THE WEEK BEFORE CHRISTMAS

It was the week before Christmas. The centre of thought is now not far away but is centred in each home. It glows about father and mother and brother and sister and shines with brighter radiance, for it is the self-centred thought of love. The very air is surcharged with kindness to others. All the thoughts of this week will be about what sister will be most pleased with and how happy mother will be when she sees that nice-but that's telling and half the pleasure comes from the concealment. Half the good of giving comes from keeping the left hand from knowing what the right hand is doing. Nobody doubts the pleasure of Christmas morning, but the pleasure of the week before is ust as intense and is longer drawn out. The morning of Christmas day is rich in its reverence and smiles; but the week before Christmas is educational to the soul and heart. The begins to sprout at Thanksgiving and it swells until the week before Christams, when it is ready to burst out into full bloom from the accumulated sap of human kindness by which it has been fed. The week before Christmas has never had its dues. The brightest week before Christmas that ever happened was some twenty or fifty years ago — it is tedious to count dates. You remember all about it. You were a little thing, but you never in after life were quite so important to yourself. There were whisperings that ceased when you entered the room, and when you woke up about midnight you found the lamp still burning and your mother still up and work ing on something that she put under the chair when you turned over in bed. The old turkey gobbler in the pen was gobbling all day long to his ormer associates on the outside and eating corn with a gluttony which was to bring its own recompense. Frederick Louis Shaffner, 78 years of age, dropped dead in his home here, Wednesday, night, December 9, about 9.30, in the presence of his wife, as he was in the act of laying on the table some books which he had just brought into the house on his return from the Baptist Church, where he had attended prayer meeting and practice of the choir of which he was leader. Heart failure was the cause of death. Mr. Shaffner had overexerted himself in his walk home in the face of a strong wind.

He was born at Williamston, five miles from Middleton, the son of Handley Shaffner, and as a child removed with his parents to Canning, at which place he resided white attending Acadia College. Graduating from that institution he went to the United States, where he lived for a number of years, and then removed to Yarmouth, where he remained for a few years. He came to Middleton twenty-five years ago, and ran the American House for more than fifteen years, retiring from that business a few years ago, and then business a few years ago, and then removed to Dartmouth, where he re-

CANADA'S FRUIT INDUSTRY

Canada's fruit nidustry is worth fifty-seven million dollars in annual production. This year on the whole the yield has been generally satisfac-tory. Small fruits have done well in every province except in British Col-umbia, where the unusually low tem-perature had a bad effect on strawberries and raspberries. Prices have also been helpful to the grower, strawberries running from 8 to 14 strawberries running from 8 to 14 cents per quart compared with 4 and 8 cents in 1924. Apples, however, owing to their exportability and their possibility of storage are our main crop and of them in the total there has been a yield rather above the average, thanks to the abundance in Ontario, where an increse of half a million barrels for the year is reported. In Nova Scotia unfortunately there appears to have been a decrease of half the quantity. Such in brief is the testimony given by The Domin. is the testimony given by The Dominion Fruit Commissioner, Mr. G. E. McIntosh before the Pomological Society of Quebec.

Our idea of a good citizen, and we are glad there are many in this com-munity, is one always ready to give, according to his means, to common-ity enterprises. He takes stock in them all, and doesn't lose faith if an them all, and doesn't lose faith if an occasional venture proves bad. He is not afraid to boy real estate and to pay what it is worth. He talks up his town at home and abroad, thinks it is the healthiest place on earth, believing it to be destined to be the biggest city in its section and wants to be buried here when he dies. And he's worth a whole regiment of the luke-warm kind.

"MAKE IMMIGRATION HUMAN" SAYS C. P. R. PRESIDENT: SIR THOMAS WHITE PAYS HIM HIGH

TRIBUTE

A ddressing the Associated Boards of Trade banquet at Winnipeg recently, E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, said that one of the most significant facts of the conference was the desire of men from all parts of Canada to discuss the country's problems from an economic and national point of view, free from the bewildering influence of political partisanship. "This," Mr. Beatty said, "leads me to the inevitable conclusion that the question of Confederation on the principles of national unity which guided the fathers in establishing it cannot be solved by political manipolitical partisanship in the fathers in establishing it cannot be solved by political manipolitical partisanship in the fathers in establishing it cannot be solved by political manipolitical partisanship in the fathers in establishing it cannot be solved by political manipolitical partisanship. tal attitude which comes from understanding and is the result of honest education.

In order to achieve national prosperity, Mr. Beatty advocated an extensive immigration policy to supply the man power necessary for the "largest undeveloped country in the world." "If I had any suggestion to make in respect to this question," continued the president, "I would suggest that we take it out of the field of statistics and place it in the field of human relations. We are apt to forget that the people who come to our shores are not so many hundreds or thousands of British or Continentals with or without settlers' effects. They are human beings, members of families who have torn themselves up from old homes, homes in some cases centuries old, to come and live in Canada, to be neighbours, if we are willing to be neighbourly, and to become good citizens if we only hold out a welcoming hand.

"We realize how great the wrench must be when we learn that some bring with them a handful of earth so that when the time comes for them to die in Canada it may be scattered over their coffins. I wonder how many Canadians, who have made the trek to the United States, have ever thought to carry with them a handful of Canadian soil. No immigration scheme for Canada can ever achieve success uncless due allowance is made for such human factors."

On the same occasion Sir Thomas White, former Federal Minister of Finance, paid a high tribute to Mr. Beatty. Sir Thomas said that he had always looked upon Mr. Beatty as a representative Canadian who typified the qualities which are to be found in true Canadians. Mr. Beatty had carved his own niche in Canadian affairs and had made his own way in the world as in the manner of Canadians. As president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Mr. Beatty occupied one of the highest positions in the Dominion and was absolutely unspoiled by his enormous a characteristic Canadian.

Referring to the improvement of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the former Finance Minister pointed out that the history of the Domin

Canadian Pacific Railway had stood as the type of exemplary Canadian enterprise and courage in the face of apparently insurmountable obstacles. Sir Thomas also commented favorably on the good work the Canadian Pacific Railway had done during the Great War, and later on in going ahead with work, at the request of the Government, in order to give employment to soldiers who were returning after the war.
