nearly o'er:
And coffin makers, when they're coughin' loud,
Take Tracheal Drops, and thus postpone the shroud.

JEAN INGELOW.

HAM'S INVIGORATOR, AYER'S HAIR VIGOR, TRACHEAL DROPS, and other excellent and popular household remedies. For sale in any quantity at the Pharmaceutist's.

READ THIS.

PORTLAND, March 14th, 1860.

To MRS. WATERBURY,—Dear Madam,—I desire to add my testimony to your already Celebrated Dinner Pills. During my whole life time, until about six years ago, I was severely afflicted with Indigestion, Biliousness and all their attendant evils. I had tried many medicines, and got but temporary relief. At the time above mentioned, I was advised to try your Pills: I did so for three months, according to directions: since that time I have had no occasion to take any medicine, and have enjoyed good
